REDS LAUNCH DRIVE, REPORT

Stimson Attacks Wheeler; Silent on AEF

RAPS SENATOR'S NO-WAR PLEA AS 'NEAR TREASON'

Montanan Defends Postcard Drive.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on page 4.)

Washington, D. C., July 24.—A violent attack on the patriotism of Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson was the only response today to an inquiry by Wheeler addressed to Stimson as to whether American troops have been landed in Egypt.

Senator Wheeler.

Senator Wheeler, it was learned, sent a letter to Secretary Stimson yesterday afternoon, by special messenger, asking him to confirm or deny reports that between 12,000 and 20,000 United States marines and regular army troops have been landed in Egypt.

Wheeler had received no reply today when, at his press conference, Stimson uttered a tirade against the senator, accusing him of near treasonable activities. Stimson did not mention the inquiry from Senator Wheeler.

Attack Based on Postcards.

The war secretary's attack was based ostensibly on postcards sent out under the senator's congressional franking privilege.

The cards, which Wheeler said went to approximately a million persons, urged on one side that the recipients write to President Roosevelt to express opposition to entry into the European war and bore the legend "not printed at government expense." The other side contained excerpts from speeches printed in the Congressional Record by President Roosevelt, former President Herbert Hoover, Senator Wheeler, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.].

[Further description of the postcards and the quoted speech excerpts will be found on page 4.]

Stimson Displays Two Cards.

At his press conference Stimson exhibited two of these cards which had been received by men in the army and forwarded by them to the war department. One was sent to Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, by Staff Sergeant William L. White, Company C, 8th infantry, Fort Benning, Ga., and the other was sent to the war department by Lieut. Alfred P. Herne, post adjutant, Fort McIntosh, Laredo, Tex. Both objected to the distribution of the cards by Senator Wheeler.

Secretary Stimson sought to make it appear that Senator Wheeler intentionally mailed the cards to army personnel for the purpose of inciting opposition to the administration's request for legislation extending the service of draftees, National Guardsmen, and reservists indefinitely.

Argues Effect on Discipline.

"The President, the chief of staff, and other leaders of the army have said that it is necessary to keep this force in existence and in training because the peril not only still exists but is getting very much more grave," Stimson said.

"Just at this moment a circular [the Wheeler postcard] is sent out which will necessarily have the effect of impairing that discipline and impairing that training and thus impairing our defense against the danger which now confronts this country.

"Without expressing legal opinions, I will simply say that I think that comes very near the line of subversive activities against the United States, if not treason."

Senator Wheeler, replying to Stimson, pointed out that the cards said nothing whatever about the draft service extension proposal. They were mailed out, he said, during the month of June, before Gen. Marshall made the first public proposal that the service of the citizen soldiers be extended indefinitely in a report to Secretary Stimson on July 3.

Wheeler said he was not aware

Britain Expects 'to Eat Better Than in Peace'

102,000 Tons of Meat

WELLINGTON, N. Z., July 24.—This British dominion will have stored 102,000 tons of meat by the end of the season and will have storage capacity to keep it for at least 18 months, it was announced today.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 24.—Minister of Agriculture R. S. Hudson told the house of commons today that Britain's prospects on the food front were much brighter than he had dared hope a year ago would be the case.

If favorable weather prevails until Sept. 1, he added, Britain's farmers will produce more food than in any previous year of this century.

In spite of the reduction in imports, Hudson went on, "it should be possible to assure the people of this country that in the third year of the war the quantity of food, expressed in terms of food value, will not only be greater than it was in the second year but at least as great as it was in peace time, possibly even greater."

People Drink More Milk.

He disclosed Britain is drinking 880,000,000 gallons of milk a year now as compared with 760,000,000 in the last prewar year. Possession has been taken of 150,000 acres of uncultivated land. Fens [low, flat areas] are being tackled and are growing "magnificent crops."

"I have asked the committees to plow up 2,000,000 more acres this year," Hudson added, "and as the war goes on I shall gradually take the plow right around England."

Waste food from the towns has provided excellent foodstuffs for pigs and poultry, he said. He attributed the increased output partly to revolutionary methods introduced in farming in the last year.

Food Stocks Increase.

Debate on distribution problems brought further optimistic reports on the food situation. Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George, parliamentary secretary for the food ministry, said the ministry had succeeded in the performance of its first duty: "To secure essential food supplies" for the country. He declared that despite ship sinkings and other difficulties Britain's food stocks are better than they were a year ago. In its second duty—"to see that staple foods are available at prices within the people's reach"—the government also has succeeded, he asserted, and by its food subsidy of almost $400,000,000 a year has held down living costs.

Potato Supply Bigger.

"From July 1 to July 17, when things were not going so well," he went on, "nearly 250,000,000 eggs were distributed in this country, of which 70,000,000 went thru packing stations.

Of potatoes he said: "On June 8, 1941, we had 250,000 tons in stocks, compared with 38,000 tons last year."

ARGENTINE DEPUTIES READY FOR DUEL OVER U. S. 'AXIS' BLACKLIST

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 24 (AP).—Two deputies in the Argentine congress named seconds tonight for a pistol duel growing out of the United States' blacklist of firms deemed to be trading with the axis. Thomas L. Hughes, United States commercial attaché, declared the challenge was based on a "terrible mistake."

Daniel Videla Dorna, Conservative, challenged Emir Mercader, Radical, after Mercader repeatedly interrupted his attack on the blacklist in the house last night.

Videla Dorna had declared the United States had been demanding of Argentine business houses a "declaration of political faith in favor of democracy."

Hughes said the questionnaire Videla Dorna referred to had been used by the state department 20 years ago and had no connection with the blacklist. He said requests had been made for statements of political sentiments, but that no demand had been made for a declaration of political faith.

Britain Refuses to Lift Ban on Red Newspaper

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 24.—Minister of Home Security Herbert Morrison refused in the house of commons today to rescind action under which the Daily Worker, communist newspaper, was suppressed. In reply to pleas from several members, he said "the government would not feel justified in relaxing the safeguard against a newspaper which systematically fomented opposition to the war effort."

Alcohol May Prove Junior Is No Dummy

Two Northwestern university psychologists have struck out into uncharted ways to demonstrate a method by which proud parents can tell before Junior is 12 weeks old whether he is smart as a whip or just a touch dull for his age.

One device employed by the psychologists requires alcohol, a commodity found in many homes. Put some in an eyedropper, lay Junior on his back, and let a drop fall on his tummy. The alcohol will create a cold spot as it condenses, and, according to Dr. A. R. Gilliland, Junior will do one of the following things:

1. Suck in his stomach to try to get away from that nasty old clammy feeling. That means he's smart, says Dr. Gilliland.

2. Pull up his legs, kick, and wriggle. That means he's a little less sharp.

Thirty Babies Tested.

Dr. Gilliland and his associate, Dr. John J. B. Morgan, tried their tests on 30 babies at the Cradle, Evanston's famous adoption home. The professors admitted it was hard going.

As Dr. Gilliland said, "You can't ask them questions. So we have to use motor performances as an index. We try to put our tests in terms of something they can learn to do."

Altho the results are still highly experimental, Dr. Gilliland said that he and Dr. Morgan have obtained some tentative findings on expected performance. For instance, by four weeks an infant should be able to focus his eyes on a steel tape held before him and to follow its movement horizontally. At 8 weeks he should be able to follow its movements perpendicularly. At 12 weeks he should follow it if it is swung in a circle.

Try This on Junior.

Another test suggested for the parent, if he happens to be opening a package of cigarets, is to smooth out the cellophane and drop it over Junior's face. If Junior hasn't caught onto things yet, he'll probably just let it pass, with maybe a dirty look at the old man. If he's getting hep, however, he'll try to brush it off with his hands or by wagging his head.

Drs. Gilliland and Morgan hope to work out standards eventually to determine which infants are bright and which, if any, might grow up to be no credit to the family.

JAPAN WARNED BY U. S. TO HALT FAR EAST DRIVE

Move in Indo-China Branded Threat.

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—Branding Japan's move in French Indo-China a threat to American security and a step toward further conquest, the United States hinted at strong counter measures today and warned Tokio against a drive on Singapore, the Netherlands East Indies, and the Philippines.

Sumner Welles.

From President Roosevelt himself came a statement on why the United States had not heretofore shut off all oil shipments to Japan—all in the past tense.

He told a civilian defense group that this policy was designed to make it unnecessary for Japan to go to the East Indies for oil and, the President said, "it has worked for two years," thus keeping war out of the Pacific.

Full Oil Embargo Hinted.

But from his past tense discussion of American methods in seeking to keep peace in the South Pacific, some observers drew the inference that the President now might be ready to impose a full embargo on oil shipments to Japan and take other strong economic measures.

His remarks followed an attack on Japan by Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, which also appeared to mark the end of American conciliation efforts and the adoption of a still firmer stand in the Pacific.

Welles declared Japanese occupation of military and naval bases in French Indo-China was primarily in preparation for "more obvious movements of conquest in adjacent areas."

[Foreign advices to Shanghai from Saigon said it was reported there that the Japanese would land from 40,000 to 50,000 troops in Indo-China about July 30.]

U. S. Security "Threatened."

The Japanese move, he said, threatened sources of American defense materials, endangered the safety of other areas of the Pacific, including the Philippines, and bears "directly upon the vital problem of our national security."

Welles disclosed that he had used similar language in denouncing Japan to the Japanese ambassador, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, in a conference yesterday.

The ambassador had come out of the conference smiling, asserting they had approached the Indo-China problem largely from the Japanese side and expressing the hope that relations with the United States would get "better and better."

This hope seemed ill-founded as Welles read his strongly worded pronouncement to a large assembly of reporters, including four Japanese, a

WASHINGTON ORDERS LISTS OF NAMES OF DRAFTEES' MOTHERS

Philadelphia, Pa., July 24 [Special].—Each of the 85 local draft boards in Philadelphia was requested today to compile a list of 20 mothers of draft registrants for the use of national selective service headquarters in Washington.

The order was not explained by local draft officials. It specified that the mothers be "loyal American citizens," and that five in each group of 20 be mothers of men already inducted into the army.

State officials said the order for the lists came from Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national deputy director of selective service. Of several possible explanations for the order, the most common was that the information was being compiled at the request of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, national director of civilian defense. Another was that officials planned to test sentiment among mothers on the proposed extension of the draftees' term of service.

German Lines in Murmansk Area 'Pierced'

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

BERNE, Switzerland, July 25 (Friday).—Russian troops were reported last night to have launched a heavy offensive "in the Murmansk area," breaking thru the German lines and driving back some units, while others were encircled and "eliminated" in fierce fighting.

According to a report from Stockholm, Sweden, the Finns are rushing reënforcements in an effort to stem the Red advance.

Murmansk is Russia's ice free port on the Arctic ocean and is east of the Petsamo region of northern Finland.

[German and Russian reports yesterday for the first time were in comparative agreement on the situation on the Leningrad, Moscow, and Kiev fronts. The Germans said they were hampered by mud and admitted meeting a stiff Russian defense, but claimed "steady progress" of their drive. The Russians declared the second German major offensive was a failure. They claimed to have wiped out a Nazi division at Smolensk. Air raids on Moscow continued. Stories and map on page 2.]

England to Let U.S. Take Lead on Indo-China

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 24.—Unless the United States takes the lead, Japan's occupation of bases in French Indo-China's southern areas is not expected by the British to result in open hostilities, well informed sources declared today.

Comment in morning newspapers reflected this view, altho such headlines as "U. S. A. Warns Japs" were carried over reports of the denunciation of Japan by the American undersecretary of state, Sumner Welles.

The "Inside Information" column of The Daily Sketch, which has frequently spilled the beans, declared: "Vichy's Indo-China sellout will not lead to an immediate war in the far east." The British government, it added, "has decided it cannot in the present circumstances actively intervene in the 'arrangement.'"

Sees No "Spectacular" Action.

In the News-Chronicle, which editorially flayed a British military spokesman for stating that the Japanese movements in Indo-China were not regarded as a "military threat to Singapore," Vernon Bartlett, Independent member of parliament, stressed that counteraction to the Japanese move "probably will not be very spectacular."

The Anglo-American measures, he suggested, "likely will be confined to unostentatious but effective economic pressure designed to remind the Japanese that only countries or groups of countries which are almost self-supporting can afford the risk of modern war."

The Daily Herald diplomatic correspondent surmised that "probably one may assume that nothing can be done, altho everything can be prepared, until the situation is completely clear."

U. S. May "Impose Sanctions."

The Daily Mail diplomatic correspondent stated that "the United States is prepared to impose severe financial and economic sanctions on Japan at any moment" and assured his readers that "in this blockade policy they will have the complete support of the British government."

BRITAIN TO TEACH ITS CHILDREN MORE ABOUT U. S.

LONDON, July 24.—The first intimation that British authorities have taken up the question of teaching American history in schools was contained in a pamphlet issued today by the board of education. The pamphlet will be sent to about 30,000 schools in England and Wales. It is the first of a series designed to help Britons with initial stages of instruction. Another for more advanced work will be issued soon.

The pamphlet said Hollywood, "hot music," and slang are not the most important features of American life and that children would appreciate the great American leaders and generous idealism that actuates America.

FINNS CAPTURE SOVIET FORT IN A NIGHT BATTLE

Tribune Man's Story From the Front.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE FINNISH FORCES ADVANCING TOWARD KEMI, Russia, July 22 [By Courier to Helsingfors, Finland] [Delayed].—Finnish and German forces operating from Finland are driving into soviet Russia in several sectors—in the north, toward Murmansk, the Arctic port; in the south, around both sides of Lake Ladoga toward Leningrad.

I have been privileged to accompany the Finnish forces in a third main sector, the central eastern front. This offensive is aimed into eastern Karelia toward Kemi, a key point on the White sea and the Leningrad-Murmansk railroad. So far this drive has carried more than 80 miles and the goal is about 120 miles ahead.

An obstacle to the advance was overcome last night in the battle of Aajualahti, at the mouth of the Pisto river where it flows into the narrow western end of Upper Lake Kuitti. The battle lasted only one night, but it was declared to have cost the Russians 1,000 troops and much equipment.

After the Battle; a Swim.

After the battle the Finns went swimming while they waited for their field kitchens to bring hot pea soup. The kitchens are carried on trucks which have the right of way on the roads—even the commander's car drives off the road to let them pass.

Burying the Russians was postponed until after breakfast.

Inspection of the battleground at Aajualahti disclosed that the Russians had dug trenches and mounted guns in an effort to halt the Finnish advance, but had not completed their defense preparations when they came under the fire of Finnish patrols.

The soviet garrison had spent more time building living quarters than defense works. The barracks were faced with earth and covered with three rows of 18 inch logs, which in turn were covered with two feet of gravel. The quarters of the officers and the men were the same. They all slept on wide wooden double tiered bunks.

Hundreds of books, pamphlets, newspapers, and personal belongings littered on the floor showed that the camp had been abandoned in haste.

Halts a New Mess Hall.

The war had interrupted the construction of a new mess hall, the largest building to be seen in this district. It is a log structure 200 feet long—roofed over, but still without flooring. The entire camp was camouflaged, but no attempt had been made to hide the mess hall.

Inspection of what food stores remained disclosed that the diet of the Russian soldiers consisted mainly of black bread and soup made of potatoes and codfish.

The Russians are using land mines in great numbers. These are tin boxes about a foot square and three inches deep, and filled with high explosives. The Reds plant them in the roads and also in the grass several feet from the roads, at points where carts and trucks are likely to pass one another.

The Finns search for the mines constantly with a peculiar appearing apparatus. There is a loop of heavy wire at the end of a long stick which is connected with a small battery and a spark coil. The searcher wears earphones. The spark coil sounds a steady hum until the wire loop passes over a mine; then it rises to a crescendo.

Mines Always a Danger.

The located mine is dug up. Along the road I traveled to Aajualahti I frequently saw small stacks of these excavated mines. But many remain undiscovered. Some mines exploded ahead and behind us as we proceeded. When it was necessary to pass a truck we got out of the car and searched the roadside carefully.

After we once heard an explosion behind us we walked back. A horse pulling a rubber tired, two wheeled cart had gone off the road to pass a truck. One of the tires exploded the mine. The horse was unhurt, but the cart was shattered; one of the soldiers in it was killed and another's legs were blown off.

Watching the advance of the Finns, one wonders when they sleep. The road to the rear is full of traffic day and night. At night I saw heavy artillery move forward and after that came a German panzer [armored] company rattling along in their iron treads.

Several Drives on Railroad.

The several drives in the central sector are heading toward various points on the now broken Leningrad-Murmansk railroad. This line during the last 20 years of soviet rule has transported hundreds of thousands of prisoners to work in the northern lumber camps or to perish on Solovetsk Island where a once tamed Russian Orthodox monastery was converted into a prison hell by the communists.

Even in this sunny, hot weather the pine clad hills and the deep blue lakes of eastern Karelia do not make a cheerful impression, for there are wretched cabins and poverty stricken inhabitants. To the west, in Finland, the houses and barns are painted and bright little towns reveal what hard work can make out of a similar landscape.

BRITAIN MAY CUT ECONOMIC HELP, EDEN WARNS SPAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 24.—A veiled threat that Britain might radically have to alter its attitude toward Spain was made by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in the house of commons today. This was in the nature of a reply to Generalissimo Franco's speech on July 17 in which he reaffirmed his loyalty to the axis, said Britain and her allies already had lost the war, and warned the United States against intervention.

Eden said that since the end of the civil war Britain had done much to promote the economic recovery of Spain and to assist the Spanish people in reconstruction. Referring to British loans in 1941, Eden then said:

"The government now has noted that Gen. Franco in a speech displayed a complete misunderstanding, not only of the general war situation, but also of the British economic policy toward Spain. His statement makes it appear that he does not desire further economic assistance from this country. If that is so, Britain will be unable to proceed with its plans and its future policy will depend upon the actions and attitude of the Spanish government."

[Britain has extended several loans to Spain, one totaling $10,000,000, to finance Spanish purchases of British products and food. The British also have passed oil and wheat thru their blockade to aid Spain, supplied Spain with manganese for steel manufacture, and made large purchases of Spanish oranges and mercury.]

AMERICA FIRST'S ANTI-WAR MAIL FLOOD CONTINUES

Letters opposing American entry into the European war continue to flow into the America First committee headquarters in Chicago. They represent a cross-section of the American people, Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, national vice chairman, said yesterday.

From a large batch of letters just received she selected several at random. One was from the mother of an army aviator. "I do not want my son to fight in foreign wars," she wrote. She sent along $3 which she had collected from friends. Another writer, a resident of the west side, said, "These are not our wars, and we must stay out."

A Geneva housewife, sending $1, wrote, "I love this America of ours . . . but I cannot see why we should have to tolerate insulting remarks in view of what we have done for England." A few letters condemn the America First committee, but 98 per cent approve it, said Mrs. Fairbank.

SEES ECONOMIC RUIN IF AMERICA GOES INTO WAR

Los Angeles, Cal., July 24 (AP).—Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co. and head of the America First committee, told a meeting here today that American intervention in the European conflict would result in England "unloading her war in our lap."

In such an event, he said, an American expeditionary force of 1,800,000 to 2,225,000 men would be required to end the conflict and economic ruin in America would follow. He said heavy taxation in case of American involvement would "completely wipe out our middle class, the backbone of our democracy."

"I am completely fed up with that whole bunch of royal and intelligentsia refugees who, from New York City, are trying to propagandize us into their war and control our economy and our diets, and I do not believe Lord Halifax should be making propaganda tours of our nation," Gen. Wood asserted.

REVEAL HOLLAND LINER SUNK IN GREEK CONQUEST

New York, July 24 (AP).—The destruction of six British and Dutch ships totaling 53,234 tons and including the famous Holland-America liner Pennland, 16,082 tons, during the German conquest of Greece was disclosed today in delayed reports from the Mediterranean.

Actual British and allied losses have been kept secret by censorship but one report said that close to 300,000 tons of shipping were destroyed by axis planes operating in Argos bay.

The Pennland, well known in the New York-Holland run before the war, was sunk with a loss of three lives two hours after leaving Piraeus. British warships rescued 297 persons. The 7,765 ton British freighter Quilca was destroyed by the British with depth charges after German planes damaged her and forced her aground.

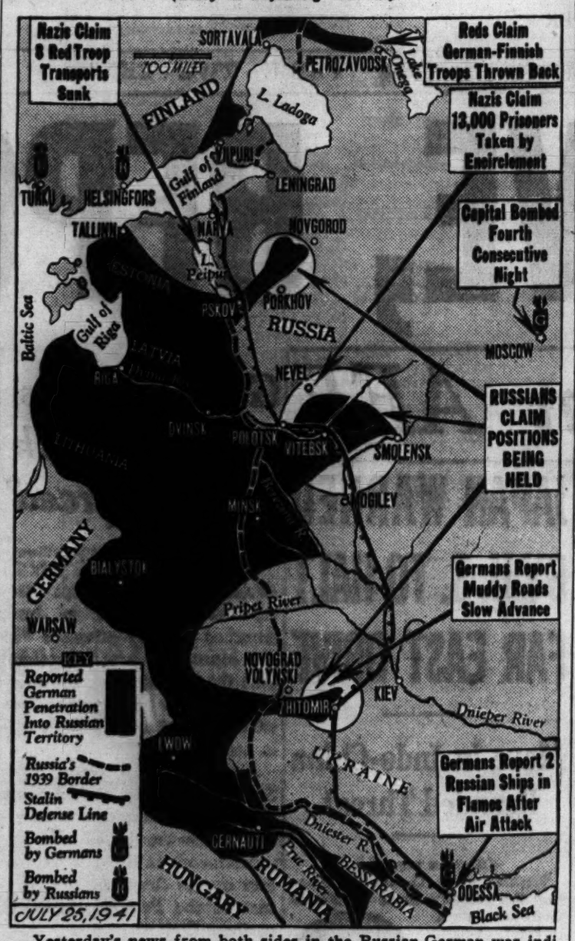
Nazi Drive in Russia Slows Up

(Story in adjoining column.)



Yesterday's news from both sides in the Russian-German war indicated that the German drive was slowing up. The Russians said their front remained unbroken and that the Nazi drive was a "failure." The Germans admitted that the Russians were putting up a fierce defense, but claimed progress nevertheless. Other developments are indicated.

RUSSIANS PUT UP FIERCE DEFENSE, GERMANS ADMIT

Claim Steady Progress Despite Mud, Foe.

'Panic' Tactics Fail

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

BERNE, July 24.—Unlike former German opponents in the field, Russian morale appears to be totally oblivious to tank and stuka [dive bomber] attacks, military quarters said today. The German inability thus to throw panic into the Russian ranks, and open paths for German advances has necessitated the employment of new and different tactics in Russia, it was suggested.

BERLIN, July 24 (AP).—Steady progress in the face of stiff resistance and despite bad roads—this was the German summary tonight of the war against soviet Russia.

The eastern campaign was called a methodical working out of a carefully arranged plan. The Germans admitted readily that the Russians were putting up the stiffest kind of defense, but at the same time it was asserted that tough opposition had been foreseen.

Motorized detachments of the German forces were slowed up by bad road conditions, especially in the Kiev area, but it was stated that this too had been taken into account.

German panzer [armored] units fighting fiercely toward Moscow were almost 100 miles ahead of infantry forces in the Smolensk area still clashing in close fighting with masses of Russian troops split by the Nazi spearheads. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said the fighting front in this sector was more than 95 miles deep.

Cloudbursts, Then Mud.

Cloudbursts were declared to have turned the highways into muddy handicaps to German trucks, heavy artillery and other equipment of a modern war machine.

The Germans stated that at Nevel, north of Vitebsk on the central front, the Nazi forces completed one of their numerous encirclement movements, taking 13,000 prisoners.

More German bombs were dropped on Moscow, Odessa, the soviet Black sea port and naval base, and on the central sector of the front in the region of Smolensk, main gateway from the west to Moscow, 230 miles away.

Reconnaissance flyers reported that Moscow still was smoking after the first two air bombardments, while observers returning from Odessa said that two vessels there were afire and that the superstructures of other vessels had been damaged by the German raiders.

It was estimated by the Germans that 17,000 tons of Russian ships bombed at Odessa either had been destroyed or put out of service for many months.

The air force was declared to have made a spectacular attack on Russian transports on Lake Peipus, near Leningrad, where it was claimed that eight ships jammed with fleeing Russians were sunk.

A military commentator announced that Rumanian aircraft had engaged in a similar foray near the mouth of the Dniester river, where some transports loaded with troops in flight were said to have been sunk.

GERMAN DIVISION AT SMOLENSK IS WIPED OUT: REDS

Second Nazi Offensive Called Failure.

MOSCOW, July 25 [Friday] (AP).—With Moscow's millions huddled in air raid shelters, soviet defense crews beat off another savage German air attack last night and the Red army command reported fresh successes against the Nazi mechanized legions far to the west.

A fresh German infantry division thrown into battle in the Smolensk area 230 miles west of here was wiped out, the nightly soviet information bureau communique said.

Other Red army units were engaged in stubborn battles against the Germans at Porkhov, 100 miles south of Leningrad, and at Zhitormir, about 80 miles west of the Ukraine capital of Kiev.

There was no indication that soviet troops had given ground in these vital sectors.

Subway Used as Shelter.

The air raid alarm here sounded at 9:45 p. m. and the all clear was given at 11:10 p. m. The raids were "frustrated," it was claimed.

Moscow's modern subway system was used as shelter by government decree, and long before the alert sounded hundreds of women and children equipped with bedding and food had filed into it.

In the vast military arenas far to the west the Russians said their air force still was inflicting blows on the German mechanized units which were also troubled by heavy rains.

Fifty-eight German planes were shot down or destroyed on German air fields Wednesday compared to soviet losses of 19, the communique said. Another five German planes were reported knocked down in the luftwaffe's attack on Moscow Wednesday night.

Steinhardt Home Hit.

The windows on two sides of the residence of United States Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt were smashed early yesterday by a bomb. The only occupants were four American newspaper men and all were unhurt. The residence is known as Spasso house.

[Spasso house was refurbished to provide quarters comparable with the most luxurious house in New York when Former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies was appointed to Moscow late in 1936. Ambassador and Mrs. Davies sent ahead American interior decorators and servants to install their own furnishings and equip the residence—which is separate from the embassy offices—with the first air-washing and air-conditioning equipment in the soviet union.]

Claim Offensive Beaten.

With the German-Russian war in its 34th day, the Red troops were reported clinging fast to their positions, standing approximately where they had stood 10 days ago. Thus the second Nazi offensive was pictured as ending in failure.

[After the Nazis' first offensive, lasting two weeks, they paused several days.]

"No Substantial Change."

The soviet command's communique on the campaign afield mentioned only the long familiar areas—the Polotsk-Nevel-Smolensk triangle, still standing as a firm barrier to the Moscow approaches; Porkhov below Leningrad, and Zhitmoir on the Kiev front. It reported "no substantial change" in the defenders' positions.

Unofficial Russian accounts, however, were less restrained and dwelt with particular admiration on the Red forces of the Smolensk theater, picturing this stand as the most brilliant and decisive of the war.

The war bulletin, by stating that aside from heavy continuing action on the Moscow, Leningrad, and Kiev fronts there had been no late major activity, implied that the far northern German-Finnish drive upon the Leningrad-Murmansk railroad still was stalled in the vicinity of Petrozavodsk.

The Red general staff reported that German-Finnish troops had been thrown back from "point P."—[possibly Petrozavodsk] with the loss of 1,200 killed and many wounded.

Heavy Raids on Finland.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 24 (AP).—Inhabitants of Helsingfors spent almost all last night in shelters as one long air alarm followed another and were back in shelters again this morning under new alarms.

Distant explosions were heard thruout the night, but official reports said anti-aircraft fire held off Russian planes trying to attack the capital.

Other southern Finnish cities also were raided, including the port of Turku. Incendiaries fell there, but the damage was said to have been negligible. Five Russian planes were reported shot down, one over Turku.

Two Battles in Mediterranean

British Victorious

CAIRO, Egypt, July 24 (AP).—British bombers and torpedo carrying Swordfish planes were credited officially today with blowing up an Italian munitions ship and destroying at least two others in an attack on a convoy.

The RAF report said the raid was carried out Tuesday on Italian ships off the island of Pantellaria, in the channel between Sicily and Tunisia.

"A vessel of 5,000 tons, which apparently was carrying munitions, was hit by three bombs and immediately blew up and disappeared below the surface of the water," the British communique said.

It reported that an Italian destroyer escorting the convoy was hit by an air launched torpedo, a 7,000 ton ship was set afire and sunk, and a tanker was destroyed by two torpedoes.

Italians Triumph

ROME, July 24 (AP).—Four British ships—two merchant vessels aggregating 25,000 tons, a destroyer, and an "unspecified unit"—were sunk in the central Mediterranean by Italian bombers and motor torpedo boats in the first heavy naval action for Fascist forces since Crete, the high command announced today.

It was a long running attack beginning at dawn yesterday and ending in the night, the Italian communique said, against a strongly protected British convoy steaming eastward presumably with supplies for the British army of the Nile.

Seven British planes were declared shot down against the acknowledged loss of three Italian planes.

All Italian ships participating, it was added, "succeeded in getting away and returned to their bases with very slight damage."

This was the full score claimed:

Sunk by aerial torpedoes—A 15,000 ton steamer and a 10,000 ton steamer, the latter laden with explosives.

Sunk by torpedo boats—A destroyer and "a large unspecified unit."

Bombed and damaged—A British battleship, cruiser, destroyer, heavy steamer, and "another unspecified unit."

Torpedoed and damaged—A 10,000 ton cruiser of the Southampton type and an 8,000 ton cruiser.

NEW 28 TON TANK BUILT IN CHICAGO AREA GIVEN TESTS

Engineers of the Pressed Steel Car Company, Inc., of Hegewisch, conducted road tests yesterday on a 28 ton medium armored tank. The tests were carried out under police guard in Dolton road between Torrence and Cottage Grove avenues. Officials declined to comment on the tank except to say that it was the first tank turned out by their company.

The tank is a standard type being constructed by several companies for the United States army and the British. It costs about $75,000 and is armed with four 50 caliber machine guns, one 75 mm. gun, and one 37 mm. gun.

It will hold a crew of seven men, including driver, commander, and radio operator. The 75 mm. gun is mounted on the right side, a short barrel version of the standard field gun of the same caliber. It is movable. The 37 mm. gun and the machine guns are in a revolving turret. The tank has a speed of more than 45 miles an hour.

WILLKIE CALLS HITLER GREATER PERIL THAN REDS

San Francisco, Cal., July 24 [Special].—America has more to fear from Hitler than from communism, Wendell Willkie declared tonight at a massmeeting here. He pleaded that the country be not afraid to give President Roosevelt emergency powers to act suddenly "to throw Hitler off his guard, to bewilder him."

"The only thing we have ever to fear from communism is the possible triumph of an ideology," Willkie said. "Now even the idea is no longer a real menace to democracy. It is a dream that didn't come true. Russia has never been a military or trade menace to us. Hitler has challenged our freedom."

The former Republican Presidential nominee hinted at an AEF in remarking that "we must realize that in order to prevent the axis from waging war on us in our hemisphere, and possibly some day on our soil, these swift moves of ours must be taken at remote distances from the American continent."

Biddle Named as Envoy to Exiled Slav Regime

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be minister to the government of Jugo-Slavia in exile in London. Biddle already is serving as ambassador or minister to the exiled governments of Poland, Belgium, Norway, and the Netherlands.

VICTORY IN SYRIA TEACHES BRITAIN: 'EASY' FOE TOUGH

Find Unexpected Fury of French Surprising.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANKARA, Turkey, July 24.—British and "Free French" armies conquered Syria only after a strenuous campaign, the result of which was doubtful for a time because Britain believed the Vichy French would not fight and attempted to invade the country with numerically inferior forces.

This correspondent, who has just arrived in Ankara after being the first civilian permitted to pass thru Syria from Palestine, learned that the attacking forces, instead of finding the French defenders apathetic, encountered strong opposition, especially from members of the French foreign legion and Senegalese. They also found that the Vichy French troops had 150 tanks where they had none.

Views Damage Along Coast.

Along the coast from Haifa, Palestine, to Beirut, property damage as a result of the five week war which ended July 14 was nothing compared with that inflicted by the Germans in northern France a year ago. Around Damour, 12 miles south of Beirut, where the Australians fought for several days trying to cross a river, about 50 houses had been shelled.

Acres of captured French motorized equipment were to be seen in the fields along the road during the trip up the coast. Most of the trucks were of American make.

As I entered Beirut with two British officers in an American made station wagon, two days after the occupation, a policeman shouted, "Good morning, mister." A number of boys greeted us with the British "thumbs up" sign, altho one lad apparently hadn't kept up with developments, because he gave us the Nazi salute.

Syrians Welcome British.

Generally speaking, the Syrians welcomed the British, except for a considerable number who were in the pay of the Germans. The latter are said to have distributed 12,000,000 French francs [about $264,000] the day before the armistice, telling those to whom it was given that they were leaving but that "they would be back."

Half an hour before the Australian troops were due to occupy Beirut under the terms of the armistice, I learned, many cafés hoisted signs reading, "The Australian Bar." As the signs went up, so did prices. Neither came down, despite the protests of allied soldiers who were obliged to pay 50 cents to $1 for a bottle of beer and 60 cents to $1.25 for stronger drinks. The costs of food and lodging were raised from 25 to 50 per cent.

HENDERSON AND KNUDSEN FIGHT STIRS CAPITAL

Fate of U.S. Industry Seen in Result.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—As the smoke of battle cleared away from yesterday's clash between Leon Henderson and William S. Knudsen, American industry ranged itself on the side lines today to await what was the expected to be the decisive struggle to shape the form of economy under which America will live in the future.

The issue was drawn sharply between two personalities who in themselves represent two diametrically opposed economic theories. Events were heading rapidly toward a showdown between the two men and the philosophies they represent.

Friction Deeper than Authority.

The friction that at last has come out into the open between Knudsen and Henderson is related only superficially to the authority each wields—Knudsen as defense production chief and Henderson as price fixer and raw materials czar in the exercise of his power over priorities.

Henderson, 41 years old, is an economist whose theories were shaped by books and classroom discussions. These theories never ran up against a practical business test.

From the early days of NRA, Henderson has been a New Dealer, and well to the left among them all. As secretary of the temporary national economic council, he distinguished himself by his headlong assault on things as they were in what he termed "a mature economy."

Knudsen Is Disillusioned.

Knudsen—big, slow, immigrant from Denmark, who went from shopworker to boss of the biggest production job in private industry as president of General Motors corporation—is the man President Roosevelt called to the task of turning out the tools America needed for its defense.

Knudsen found himself in an unfamiliar political climate, but he went ahead with what he thought was to be a job, and a job only, with no idea that he was to be cast in the rôle of champion for what Henderson might consider an outworn economic ideology.

Henderson's announcement that the automotive and refrigerator industries were to cut output 50 per cent, and the home washing and ironing machine industries were to be reduced 30 per cent, is said finally to have disabused Knudsen of the idea that the defense program was designed merely to arm America.

Own Program in Danger.

He now sees, it is said, in this program the beginning of an attempt to frustrate his own plan to transform industry slowly from a peacetime basis of consumer goods production to large scale armament production, and thus to cushion the shock at both the beginning and the end of the defense program.

Not only automobile makers but all other vital industries are concerned in the problem of whether Knudsen and his ideas of an orthodox system of free enterprise or Henderson is to prevail.

Spokesmen for the refrigerator, washing machine, and automatic ironer industries today asserted that they had been unfairly singled out to bear the brunt of the preliminary attack. They opined that the real purpose of Henderson is the elimination of Knudsen and his ideas and that in order to camouflage the drive had been widened to include manufactures of domestic appliances.

Branded a "Smoke Screen."

Quoting the official journal of the Office for Emergency Management, which coupled them with the automotive industry as "among the largest consumers of industrial raw materials required in large amounts for defense purposes," representatives of these industries made the assertion that the Henderson wing of the administration is attempting to transform industry under a smoke screen of "emergency" acts.

They stated that last year the automotive industry used 91 per cent of a total of 8,240,190 tons of all materials absorbed in the manufacture of automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, and ironers, and that manufacturers of these other commodities together consumed only 732,610 tons.

They said that priorities had been applied so indiscriminately that supplies of some materials far in excess of all available stocks in the nation had been earmarked for defense needs. They said that changes in policies in priorities from day to day and from week to week prevented attainment of any sort of stabilized production schedules.

Empire Makers Unhampered.

They also charged that Henderson is proceeding with no regard to inequalities which will hamper American products in competition with similar products turned out by British and dominion industries.

One example cited was aluminum, now restricted in the manufacture of all American consumer's goods, but still available in plenty to Canadian manufacturers. One American washing machine manufacturer, who was cut off from aluminum for the agitators of his washers, notified his Canadian subsidiary that bakelite agitators would be shipped to the Canadian plant in the future. He said that the Canadian branch manager immediately replied that he could not sell machines with bakelite agitators, because all his Canadian competitors were still using aluminum.

Aluminum Drive Without Aim.

At the same time, manufacturers asserted, civil defense authorities are piling up vast amounts of scrap aluminum in a hysterical effort which lacks purpose. They said this scrap cannot be used in the manufacture of airplanes, that the scrap market cannot accommodate the huge supplies suddenly thrown upon it, and that, even if there were facilities to remelt the scrap, the scrap brokers cannot release the metal because of priorities.

Discussing the application of Henderson's proposed cuts in refrigerator, washer, and ironer production, manufacturers of these goods said that other lines of consumer goods are being permitted to continue as usual, without restriction, altho they may absorb much greater stocks of vital materials.

"Garbage can manufacturers probably use more steel than we do," one manufacturer said, "yet you don't hear of the OEM ordering the production of garbage cans cut 30 per cent."

Bears a Son

New York, July 24 [Special].—Another heir of the Rockefeller family was born today when Mrs. David A. Rockefeller gave birth to a son weighing 7 pounds 3 ounces in the Harkness Pavilion. The son, a first child, was named David A. Rockefeller Jr. His father, the son of John D. Rockefeller Jr., is one of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's secretaries.

NAZIS DENY RED CLAIM GOERING IN PRISON CAMP

New York, July 24 (AP).—The German radio tonight denied Russian reports that Field Marshals Von Brauchitsch and Keitel had been removed because of reverses in the war against Russia and at the same time scoffed at an older Russian rumor that the No. 2 Nazi, Reichsmarshal Goering, was in a concentration camp.

The broadcast heard here opened with a report that Goering and Adolf Hitler had received Germany's top airman, Werner Moelders, and continued:

"Reuters [British news agency] recently pounced on a report, alleged to have come from New York via Moscow, to the effect that Field Marshals von Brauchitsch and Keitel and Gen. Rommel had been relieved of their commands. This is a fairy tale only to be compared with other recent inventions such as that Reichsmarshal Goering was in a concentration camp."

CITY ALUMINUM DRIVE PRODUCES 116,000 POUNDS

More than 116,000 pounds of aluminum have been collected by the Chicago Commission on National Defense in three days, Barnet Hodes, vice chairman of the drive, announced yesterday. The goal is 500,000 pounds by Saturday night.

Hodes said the figure of 116,000 pounds was based on actual weights recorded at receiving depots which have scales and on estimated weights at depots which have no scales.

AGREE ON DRAFT AGE LIMITS AND PLANT SEIZURES

Final Action Expected on Bill Next Week.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Amendments to the draft act providing for the mandatory deferment of men 28 years old or older and authorizing President Roosevelt to seize and operate rearmament plants tied up by strikes and other interruptions, were approved today by a conference committee of the house and senate.

The measure will be sent to the White House after final congressional action scheduled for next week.

The age lowering amendment is sought because army officials believe men of 28 and older lack the stamina and adaptability of younger men. Older men already are being given draft deferment on orders issued to local draft boards by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, acting head of the selective service system.

Power granted the President to seize strike-bound rearmament plants is not to be confused with the property seizure bill, already passed by the senate and pending in the house.

Could Requisition Tools.

The amendment approved by the committee today applies only to whole plants, whereas the bill now before the house would confer on Mr. Roosevelt authority to requisition property for military purposes when it cannot be obtained by other means. This does not necessarily mean whole plants, but machine tools in a plant, other equipment, or raw materials.

The original conscription act of 1940 merely empowered the President to take over plants in cases of disagreement between the owners and the government respecting army and navy orders.

The conference agreement now extends that power to cover not only a possible dispute between the owners of the plants and federal officials but also "whenever the President finds that there is an interruption, that the national defense program will be unduly impeded or delayed and that the exercise of such power is necessary to insure production at such plants in the interests of national defense."

The amendment does not use the word "strike" but, according to experts, the meaning is the same, as there could hardly be a strike tieup without an interruption in production.

Avoid Strike Reference.

The amendment passed by the senate contained language inserted by Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.] using the word "strike" and designed to legalize Mr. Roosevelt's seizure last month of the plant of the North American Aviation corporation at Inglewood, Cal. Members of the house meanwhile rejected all of the administration's plant seizure and strike breaking proposals. The amendment in its present form represents the compromise agreement between the two chambers.

Another amendment on which the committee acted favorably provides for the posting in a conspicuous place at each draft board a list of the names and classifications of all registrants who have been classified, together with the reasons for the classification. This, it was explained, is designed to furnish the public with full information of each board's activities and to prevent favoritism.

$300,000 BLAZE AND BLAST RAZE GRAIN ELEVATOR

A spectacular fire and explosion yesterday razed the main working house of the grain elevator operated by Gerstenberg & Co., grain brokers, at 4902 South Homan avenue. First Deputy Fire Marshal Anthony Mullaney estimated damage to the building and to 325,000 bushels of corn stored in the elevator at $300,000.

Frank A. Jost, a partner in the Gerstenberg company, said most of the corn was owned by the Commodity Credit corporation, a federal farm crop loan agency. The elevator is owned by the Grand Trunk Western Railroad company, and is leased by the Gerstenberg firm. The loss is covered by insurance, Jost said.

Richard Jaeckel, 56 years old, a prominent New York furrier, leaped to his death yesterday from his room on the 21st floor of the Stevens hotel. He had registered early this week as Richard Jones, but notes in his pajama pocket and in his room disclosed his identity.

On Feb. 5, 1940, Jaeckel fell 10 floors on to a New York apartment house entrance canopy, but suffered only a head injury. Jaeckel was in the fur business there with two brothers, Walter and Francis. A nephew, Tracy, said yesterday that Jaecke. had been in ill health for the last two years and had been on the west coast with his wife, Millicent, and son, Hanley, 12.

One of five sealed letters found in his room was addressed to Mrs. Jaeckel, who is now in Venice, Cal.

ARMY PROPOSAL ON TROOPS HIT AS AMBIGUOUS

New Plan Is Submitted to Senate Committee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Whether a new war department proposal to continue the service of all army personnel indefinitely would permit President Roosevelt to send National Guardsmen and draftees outside the western hemisphere was disputed today by members of the senate military affairs committee.

Congressional leaders made it plain, however, that regardless of the war department's purposes, the provisions of existing law forbidding the use of citizen soldiers outside the western hemisphere will not be affected by any legislation reported by the military affairs committee.

Earlier Proposal Abandoned.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, first proposed on July 3 that the President be authorized to send draftees and National Guardsmen anywhere in the world. He stuck to this proposal in subsequent testimony before the senate and house military affairs committees. President Roosevelt, however, was forced to abandon the AEF proposal, at least temporarily, when congressional leaders told him 10 days ago that congress would not pass it.

This position was reaffirmed by administration leaders in congress today. There is enough opposition to the proposal to extend the service of draftees, let alone trying to authorize an AEF, they declared.

Senate Hearings Completed.

The senate committee completed hearings on the army service legislation today, with Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the America First committee, as one of the last witnesses. He urged a pay increase for soldiers rather than compulsory extension of the service of draftees and National Guardsmen.

The senate committee now will hold executive sessions to draft the legislation it wishes to report. The house military affairs committee is holding hearings on the same proposal.

The new war department resolution was submitted to Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], chairman of the military affairs committee, by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. Stimson asked that congress declare a national emergency.

The war secretary specifically opposed a resolution by Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah], which would declare that a national emergency exists only to the extent of authorizing the retention of draftees, National Guardsmen, reservists and retired personnel in service indefinitely, and would permit the use of citizen soldiers outside the western hemisphere only with their consent.

The disputed paragraph in Stimson's proposed resolution provides:

"That the national interest and welfare of the United States are gravely imperiled by the international situation; that a national emergency therefore exists, and the President is hereby empowered to employ the armed land forces of the United States in excess of those of the regular army in the national defense."

One Clause Eliminated.

This paragraph is identical in language to one submitted to the senate committee by Gen. Marshall, except that Marshall's proposal contained the additional words: "Subject only to existing limitations governing the employment of the regular army."

The Marshall proposal admittedly was intended to place the draftees and National Guardsmen on the same basis as regular army troops, which can be sent anywhere in the world, according to the constitutional theories of President Roosevelt's legal advisers.

Senator Reynolds expressed the fear the new Stimson language could be construed as placing draftees and National Guardsmen on the same basis as regular army troops.

Wheeler Also Voices Fear.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], noninterventionist leader, expressed the same fear. The language is so ambiguous, Wheeler said, as to permit any construction desired by the President.

On the other hand, Senator Thomas, an ardent New Dealer, said the Stimson proposal would not affect existing restrictions against the use of citizen soldiers outside the western hemisphere.

Stimson said the Thomas resolution would not accomplish all the objectives of the war department. Among other things, he said, the department wishes to remove the existing limitation of 900,000 on the number of draftees that may be in training at any one time and also to extend the service of regular army enlisted men, as well as the service of all citizen soldiers.

In his testimony before the committee, Gen. Hammond urged a pay boost for soldiers to enable the army to compete more advantageously with other vocations for its men and increased opportunities for advancement of enlisted soldiers of ambition and enterprise.

With these changes, he said, it can readily be anticipated that the bulk of the draftees and National Guardsmen will reënlist. Giving men a real opportunity in the army will result in the finest fighting force the world has ever seen, Gen. Hammond said.

MANY TIMES

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany—President Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

"As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

ANTI-WAR PLEAS SUMMARIZED ON WHEELER CARDS

Recipients Also Urged to Write to Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—The postcards which Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] said he mailed to approximately a million persons thruout the United States bore this statement in the corner of the address side:

"Write today to President Roosevelt, at the White House, in Washington, that you are against our entry into the European war.—Burton K. Wheeler."

The front of the card also carried the statement: "United States senate—part of the Congressional Record—free." Another line said: "Not printed at government expense."

Roosevelt Quoted First.

The reverse side of the card carried these excerpts from various speeches:

"President Roosevelt said:

"'And while I am talking to you, fathers and mothers, I give you one more assurance. I have said this before, but I shall say it again, and again, and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.'—Speech at Boston, Oct. 30, 1940.

"Former President Herbert Hoover says:

"'Right now we need calm thinking. We need reason. We need tolerance. We need deliberation. We must not be swept off our feet by the profound depth of our emotions.'

"Senator Burton K. Wheeler says:

"'The American people should tell President Roosevelt that they expect him to live up to his campaign pledges and keep this country out of the European war. They should write their senators and congressmen regarding their views.'

Candor Urged by Kennedy.

"Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy says:

"'The people who must suffer and give up their lives are entitled to know the facts before their judgment can be won in the interventionist cause. We must have the completest candor; we must have the fullest disclosure; we must have the freest debate. . . . A direct attack on us would require an armada mightier than the power of man could create.'

"Col. Charles Lindbergh says:

"'. . . The propaganda of war has spread thru our country. Once we entered a war that was going to make the world safe for democracy and end all need for war in the future. We sent 2 million troops overseas. After that we left the future of the world in the hands of our college presidents and our idealists. The greatest wars and the bloodiest revolutions of all history have taken place under their guidance.

Democracy's Future Weighed.

"'. . . Now they want us to go to war again. Our government asks us to preserve democracy abroad by creating a dictatorship in our own country. And all this is the name of idealism.

"'The future of democracy depends on our ability to govern our own country. It is far more essential for this country to have farms without mortgages, workmen with their own homes, and young people who can afford families than it is for us to crusade abroad for freedoms that are tottering in our own country.

"'Our principles are open and clear. We believe that the security of this country depends upon our own character and strength. We believe that the best way to defend our nation is to keep our armies on our own soil. We stand for an independent American destiny.

Plea Made for Help.

"'If you stand with us we ask you to help us by organizing meetings, by talking to your friends, and by writing to your representatives in Washington. The crisis is here. We need your assistance now. The entire future of America depends on the action we take at this time.'

"Senator Gerald P. Nye says:

"'My fear is not as to any probable or likely outcome of Europe's war. What concerns me is the knowledge that, if we go into the war, whatever the outcome of that war will be, the United States will be the nation most hated and most despised by all the warring nations and their peoples.'"

Assails Wheeler

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Secretary of War Stimson alighting from his car at White House yesterday to attend cabinet meeting after his verbal attack on Senator Wheeler at a press conference.

ARMY DEFENDS USE OF DUMMY GUNS IN TRAINING

The war department yesterday offered a defense for the use of dummy weapons and the practice of letting various units take turns with available weapons in publicity material released by the press office of the 6th corps area.

"A genuine weapon is naturally the most desirable," it was conceded, but the statement asserted that the shortage in arms was not necessarily a fatal training handicap. "Tactical employment of a weapon rather than its technical manipulation is paramount in maneuvers," the statement asserted. For this reason, it said, "little training value is lost by the substitution of a stove pipe for a mortar or an oak bough for a machine gun."

The release said all troops have learned to handle their basic arms by rotating available weapons thru the unit until every man has been thoroly schooled in handling them.

WAR MEETINGS THRUOUT NATION TO START TODAY

New York, July 24 [Special.]—Open air meetings thruout the 48 states will be organized by the chapters of the prowar Committee to Defend America during "Battle of the Atlantic week" starting tomorrow.

The committee claimed in its announcement that governors and mayors in some instances will designate the week by proclamation.

Petitions urging the President to use the navy to assure the safe delivery of American-made planes, tanks and guns will be circulated thruout the week at mass meetings, by street speakers and by house to house canvassers, the committee said.

STIMSON SHUNS AEF QUERY; RIPS WHEELER'S PLEA

Calls Senator's No-War Drive Near Treason.

that any persons on the mailing list used by him for the cards were soldiers. He said he obtained the list from Emil Hurja, former official of the Democratic national committee and now publisher of the Pathfinder, a magazine of national circulation, predominantly rural. In addition to the Hurja list, however, the senator included the names of many thousands who had written to him, he said. The cost of printing the cards was billed to him by the government printing office, but the America First committee paid for it, Wheeler added.

"The cards did not mention the draft service extension legislation," Senator Wheeler said. "But if they did, has it come to pass in the United States that we cannot oppose legislation affecting millions of people without being accused by some cabinet officer of treasonable or subversive activities?

"One can probably excuse Secretary Stimson on the ground of his age [73] and incapacity. Every one in Washington knows that the old gentleman is unable to carry on the duties of his office, and some go so far as to say he has reached the point where, to use the expression of a Britisher, he's 'ga-ga.'

Pledges Continued Fight.

"If it's near treason to ask the President to keep his sacred promises made to the people of the United States when he was seeking reëlection, then I'm guilty of near treason, whatever that may be. But I shall continue my efforts to prevent the sending of our boys to the blood battlefields of Europe and Africa."

Senator Wheeler said he was not concerned about the war department's contention that soldiers are prohibited by army regulations from expressing opinions on political questions or attempting to influence legislation.

"So long as the constitution stands—the bill of rights—the people cannot be denied their right of petition," Wheeler said. "That goes for soldiers as well as for others."

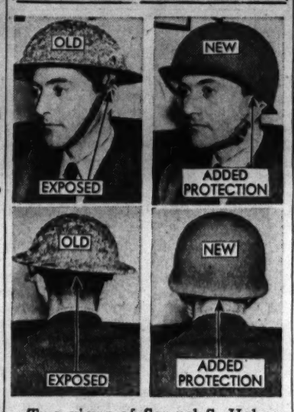
Under Fire Since January.

Officials of the Roosevelt administration from the President down have vilified and sought to destroy the influence of Senator Wheeler with increasing acrimony since last January, when he denounced the so-called lend-lease program as a triple A foreign policy to "plow under every fourth American boy." President Roosevelt accused the noninterventionist leader of "dastardly" conduct.

Only last Tuesday President Roosevelt said he would not "pull a Wheeler" by revealing places where American troops might be sent. This observation referred to Senator Wheeler's disclosure, before it was announced by the President, that American troops had landed in Iceland.

Senator Wheeler refused to discuss the source of reports that American troops have been landed in Egypt.

New Army Helmet



Two views of Samuel S. Holmes Jr. in new and old army helmets.

Several of the army's new style steel helmets, similar to the coal bucket design used by German troops, were received yesterday at headquarters of the Chicago ordnance district. They were inspected by Col. Donald Armstrong, district executive officer. The new helmets, designed to give protection to the sides and back of the head not provided by the present wash basin type, weigh about 2½ pounds, or three ounces more than the present model. Tests show they are made of tougher steel. The frontal piece of the new helmet is flanged forward to form a cap style visor; the rear is slightly flanged outward to shed rain over the collar.

CAVALRY TESTS IN DESERT NONE TOO STRENUOUS

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Bliss, Tex., July 24.—The army's 1941 cavalry maneuvers—two weeks of none-too-strenuous make-believe warfare in the desolate New Mexico desert country—came to an official end this morning.

This afternoon the 17,000 men, 8,000 horses and more than 2,000 motor vehicles employed in the war games began the 30 mile trek to Fort Bliss. Last units are expected to reach here late tomorrow.

The hundreds of officers who have commanded troops in the games will assemble in the Fort Bliss theater tomorrow and listen to what probably will be both criticism and praise from their leaders. Speakers at this critique will be Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, commander of the 1st cavalry division and director of the war games, and Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the 3d army, here from his headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., as an observer.

TEA CUPS CLICK FOR 3 ROOSEVELT SONS ON LEAVE

They Enjoy Social Life and Commissions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Service in the armed forces is not interfering with the social life of three of President Roosevelt's four tall sons.

Only one of the four sons, Elliott, whose appointment to a captaincy last Sept. 23, on his 30th birthday, aroused nationwide criticism because of his lack of experience, is far from the tinkle of dainty tea cups.

Elliott is stationed at the air base the army is building at Newfoundland. He sought the assignment to the defense outpost after his commission became an issue of the last campaign. "I want to be a captain" buttons and songs lampooned his appointment.

All Are Commissioned.

None of the Roosevelt boys was drafted, and all are commissioned officers. James, the eldest son, a captain in the marine corps, recently returned to this country after a junket to the Mediterranean, where he delivered letters from his father to the kings of Greece and Egypt. Franklin Jr. and John are ensigns in the navy.

Franklin, John, and James have not found their commissions crimp their social style. All have been able to spend some time at the fashionable Atlantic coast resort at Beverly Farms, Mass.

Franklin's wife, the former Ethel du Pont, has taken a cottage there for the season. He spent some time there recovering from a leg infection received in an auto accident as he was racing back to his ship, the Mayrant, late at night. John is assigned to the naval supply school at Harvard university for a three months' course.

A Family Reunion.

Several weeks ago virtually the entire family was at Beverly Farms. Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, the President's mother, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt were present, as well as all three of the navy sons with their wives.

Among other socialites on leave at the colony was Sergt. Reverdy Wadsworth, son of Representative James Wadsworth, co-author of the draft act. Young Wadsworth did not seek a commission like the Roosevelt boys. He was made a corporal, and recently received his third chevron.

Young Wadsworth is stationed at Camp Devens, Mass. His wife, the former Eleanor Roosevelt, daughter of the late Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, a cousin of the President, and assistant secretary of the navy, has taken a cottage at Beverly Farms to be near her husband.

JAPAN WARNED BY U. S. TO HALT FAR EAST DRIVE

Indo-China Move Called Threat to Peace.

German, French, British, Chinese, and other foreign representatives.

Jap Naval Forces Moved.

The Japanese occupation of bases in Indo-China within closer striking range of British Malaya [Singapore], the East Indies, Philippines, and Thailand [Siam] appeared meanwhile to have begun even before Japan's agreement with French authorities was signed.

Japanese warships arrived off two strategic Indo-China points — Cam Ranh bay and Cap St. Jacques, and 12 transports were reported en route to Saigon.

[Cam Ranh bay lies about midway between two great British bases, Singapore and Hongkong, being about 800 miles from each, and is about 1,000 miles from the United States naval base of Cavite, which guards Manila bay in the Philippines. Cam Ranh bay offers a safe anchorage, having both a sheltered and an open harbor. A naval base, begun in 1936, has no repair, fueling, or supply facilities and virtually no fixed defenses such as are needed by a naval operational base. Cap St. Jacques guards the estuary of the Saigon river, on which Saigon lies. At Saigon there is a modern air field.]

Apparently expecting some strong economic blows against Japan as a result of the move, more than 40 Japanese cargo ships hove to off San Francisco and were said to be waiting for instructions from Tokio before proceeding into American ports.

One of these was heavily laden with silk—Japan's principal export to the United States and the source of dollar credits with which oil and other materials are purchased here.

List Possible U. S. Action.

A silk embargo is one of the economic weapons still available against Japan. Other possible measures include the freezing of Japanese assets in this country, a complete embargo on oil, and discontinuance of gold buying from Japan, which has put about half a billion dollars in Japanese hands in the last three years.

Welles declined to discuss possible economic sanctions at this time but Japanese moves in the past frequently have been followed by American measures striking directly at Japan's economic system.

The government's reason for not cutting off all oil shipments to Japan had been a "hush hush" question in official circles for months and Mr. Roosevelt's explanation at this time was considered significant.

President Tells of U. S. Course.

The President told the defense group there were many things people didn't understand and they could help to enlighten the average citizen."

He then cited curtailment of gasoline consumption in the eastern United States which led some persons to ask why they should be deprived while gasoline still was going from the west coast to Japan and "we are helping Japan in what looks like an act of aggression."

The answer, he said, was a simple one—that a world war had been going on for nearly two years and "one of our efforts" from the beginning was to prevent it spreading to the South Pacific, from which the United States has to obtain defense materials such as rubber and tin.

"And now here is a nation called Japan," the President continued. "Whether they had at that time aggressive purposes to enlarge their empire southward, they didn't have any oil of their own up in the north.

"Now, if we cut the oil off, they probably would have gone down to the Dutch East Indies a year ago, and you would have had war.

War Averted "for Two Years."

"Therefore, there was—you might call—a method in letting this oil go to Japan with the hope—and it has worked for two years—of keeping war out of the South Pacific for our own good, for the good of the defense of Great Britain, and the freedom of the seas."

Welles termed the Indo-China developments a clear indication that Japan was "determined to pursue an objective of expansion by force or threat of force" and said there was no valid ground for Japanese claims that bases were necessary there as self defense measures.

Denying that the United States, Great Britain or the Netherlands had any territorial ambitions in Indo-China or planned any aggressive moves, Welles said:

"This government can, therefore, only conclude that the action of Japan is undertaken because of the estimated value to Japan of bases in that region primarily for purposes of further and more obvious movements of conquest in adjacent areas."

Japan's action, he said, endangers the peaceful use of the Pacific by peaceful nations and tends to jeopardize the procurement of essential defense materials such as tin and rubber. Then he added:

"The steps which the Japanese government has taken also endanger the safety of other areas of the Pacific, including the Philippine Islands.

"The government and people of this country fully realize that such developments bear directly upon the vital problem of our national security."

Welles later talked with Constantin Oumansky, Russian ambassador; Richard G. Casey, Australian minister, and Neville Butler, British minister.

Dispatches from Vichy said Indo-China would be placed under the armed protection of Japan as the dominant power in the orient, according to an announced agreement in principle.

Developments in the Far East

Tenseness in the far eastern situation was heightened yesterday by the movements of Japanese warships toward Indo-China. Shown are distances to possible Japanese base from American and British naval bases in the vicinity.

FERRYING U. S. PLANES TO BRITAIN NOW JUST ROUTINE, SAYS FLYER

The ferrying of American bombers to England by flight across the North Atlantic ocean has become routine, and soon many planes will be making the 2,000 mile crossing every 24 hours, it was asserted here last night by George H. Hutchinson, who has made more of these flights than any other pilot. Hutchinson, head of the "Flying Hutchinson" family, will speak today before the Executives club at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman.

"In recent weeks we have been flying the ferry pilots back to Canada from England in new American Consolidated B-24 four motored bombers," he said. "This will enable Atfero [the Canadian ferrying company] to speed up its deliveries 1,000 per cent. Twice as many planes were delivered in May as in April and three times as many in June as in May.

"I held the record for the England-Canada return flight—13 hours 21 minutes—when I got leave the first week in July. The ground to ground eastbound crossing record was 9 hours 20 minutes when I left. But the newer ships coming along undoubtedly will break these records."

Hutchinson is making a lecture tour of the eastern United States.

ECUADOR CLAIMS JAPS AID PERU; CHARGE DENIED

QUITO, Ecuador, July 24 (AP).—At least 3,000 Japanese soldiers have been seen in the Peruvian front lines by an Ecuadorian officer, the government of Ecuador stated tonight in one of two official bulletins telling of continued and intense fighting along the disputed and undefined Peruvian-Ecuadorian border.

The second Ecuadorean communique said Peruvian planes twice bombed the Ecuadorian naval cutter Atahualpa without success and bombed the town of Santa Rosa without damage.

Charge Called Ridiculous.

LIMA, Peru, July 24 (AP).—A high official of the Peruvian foreign office tonight declared an official Ecuadorian assertion that Japanese officers and troops were fighting with the Peruvian army on the northern boundary was "laughable, ridiculous, and contemptible."

Peru officially attributed responsibility for yesterday's clashes along the Zarumilla river to Ecuadorian "aggressors," and said 11 Peruvians were killed and 41 wounded.

JAPANESE BEGIN A CAMPAIGN TO 'PROTECT' SIAM

TOKIO, Friday, July 25 (AP).—The Japanese foreign office organ, which only yesterday was urging that Japan assume protection of French Indo-China, dropped that subject today as if it were already settled and directed its attention in similar vein toward Thailand [Siam.]

The organ, the English language Japan Times and Advertiser, accused Britain of attempting to "disrupt the good relationship which has developed between Japan and Thailand" and declared Thailand needed external support and internal consolidation against such a threat.

BRITISH BOMBER CRASHES IN OHIO FIELD, KILLING 2

Ship En Route to Canada; 2d Plane Damaged.

Dayton, O., July 24 [Special].—Two officers of the ferry command engaged in transporting bombers to Britain were killed today when their Lockheed-Hudson plane crashed and burned in a cornfield near Mount Gilead, O.

Arrow locates scene of crash.

The two dead flyers, whose bodies were burned, were First Lieutenant R. F. Rush and Second Lieutenant N. L. Warner, both of Tucson, Ariz. The officer of the day at Patterson field, army air depot attached to Wright field, First Lieutenant Loren Cornell, said the plane took off from Patterson field at 3 p. m. for Montreal, Que., where the bomber was to have been delivered to the royal Canadian air force.

The plane had landed yesterday for refueling on a flight from the Lockheed plant at Burbank, Cal. The plane carried RAF insignia.

Transport Plane Crashes, Too.

Lieut. Cornell said that seven other men in another plane, attempting to land at Patterson field, escaped injury when the starboard motor of their Douglas DC-3 transport ship caught fire and fell off at a height of 30 feet.

Second Lieut. Herbert D. Rish of Kenton, O., and First Lieut. Walter Bridgers of Dayton were piloting the transport plane.

Rish brought the plane in safely, altho it was heavily damaged by fire. The two officers and five enlisted men aboard escaped injury, Cornell said. An investigation will be made tomorrow.

Plunges Into Creek Valley.

The scene of the fatal bomber crash is about 95 miles from Wright field, near the village of Cardington, and seven miles from Mt. Gilead. The plane plunged into a creek valley traversing the farmer's field in which it was believed the airmen were attempting to make a forced landing.

Witnesses reported that the British plane appeared to have developed motor trouble some time before it crashed. They said it circled and banked at about 1,000 feet, then plunged downward in a nose dive.

When it was within about 200 feet of the earth, it leveled off "in a jumpy manner," they said, then plunged out of control to the ground. An explosion occurred instantly and fire swept the wreckage. The blast scattered parts of the plane a distance of more than 200 yards.

Members of the Cardington fire department poured water on the bomber's wreckage for an hour and a half before the fire was extinguished.

In another crash at West Liberty, O., near Bellefountaine, a pursuit ship on a test flight from Patterson, ran out of gasoline and pancaked into a field. Lieut. Cornell refused to release the pilot's name, but said he was uninjured. The ship, damaged only slightly, will be flown back here tomorrow.

U. S. 'FORTRESSES' LEAD AIR RAID ON NAZI BATTLESHIP

Bomb Gneisenau from Record Height.

LONDON, July 25 [Friday].—Big four-motored American made Boeing flying fortresses bombed the German battleship Gneisenau in port at Brest, France, yesterday from a height so "fantastic" that the scream of their bombs was probably the first inkling the Germans had of the attack, the British air ministry news service reported today.

Where British report German ships were bombed.

The raid was part of a general series of attacks along the German-held French coast, including new and damaging assaults on the Gneisenau's sister ship, the Scharnhorst, which was found to have been spirited to La Pallice, 240 miles down the coast from Brest, the British stated.

Frost Covers Planes.

The flying fortresses, flying over Brest in broad daylight to lead the attack on the Gneisenau, were so high that they would have been scarcely visible from the ground and were "certainly inaudible," the air ministry news service said.

"With summer far below them, the planes were covered with frost and rime a quarter of an inch thick," it said. "Inside, the crews had sweated in summer heat as they took off, but the sweat had frozen before they reached their high altitude. Brest, even when they were over it, seemed 'no bigger than your thumb,' as one of the pilots said.

"A heavy load of American bombs was well directed at the minute target of the Gneisenau. It seemed almost an impossible time before the flashes of the bombs were seen. Then, thru the intercommunication system, pilots heard a bomb aimer say, 'There they go—one, two, three, four, five.' Even from that height the flashes seemed impressive."

Hampden and Wellington bombers attacked the ship from lesser heights and seven hits were reported.

Heaviest of Daylight Raids.

The attacks on the two ships were termed the heaviest daylight raids made by the RAF since the war started. They followed an attack on the Scharnhorst Wednesday in which one direct hit was reported. Another hit was reported in two attacks yesterday. The air ministry reported 15 bombers and seven fighting planes missing as a result of the two day assaults against the ships and claimed 24 German fighters were shot down. They denied German reports that 54 RAF planes had been lost over the channel area Wednesday.

[The official German news agency, DNB, set yesterday's RAF losses in channel fighting at 32 as against 3 German planes shot down. A military spokesman also claimed Britain had lost 500 planes since it began its nonstop offensive. Increased German activity over the British Isles Wednesday night centered on Liverpool.]

HOUSE WRANGLES OVER 8 BILLIONS MORE FOR ARMS

U. S. Faces Economic Ruin, Members Warn.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Amid renewed warnings that continued government spending will bring about the collapse of the nation's economic structure, the house today began consideration of an $8,063,238,478 supplemental defense appropriation bill for the army, navy, and maritime commission.

Representative Jenkins.

A technical objection to one section of the measure late in the afternoon threw the chamber into a parliamentary tangle and finally forced postponement of final action until next week. The objection was made on a point of order by Representative Merlin Hull [Prog., Wis.], who charged that an appropriation of $35,010,000 for construction of a new office building for the war department had not been properly introduced.

Construction Unauthorized.

The chair sustained his argument that congress, before appropriating for the building, would have to authorize its construction. The decision precipitated loud wrangling between Democrats and Republicans, the latter grinning broadly at the discomfiture of their opponents.

Earlier in the debate Representative Thomas A. Jenkins [R., O.] took the floor to note that the ways and means committee had worked for months to find ways to raise approximately 3 billion 500 million dollars in extra taxes this year, while congress in a single afternoon was preparing to authorize expenditures of more than twice that sum.

"This congress already has appropriated 33 billion dollars," he said. "With today's appropriation the sum would be about 40 billion. That means we will be spending 100 million dollars per day. But we expect to take in only 30 million per day in taxes. Where are we heading?

"This house will have to get a new ways and means committee. It will have to set up a new tax system. If this spending keeps on I see only one recourse. There will have to be a capital levy, which means picking the pockets of the people."

Expenditures called for in the bill were summarized as follows:

Army	$4,760,308,813
Navy	1,569,374,665
Maritime commission	1,698,650,000
Public works, war dep't	35,010,000
Total	$8,063,238,478

The army appropriation would provide a complete outlay of critical items for a force of 3,000,000 men, including combat maintenance for a 12 month period, and essential items for 1,727,000 men.

Part of Two Ocean Program.

The navy department funds will go largely for public works, new ship construction, and added repair facilities, authorized in the two ocean fleet program, and expansion of the navy's personnel from 258,000 to 369,000 officers and men.

The allocation of the maritime commission, including 1 billion dollars in contractual authority and $698,650,000 cash appropriation, would be used for construction of 541 new merchant vessels and for requisition or purchase of additional, existing shipping.

HER DEATH MASK AND BLACK ROBE PLEAD FOR PEACE

Heads turned on Michigan avenue yesterday as a black robed figure stalked by, wearing a death mask. Lettered in red on the back of the robe was: "The victory will be mine —women of America! Your sons, husbands, sweethearts will be mine."

Behind the mask was Margaret Russell, 32 years old, a Vassar graduate who not long ago startled congressmen by rising in the visitors' gallery of the house of representatives, clad in her robe and death mask, and crying, "Victory will be mine." Miss Russell was jailed, examined by psychiatrists, and pronounced sane in Gallinger Municipal hospital, Washington, D. C.

"I'm trying to get the women to keep America out of war," she said. "It's awfully grimy business, but we have to do all we can to keep out."

NEW DEAL PLANS CENSORSHIP FOR CABLE AND RADIO

Admiral Tells Need in Naval Districts.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The Roosevelt administration plans to ask congress for legislation empowering the navy department, and probably the war department, to establish censorship over cable and radio messages destined for foreign countries.

Admiral Morrell.

This was revealed today with the publication of recent testimony before the house appropriations committee. Admiral Ben M. Morrell, chief of the navy's bureau of yards and docks, told the committee that President Roosevelt's proclamation of an unlimited emergency will necessitate the establishment of censorship in some naval districts.

Approved by President.

The admiral described the proposed censorship as "a confidential item" and declared it had the full approval of President Roosevelt. He said the department of justice is drafting legislation "providing for the establishment of international censorship of outgoing communications."

At the White House, Stephen T. Early, secretary in charge of press, said he had not heard of the censorship plan.

Drastic Plan Drafted.

At the war and navy departments it was said the proposed censorship legislation comes under the heading of restricted information and cannot be discussed.

Censorship of outgoing cable and radio communications has been proposed within the administration as an alternative to a drastic censorship plan drafted by Lowell Mellett, White House administrative assistant. The more radical wing of the administration has urged it as the first step toward full censorship.

Mellett, the editor of a tabloid size Scripps-Howard newspaper in the capital, was given a job within the administration when that newspaper chain began turning away from the New Deal.

Hunted on Check Charge, He Turns Up with Gun

For nearly two weeks Town Hall detectives had been searching for Robert Schultz, 21 years old, 4014 Clarendon avenue, to question him about a charge of passing a bogus check for $97 on a north side tavernkeeper. Early today they arrested him as he returned home. He was found to be carrying a loaded .32 caliber pistol in a holster under his arm, and an extra clip of cartridges. Schultz, a former bellboy, said he bought the gun for another bellboy.

MAYOR APPOINTS DOUGLAS TO HEAD GARBAGE SURVEY

Mayor Kelly yesterday named a committee of three aldermen, headed by Paul H. Douglas [5th], to seek a solution to Chicago's garbage disposal problem.

Oscar E. Hewitt.

The appointments followed a council debate precipitated when Douglas protested what he termed overpayments in four contracts covering railroad loading stations. In all, seven contracts, including three for the use of private dumps, had been called up for passage by Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], finance committee chairman. They had been presented to the council by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works.

Douglas protested that payment to the Illinois Development corporation of 30½ to 31 cents a cubic yard for removing garbage, transporting it to loading stations, and having it hauled away on railroad cars was twice as much as it should be. Aldermen George D. Kells [28th] and Joseph Ross [40th] defended the contracts and paid tribute to Hewitt for his economies. At the mayor's suggestion the council voted to extend existing contracts for 60 days while Aldermen Douglas, Ross, and Arthur G. Lindell [9th] seek new ideas on garbage disposal.

CALLS VETO OF TAX PREJUDGING BLOW AT SMALL HOME OWNERS

State Senator Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago] asserted yesterday that the veto by Gov. Green of the tax preadjudication bill was striking a blow against small home owners in Cook county.

The bill was designed to give all taxpayers the benefits of court decisions holding tax levies illegal by having the levies adjudicated before the mailing of tax bills. At present only those taxpayers who pay their bills under protest are entitled to refunds, made several years after the taxes are paid, because of the litigation involved.

Gov. Green vetoed the bill after he had received an opinion from Attorney General George F. Barrett that it was unconstitutional. Two previous preadjudication acts were held illegal by the courts.

DEFENDS RADIO STATIONS OWNED BY NEWSPAPERS

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—A veteran newspaper executive told the communications commission today that radio broadcasting "is inherently a part of journalism and those connected with newspapers should be able to do the job better than any one else."

The witness, Marco Morrow, former assistant publisher of the Capper Publications, Kansas, appeared at a hearing which the commission called to determine its future policy on newspaper ownership of radio stations.

Thomas E. Harris, commission counsel, asked whether there was a possibility there would be an abuse of power when one man owned a city's only newspaper and its only radio station:

Morrow replied:

"The better service the newspaper could give the public if it owned the radio station more than offsets the possibility of abuse in a situation of that kind."

Prof. Mitchell V. Charnley of the University of Minnesota journalism school, said that generally speaking radio newscasters got their information from the same sources as newspapers.

McNary Says He Will Seek Re-election to Senate in '42

After the Honeymoon is over

Stop throwing tomatoes at your car, mister. And lady, remember, scowling gives you wrinkles. So both of you, let up and listen to simple common sense.

Just three months ago, after you bought that car and nursed it through the break-in period, you bragged to all your friends that it "runs like a watch . . . makes 16 miles on a gallon . . . licks cars twice its size and price getting away on the green light."

Now that the honeymoon period of your new car ownership is over, why let yourself get sour on a possession that should be, and can be, one of your most useful and pleasurable?

Tell your troubles to your car dealer. He's an honest, able business man, anxious to hold your good opinion. He may find the engine needs some minor adjustment, some squeaks require a squirt of oil, the brakes may take a little pumping-up.

Then fill the tank with a truly great July motor fuel, Phillips 66 Poly Gas. That's the gasoline motorists never tire of recommending. It is not only high anti-knock, high test, high energy . . . but it is more accurately matched to monthly changes in your weather.

Yes, sir! . . . yes, ma'm! it does things for your engine. You may find it makes your car run like new again. It delivers real pep and power . . . sweeter pick-up and easier hill-climbing. And mileage that's a real surprise.

Forget your "mad", and make up with your car, by stopping for a trial tankful of new Phillips 66 Poly Gas . . . at any Orange and Black 66 Shield. It costs nothing extra.

CHEMICAL SEEN POSSIBLE CURB FOR PARALYSIS

Suspect Water Is Medium of Transmission.

Treating ponds and pools with copper sulphate will be "an effort to do some good" in curbing infantile paralysis, Dr. Archibald L. Hoyne, chief of the Municipal and Cook county contagious diseases hospitals, said yesterday.

Water has long been suspected as the medium thru which infantile paralysis is transmitted, Dr. Hoyne said. "What causes the disease is uncertain," he added. "The old idea was that it came into the respiratory tract thru the nose into the nervous system. Now it is felt that it gains entrance thru the gastro-intestinal tract; it looks like spoiled food or water was at the bottom of it."

Chemical Is Inexpensive.

Copper sulphate, a blue salt obtainable in crystal or powder form, is a comparatively inexpensive chemical. A pound is sufficient for treatment of 1,350 cubic yards of water.

Five grains to the cubic yard of water should be used in swimming and reflecting pools, and one grain to the cubic yard in pools which contain aquatic life. Physicians said these quantities would be quite harmless, yet would eliminate contamination and therefore might be responsible for the death of paralysis germs.

A prediction that the slight epidemic which has attacked the western suburbs is losing its strength was made yesterday by Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health director.

Between June 20 and July 14 there were 15 acute cases in the county and one fatality, but since July 14 none has been reported, Dr. Piszczek said.

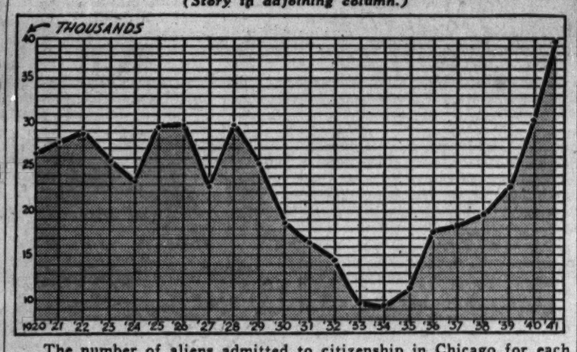
53 Cases in Illinois.

Since Jan. 1 53 cases have been reported in Illinois, as compared with 19 for the same period last year, according to Dr. Howard J. Shaughnessy of the state department of health. Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, said only one new case was reported in the city during June and two in July, with no deaths.

A $4,000 grant for experimental work has been promised Cook county by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Fifty monkeys recently were given the county for virus research work, which is being conducted by Dr. Shaughnessy. Pathological research work on the animals will follow under the direction of Dr. Sidney O. Levinson, director of the Samuel Deutsch serum center at Michael Reese hospital.

Aliens Admitted to Citizenship

(Story in adjoining column.)



The number of aliens admitted to citizenship in Chicago for each fiscal year ending June 30 since 1920. During the last year women outnumbered men in the list of new citizens.

39,785 NEW U. S. CITIZENS BREAK YEARLY RECORD

War Responsible; Women Outnumber Men.

The greatest number of persons naturalized in one year in Chicago were admitted to citizenship in the fiscal year ended June 30, Fred J. Schlotfeldt, district director of immigration and naturalization, announced yesterday. The 39,785 who took the oath in Federal District court exceeded last year's total of 30,293 by more than 30 per cent.

New restrictions placed upon aliens as a result of the war were in a large part responsible for the increase, Schlotfeldt said.

The annual report shows that the current rush for citizenship began almost a year ago when the alien registration law became effective. In August, 1940, a total of 10,028 persons applied for citizenship—the largest number of applications recorded in a month.

Decline in Recent Months.

Applications continued to run high thru the remainder of last year, but have declined in recent months. Last month there were only 2,238. However, there are approximately 26,000 persons in the Chicago district who are waiting to file their applications.

Alien registration last year resulted in the fingerprinting of nearly 400,000 persons in the Chicago district, which includes part of northern Illinois, Indiana, and southeastern Wisconsin. Of this number approximately 65,000 have applied for citizenship.

Total applications for the last fiscal year were 47,796. In 1940 they amounted to 36,944. Schlotfeldt predicted applications will be much fewer in 1942, since the majority of persons seeking citizenship will have been admitted.

Women Outnumber Men.

New women citizens outnumbered men 21,823 to 17,962. Women cling to their native lands more persistently than men, Schlotfeldt said, and the shifting of allegiance among them indicates a fundamental change in loyalty among Chicago's foreign born population.

The greatest number of new citizens came from Poland, with Germany, Italy, and the British empire close behind. Germans showed the greatest proportionate increase over last year—5,826 as against 4,340. Italians gained from 3,531 to 4,088. The increase from Poland was from 5,313 to 6,474. The total from British possessions last year amounted to 5,214.

Social Security Law Called 'Monstrosity' by Townsend

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the Townsend pension plan, assailed the social security law today as a "monstrosity" which should be discarded. He advocated substitution of a system which would levy a 2 per cent tax on all incomes over $3,000 a year, which he estimated would make possible $50 monthly pensions for all persons past 60 years of age. Dr. Townsend testified before a special senate committee investigating social security and pension legislation.

SUBPENA RECORD OF CLERKS' UNION ACCOUNT IN BANK

Continuing his investigation of the czaristic reign of Max Caldwell over local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, Assistant State's Attorney William B. Crawford obtained a subpena yesterday for records of an account of the union in the First National bank.

More evidence that Caldwell collected huge sums from part time workers in chain stores was presented before Daniel Covelli, a master in chancery. Covelli is taking testimony in a suit for accounting of an alleged $910,000 in funds collected by Caldwell. Stanley Evans, counsel for a rank and file group that revolted against Caldwell, said it was indicated initiation fees of workers for one chain store alone exceeded $75,000 in four years.

The international has filed suit in the Circuit court asking that the officers of its local 1397 in Oak Park, which voted to leave the parent body, be forced to surrender its records. Elmer Mirabella, business agent, recently told Crawford that Caldwell never had any hold on this union.

SEIZE GAMBLING EQUIPMENT ON MILWAUKEE SHIP

Milwaukee, Wis., July 24 [Special].—Gambling paraphernalia with which the luxury Lake Michigan ship Milwaukee Clipper was equipped was seized by Milwaukee police when the vessel docked here today. Warrants charging conspiracy to violate gambling laws were issued against the skipper Capt. Allen Hoxie, and four officials of the Wisconsin and Michigan Steamship line.

An attempt had been made by Muskegon, Mich., authorities to remove slot machines and other gambling equipment before the ship left that city but the ship sailed for Milwaukee with the officers still aboard.

When the vessel reached the center of Lake Michigan, the Muskegon officers said, porters took coins from the slot machines and carted the paraphernalia away from the room in which it had been. The machines had been unloaded from the ship and were being placed on trucks in a warehouse here when Milwaukee police seized them.

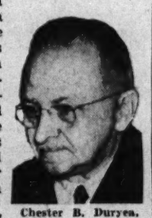
WIDOW OF GOONS' VICTIM CLAIMS $5,500 DAMAGES

Mrs. Bernice Gorczak, 4938 South Hermitage avenue, filed a $5,500 claim with the Illinois Industrial commission yesterday as a consequence of the bat slaying by labor goons of her husband, Anton, 34 years old, driver for a cleaning plant.

The claim is directed against Gorczak's employers, the Republic Cleaners and Dyers, 1823 South Cicero avenue, Cicero, and the Bituminous Casualty corporation, which handles its insurance. The claim asserts Mrs. Gorczak is entitled to assistance under the workmen's compensation act for herself and four children because her husband died of injuries received and arising out of the course of his employment.

CHESTER DURYEA, WHO SLEW FATHER, FREED; 27 YEARS IN ASYLUM

New York, July 24 (AP).—Chester B. Duryea, now 70 years old, and once described by a psychiatrist as a Rip Van Winkle who for 27 years tried to "fill in the islands of amnesia and confusion," was freed today of a charge that he killed his 80 year old Civil war hero father in the predawn of May 5, 1914.



Chester B. Duryea.

Duryea, son of a millionaire, Gen. Hiram Duryea of the famous "Duryea's Zouaves" in the Civil war and grandson of Frederick Vanderbilt Duryea who founded the starch industry, was not in court when the state wrote finis to one of New York's strangest crimes.

Duryea, whom police found standing over the bullet riddled body of his father babbling, "Angels told me to do it," was in a sanitarium at Amityville, N. Y., when his attorney applied for dismissal of the indictment. A year ago, after being confined for 25 years in Mattewan State hospital, Duryea was adjudged sufficiently sane to stand trial, but Judge George W. Martin dismissed the case.

Charles West Nomination Withdrawn by Roosevelt

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—President Roosevelt withdrew from the senate today the nomination of Charles West, former member of congress from Ohio, to be a member of a board of investigation and research under the 1940 transportation act. At the same time Mr. Roosevelt nominated Robert Webb of Mayfield, Ky., and C. E. Childe of Omaha, Neb., to membership on that board.

LIEUT. COSTELLO, POLICEMAN FOR 35 YEARS, IS RETIRED

Lieut. Harry M. Costello, in charge of the crime prevention bureau and the police censor board for the last 10 years, completed 35 years' service with the police department yesterday—his 63d birthday. Retirement at midnight was automatic.

Lieut. Costello.

Lieut. Costello joined the force in March, 1906, became a sergeant in 1925, and was advanced to his present rank in 1936. He had charge of 58 policewomen and 35 juvenile officers, and supervision over the city's 340 motion picture houses and all its theaters. Last year his division banned 40 magazines and censored 7 million feet of film.

At the Rogers Park station yesterday, 27 roses—one for each year of service—were presented to Policewoman Theresa Johnson. Mrs. Johnson will retire tomorrow, her 63d birthday.

THE TAFT PLAN.

Senator Taft's proposal that the army training period be extended to 16 months makes sense. Mr. Taft has heard the President, Gen. Marshall and others say that if the army has to send the young men home after only 12 months of training some difficult administrative problems will arise and, more especially, the country will lack a well trained force to meet any emergency which may arise.

Mr. Roosevelt proposes as the remedy for this situation a declaration of a national emergency by congress, which the President indicates he will regard as authorization for any warlike measures he may choose to invoke. Mr. Taft has the sagacity to know that prudent men do not sign blank checks.

Once again Mr. Taft is demonstrating that he, at least, did not leave his brains at the railroad station when he went to Washington. His old-fashioned common sense tells him that the way to strengthen the army is to strengthen the army. He takes Gen. Marshall's word for it that the 12 month term is too short and suggests an appropriate extension of the training period. The solution is a rational one and will certainly be accepted by the administration unless it is Mr. Roosevelt's purpose to prepare an expeditionary force. In that event, of course, he will need many millions of men and the vast majority of those now in the service must remain in uniform for the indefinite future.

Gen. Marshall has testified that many of the complaints which he has received against the President's proposal look as if they came from organized groups of German sympathizers. The impression which is gained from the mail received in this office is very different. Each day for a number of days we have received dozens of letters protesting against the unlimited extension of army service. Most of these letters come from the camps, and unless we are greatly mistaken, the men who wrote them are not chronic kickers and malcontents. We haven't printed the letters because we do not wish to encourage discontent and because we do not wish to get any of the young men who signed them into trouble. We mention these letters now only because those who are responsible for the safety of the country cannot afford to assume that an unlimited extension of army service will be received with enthusiasm by the rank and file. If it be true that the soldier has surrendered the right of the ordinary citizen to criticize his government, it is still true that congressmen would be making a great mistake to ignore the state of opinion in the army as of no consequence.

We venture the guess that Mr. Taft's proposal, if adopted, will not seriously affect the army's morale, particularly if special consideration is given to the older men. An unlimited enlistment may have undesirable consequences. The young men of America are willing to make reasonable sacrifices, but they and their families want to see the end of the business and there is no good reason why this desire should not be met. If Mr. Roosevelt really does not intend to send an expeditionary force to Europe he doesn't need an army of unlimited size. If Gen. Marshall will say that 18 months is preferable to 16 months, congress might specify 18 months but the principle of unlimited service should be avoided as unnecessary and destructive of morale.

PART OF THE AXIS IS SPRUNG.

Japan is thought to be poised for some new military adventure which may be a desperate one. It is supposed to be headed south toward Indo-China, Thailand, and the Dutch East Indies rather than into Siberia against the Russians. Things aren't going well with Japan. It is entering its fifth year of war in China without any successes which compensate for the sacrifices. There is neither prestige nor profit in the stalemate and at home the pinch grows harder every month. More would be risked, apparently, by a drive south than by taking on the Russian far eastern army, but also more would be gained by a success.

The balance has been turning against Japan in spite of the preoccupation of the Europeans. The navy, which had the advantage of dominance in its own waters, is threatened by air forces which escape the limitations of naval action conducted from distant bases. We do not know fully what has been done to increase American air power in the Philippines but the force has been augmented and the Japanese would feel very uneasy in attacking far to the south if they knew that American bombers were on the flank of their approach. We don't know what the American government would do and certainly the Japanese government does not. Distance isn't the same protection in the air as it is on the sea, and Japanese plane production could not keep pace with that of the countries it might antagonize.

Two of the pro-axis powers—to look for a bright spot wherever it can be found—are not in the best of circumstances. That much at least can be said of Japan, and Italy is virtually done for. All that keeps Italian Fascism on its feet is the Nazi force. Mussolini isn't even a good rhetorician any more. His army is broken, his territories are lost, and his empire is down around his head. Vichy is about as important in the axis scheme of things as is Rome, and altho Hitler for the time being must do some face-saving for Benito, the satellite position of the busted Fascist realm cannot be obscured.

Italy's condition illustrates, on the other hand, the inability of the British to attack on a European battlefield. Here is the ripe opportunity if there were the means of using it. Apparently no use whatever can be made of the great conflict in Russia to present the Nazis with what they have avoided thus far, a war on two fronts. They have been undisturbed from the beginning of the war in their pursuit of one objective at a time, and in attacking Russia their calculations have proved to be correct. They fight on one front at a time.

A COMMISSAR TELLS THE SENATE.

Leon Henderson of the Office of Price Administrator and Civilian Supply offered Senator Tom Connally a little bet. At a committee hearing Mr. Connally ventured the opinion that Mr. Henderson thought he was going to fix the price on refrigerators, but that he just thought he was. And there is where Mr. Henderson offered to "lay a little bet on that."

"You mean," Mr. Connally, the New Dealer, inquired of the other New Dealer, "that you're going to do it whether congress gives you authority or not?" "I've got the authority now," said Mr. Henderson.

Here turn to a neighboring column on this page for a picture of Mr. Roosevelt's deputy commissar who will lay a little bet with any member of congress that when he wants to fix a price he'll fix a price, and that he has all the authority he needs to do it. The camera has not done the deputy commissar any lack of justice. As he views the members of the senate committee, he is a gentleman who has escaped from the trammels of the checks and balances. He is facing the vestigial remnants of the representative system of government, and he is telling them and not asking them.

Mr. Henderson is boss in this assemblage and you can see that he knows he is. Many of the senators to whom he addressed his remarks can hardly complain of that, because they have supported all the doctrines which underlie the commissar's assertion of authority over American business. He is tough because he has been given the authority to be tough.

He seems to be a bit provoked by the presumption of the senators in questioning him about his authority, but at the same time to be prepared to indulge them within measure. He probably understands that there must be a pro-forma exercise of the legislative function and that for the present we can afford to tell these survivors of a defunct system of free government why they can't do anything and where they get off. One can see, however, that there will be a limit to his patience and that if exasperated he would clear the room.

The New Deal senators have asked for this and now they have got it. Unfortunately, so has the man whose business, livelihood, and future are dependent upon the man who is scowling at the senators. Mr. Henderson may be quite right. In putting congress in its place he is cocksure about it. He may be able to say to the man who wants materials for his business that he can't have them. He may be able to tell him what he can charge for the article he produces. He may be able to destroy that man who until recently thought he was a free citizen, or limit or regulate him.

Congress has given Mr. Roosevelt many powers which are to be exercised notwithstanding any other laws to the contrary. The executive's extraordinary authority, which he can delegate, gives him direct or indirect control of production. As Mr. Henderson has said, if he wants to bring a manufacturer into line he can cut off his material and his transportation. The camera luckily caught Mr. Henderson in the full enjoyment of explaining all this to senators, who can put up some coin to see whether he's right or they're right. The expression on the face of the deputy commissar would indicate that he is already pocketing the money of any senator who would like to say he is wrong and bet on it.

The priorities system in itself can be used to strangle an industry. Little business is facing a prospect of closing down because of inability to get war orders and inability to get materials for the production of the usual consumers' goods. The larger industries which have been producing goods of general use are told that they will reduce production, just as the consumer is told he must do without replacement or purchase of many things to which he has become accustomed.

The New Dealers anticipated that a war would put them in a commanding position in which the eight year drive for nationalization of finance, industry, commerce, and transportation would come to its final stage. Mr. Roosevelt's own declaration of an unlimited national emergency has been almost as good as a war. Congress is asked to ratify the executive declaration by its own proclamation.

Mr. Henderson will not be the only commissar who will make any congressman a little bet that he'll do what he wants to do.

Editorial of the Day

EXTENDING THE DRAFT TIME.

[Bucyrus, O., Telegraph-Forum.]

An unhealthy situation exists when the people of a free country no longer can trust their own government. Month after month the people of the United States are given reason after reason to lose faith in the one institution to which they have the right to look for the highest integrity and for protection against all things. When the New Deal government ordered compulsory military training last fall it was announced and agreed that those youths who were to be snatched from their normal lives in this and every other community and put into army camps would be there only one year.

At that time Germany was sending, almost daily, great waves of bombing planes over the English Isles. A summer just passed had found the German forces conquerors of several European countries. Winter came and England continued to stand. Now, months later, England is stronger than it was a year ago and the war theater has shifted to the far reaches of Russia, where the German war machine stands to lose heavily, whatever the outcome in the land in communism.

The situation last year and this year differs as far as we are concerned only in what our own President has done, and done underhandedly. His occupation of Iceland outside of our hemisphere; his removal of hemispherical limits and his permitting those of his inner circle to urge immediate entry into the war by sending our navy into the Atlantic constitute the only changes in the status of this country in Europe's war.

The people should not overlook, nor forget, that the reasons being assigned for extending the time limit for our new soldiers to remain in camp are reasons created by the Roosevelt government and not by any foreign enemy.

Science announces that a more reasonably expensive, altho still most complicated, way has been found to extract gold from sea water. If there is still enough around for the dentists, it would seem to the layman that there is not a whole lot of difference between down in the drink and down in that hole.—Washington Star.

MEET MME. POLYHYMNIA.

The Theodore Thomas memorial in Grant park, which was recently moved from its familiar site opposite Orchestra hall to the peristyle at the foot of Randolph street, requires, we think, further identification. As the heroic figure of a woman in classic robes, about to smite a lyre, we intend to call this statue Polyhymnia, the muse of stately and reverent song. If she had any influence over modern life, her domain would probably include orchestral music.

Most of the ancient Greek muses had some authority over the art of music, which in the Hellenic mind was an integral part of poetry and the drama. Perhaps the sculptor had some other muse in mind, or perhaps he side stepped the Greeks altogether and thought of his bronze lady as the spirit of music in its lofty moods. Anyway, to us she is Polyhymnia.

Here is a catalog of the nine muses for ready reference:

Calliope [regarded as the noblest], epic song, carries a wax tablet and pencil; Clio, history, carries a scroll; Euterpe, lyric song, carries a double flute; Thalia, comedy and bucolic poetry, bears a comic mask, ivy wreath, and shepherd's staff; Melpomene, tragedy, bears a tragic mask, ivy wreath, and occasionally other symbols; Terpsichore, dancing, bears a lyre; Erato, the poetry of love, bears a smaller lyre; Polyhymnia, serious, sacred songs, usually represented as veiled; Urania, astronomy, bears a celestial globe.

Our Polyhymnia's new site is a great improvement on the old, altho her pedestal stands in a basin intended for water from an extinct fountain. The rear of the pedestal has been inscribed, "Erected by the trustees of the B. F. Ferguson monument fund, 1923. Re-erected, 1941. Albin Polasek, sculptor." The front is, as yet, uninscribed.

Dotty, the Wisecrack Child.

See Frank Case's "Tales of a Wayward Inn," page 63, regarding the alleged wisecracks of Dorothy Parker:

"A young girl named Dorothy Parker was frequently at the Round Table [Algonquin hotel, New York], where she would simply sit, now and then saying something at which the others would laugh and that was the end of it. Who was to know that these remarks of Dotty's would prove an influence . . . that was to dress and fashion the conversation of a whole nation?"

Then see the American Freeman, in which a contributor says:

"I think that Dorothy Parker must be a good friend of a lot of critics. She's still coasting on one or two bright remarks made in her early days."

The most famous Parkerism is undoubtedly Dorothy's own. It's the couplet, "Men never make passes at girls who wear glasses."

Rivals of Bunn the Baker.

The item concerning Bunn the Baker of Baraboo [July 22] recalled two other immortals of the B. L. T. period—Puls and Puls, dentists of Sheboygan, Wis. They are going strong. Drs. George and Fred were young men when their firm name caught the eye of a Line contributor. They are just beyond middle age now, and still in practice in the old home town. If their name is given its correct pronunciation—more like "pulse" than "pulls"—the old joke is lost.

GOOD-BY TO DUKE.

We always said, "Well, get your leash,"
And started joyfully away;
Somehow we couldn't tell him that
On this, our parting day.
So silently we gathered up
The bowl, the leash, the mouse,
And, lingering, we pictured him
In each part of the house.

And when, out there, we talked of things,
His eyes were pleading so,
And my heart heard the words he cried,
"O, please, now can't we go?"
With brimming eyes and trembling lips
We said a last good-by,
But, walking in the lonely night,
We heard one anguished cry.

Built by contributions obtained from citizens, over a period of ten years, by the regiment's colonel, Edward B. Knox, and other officers. Corner stone laid on April 10, 1890. Col. Knox died the night before the dedication from after-effects of a Civil war skull wound. He had been a member of the Ellsworth Zouaves. The regimental chaplain at the time was the Rev. Hiram W. DESTROY RATS—BANISH INFECTIOUS JAUNDICE.

THERE are many reasons why we should banish rats. Not only are they vermin of the most pestiferous type but they are destroyers of food and of health. They are largely responsible for one malady in particular—namely, Weil's disease, and it is far more prevalent than we realize. In many instances, however, we fail to recognize its true nature, assuming that it is a liver disturbance, characterized by yellowing of the skin.

Only 25 years have elapsed since the cause of the ailment was first discovered. By means of a powerful microscope and special lighting, the minute corkscrewlike animals so likely to inhabit the circulation of rodents may be seen. During the first week of the disease, these Leptospira icterohaemorrhagiae—appearing as tightly coiled worms—circulate in the blood stream.

How do human beings acquire this disorder? The parasite is found in the excreta [including urine] of 10 per cent of our common adult gray rats. Dogs, field mice, cats, and pigs likewise may become infected and thus act as spreaders. When rodents seek nourishment, they deposit their excretions wherever they feed. Thus a table top from which food is served may become polluted and, unless it is scrubbed thoroly, the organisms may be ingested at mealtime.

This explains why rats must be excluded from kitchens, pantries, bakeries, and all places where edibles are prepared or sold. The parasites have the power to pass thru abrasions on the skin, hence any one working about contaminated premises may come into contact with live spirilli.

Symptoms usually make their appearance within five to seven days after contact. A violent headache and chilly sensations may merge quickly into prostration. Muscular pains are observed in the calves of the legs and the back, while even the eyeballs may be affected. The victim evinces a dislike for food, and nausea and vomiting may be pronounced. Now and then abdominal distress may be so great as to simulate appendicitis. The temperature is high, cold sores may appear about the lips, and the eyes may become congested.

As a rule, about the fifth or sixth day the fever decreases, whereupon jaundice comes on. Altho every case will not follow this exact pattern, the appearance of bile in the skin is a sign that the patient is severely ill. The discoloration increases and some involvement of the kidneys may become apparent.

As we would expect, the temperature rises again, the pulse increases, and the sufferer gives evidence of being badly poisoned. Every effort must be made to save the kidneys as their behavior may determine the outcome.

About the end of the second week, however, improvement begins. Jaundice fades, the urine becomes normal, and the patient may request something to eat. Convalescence often requires a month, and there is always a possibility of a relapse, altho such episodes are not severe.

The earlier the illness can be identified, the more certain will we be of a quick recovery, as the correct type of attack can then be directed against the invaders. The employment of bismuth preparations, administered directly into a vein, is often helpful. None of the new sulfanilamide drugs is of benefit. The most useful plan is to administer serum from a patient who has recovered. If a case occurs in your community, search for some one who has recovered, as a small quantity of his blood serum may prove life saving.

Let us push the campaign of rat extermination. We can all play the Pied Piper on our own premises.

BAREFOOT GIRL.

Mrs. J. E. writes: My two year old daughter loves to run around barefoot in the back yard. Is this harmful to her little feet?

REPLY.

Not at all. An excellent exercise. It may be well to use sandals, however, and thus avoid cuts, scratches, or bruises.

MILK AND FRUIT.

S. S. writes: Is it undesirable to feed milk after giving fresh fruit, such as apple sauce and bananas?

REPLY.

There is no reason why milk or cream cannot be used with or after fruit. Bananas or baked apples with cream are delicious.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 24.

1. The number of square yards in one square rod is 27½ 30¼ 36 42¾.
2. If you were being instructed regarding proper stance, you would probably be taking lessons in Swimming Horsemanship Yachting Golf.
3. A person who handled cadavers would probably be working in a Fruit Store Munitions Plant Coal Mine Morgue.
4. Which one of these berries usually ripens last? Blackberry Strawberry Raspberry Cranberry.
5. You should expect to find an ocarina in a Grocery Haberdashery Music Store Fish Market.
6. In the left hand column below are listed some officers of the United States army. In the right hand column are the various units which normally come under their jurisdiction. You are entitled to one point for each correct matching.

[a] General	[v] Platoon
[b] Colonel	[w] All military units
[c] Major	[x] Company, troop, or battery
[d] Captain	[y] Battalion
[e] Lieutenant.	[z] Regiment

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

VOICES FROM THE MIDWEST.

Faribault, Minn., July 22.—Let us express our praise for your courageous American stand on this issue of war. We feel that it is a patriotic duty both for the preservation of democratic ideals at home and the cause of peace abroad that we remain free from this European armed conflict. It is comforting to have your leadership. ARTHUR DANDELET.

Davenport, Ia., July 22.—We people from this good city area want no part of Europe's wars. We all think your poll was a fine thing. If we must fight Hitler let us all pitch in and do it right here in America, so every one can see real warfare.

Please, Mr. Editor, do all in your power to help keep us real honest Americans from those battles of Europe.

100 PER CENT BORN AND RAISED AMERICANS.

Stacyville, Ia., July 22.—Thanks for the recent poll. Your paper is doing a wonderful job for our country. Keep it up and may God be with you in your effort to keep us out of war.

A. J. HEIMERMAN.

Rhinelander, Wis., July 23.—In our America we are all privileged to express our opinion. My opinion is that all true Americans must let their senators and President know that we want to save our own country and not the free [?] people of India and other possessions for England. M. M.

Chicago, July 22.—The people who have been bundling for Britain have been sending soap to England, as that country was so short of fats, I was told.

Yesterday I picked up a magazine published in New York and read an advertisment of superfatted soap made in England.

Let's keep our soap at home.

C. W. B.

WE'RE ALL AMERICANS.

Wynne, Ark., July 23.—There should be a good neighbor policy between north and south. There seems still to exist a feeling of bitterness between the north and south ever since the war ended between the states.

While in Alexandria, La., last summer I had the pleasure of having a Tribune reporter spend the night with me. Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan National Guards were arriving in Alexandria by the trainloads, and my reporter friend was down there to cover the arrivals. To my amazement he was a jolly good fellow, and we became good friends.

Altho I am a southerner I spent a year in Wisconsin at one of your colleges, and it was one of the happiest years of my life. I found the northern people as friendly as any southerner.

In America we may have different styles of living and speaking, but we are all Americans. R. L. DECASTRO.

FINDS DESCRIPTION CORRECT.

Chicago, July 23.—You are correct; Homer's description of Thersites certainly fits Ickes, especially the last two lines:

Spleen to mankind his envious heart possess'd
And much he hated all, but most the best.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.

LET'S BULLETIN OUR HATES.

Chicago, July 23.—I always thought I was a No. 1 American, but things change so fast I can't keep up on knowing whom to hate and whom to love. Our President says:

1. Czech—Hate Polish, hate Germans; love Czechs.
2. Poland—Hate Germans, hate Russians; love Poles, love French, love English.
3. Finland—Hate Russians; love Finns.
4. Lowlands—Hate Germans; love Dutch and Belgians.
5. Lowlands surrender—Hate Germans; also starve these people.
6. Italy—Hate Italians and Germans; love French and English.
7. Dunkirk—Hate French and Germans, hate Italians; love English.
8. Greece—Hate Italians and Germans; love Greeks.
9. Syria—Hate French; love English.
10. Russia—Hate Finns, hate Rumanians and Germans; love Reds.
11. China—Hate Japan; love China.

I would suggest that Roosevelt post daily notices on whom we are to hate. We might forget and hate the wrong one and that ain't religion. E. C. D.

RAZOR BLADES; FORGOTTEN?

Chicago, July 23.—Henderson, the price fixer, warns us against waste, and yesterday said we should save paper, presumably for the use of England, where from want of it the press may even cease to exist.

But so far he seems to have overlooked razor blades. Every man and woman, too, should use one blade where two were used before. Some 600,000,000 [?] are thrown away each year. They might be carefully gathered at police stations or in kegs placed at street corners like those in State street where peach stones were gathered during the first World war. So we might get from them enough metal to replace that ultra-modern submarine 9 that took such an unfortunate dive recently, but happily with none of the President's sons aboard; or for hand grenades for the Little Flower's home defenders against the day when the streets of New York are invaded. W. P. M.

WHY NOT TELL THE PEOPLE?

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—I listened today to the President's address on our imminent peril. If there were any real danger from without, and he knew it, then it was his duty to tell the people of this country, and if he spoke the truth I vouch that not one of the draftees would want to leave; on the contrary, the people of this country would be, to a man, with him. W. G.

PAID FOR TIME THEY TEACH.

Chicago, July 22.—In a recent issue, one Conrad Bringmann, concluded a letter as follows: "Talk about the CIO and a 40 hour week! Our schoolteachers make them look like pikers with their 35 hour week, three months' summer vacation, spring vacations, holidays with pay, etc."

The fact is that teachers get paid for the time they teach, and their salaries are still cut 7½ per cent. They do not get paid for the summer months [two, not three], nor do they get paid for Christmas or spring layoffs. When Mr. Bringmann and others realize that these are layoffs and not vacations, the grass may not look so green on the teaching side of the fence.

The summer layoff is far enough along now so that if Mr. Bringmann knows some one with two or three kids he'll find that that some one is itching for schools to open to get those kids out from under foot during the day. The teacher has 40 or 50 kids to cope with all day, and work to do outside of schooltime in addition to the "35 hour week."

It has become a truism that the teacher is the school. If the parent does not respect the teacher, he won't respect the school or the school system. The Association of Chicago Teachers believes that a misapprehension such as Mr. Bringmann's impairs the relations between parents and teachers and urges THE TRIBUNE to publicize the fact that teachers get paid for the time they teach, and for that time only.

GEORGE E. MAHIN,
Executive Secretary, Association of Chicago Teachers.

EASEMENT ROAD.

Chicago, July 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the owner of a summer cottage situated upon land rented from one Conrad Bringmann, concluded a letter as follows: "Talk about the CIO and a 40 hour week! Our schoolteachers make them look like pikers with their 35 hour week, three months' summer vacation, spring vacations, holidays with pay, etc."

The fact is that teachers get paid for the time they teach, and their salaries are still cut 7½ per cent. GEORGE E. MAHIN,

Chicago, July 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the owner of a summer cottage situated upon land rented from X. The only access I have to my cottage is over an easement road granted to the cottage owner next door to me. This easement was granted him in 1931, quite a few years after he purchased the land. In order to reach his land we use a road on the edge of property belonging to Y. Y. purchased the property this year and is attempting to collect a rental for going over his land. We have used the road for more than 25 years and have never paid any rental. Can he legally do this?

R. W.

It seems probable that you have acquired an easement which he cannot terminate.

DIRKSEN URGES CHICAGO SHARE CAPITAL BUREAUS

Spreading Out Would Aid Efficiency, He Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The decentralization of federal agencies would benefit the government and other sections of the country, decreasing congestion in the capital and adding to the efficiency of federal employés, Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] told the house buildings and grounds committee today.

He testified in support of a pending resolution providing that, in view of the congestion in the District of Columbia since the start of the rearmament program, the President be requested and authorized to transfer federal departments and bureaus to Chicago and other places in the middle west.

Confusion in Capital.

The federal pay roll in the capital, Dirksen said, is larger now than when the armistice was signed in 1918 and when the world war employment was at its peak. The result of these conditions is confusion in the District of Columbia, congestion, inadequate housing facilities, high rents, inefficient service, and a wholly unbalanced expenditure of public funds in one section of the nation.

"Many agencies," he said, "and particularly those of a nondefense nature such as the Interstate Commerce commission, Federal Trade commission, Home Owners Loan corporation, Department of Agriculture, Bituminous Coal commission and many others, could be removed to other sections of the country with profit to themselves, to the nation's capital, and greater equity to the taxpayers in other localities.

Lower Rentals in Chicago.

"In Chicago, for example, 5½ million square feet of office space is available at annual rentals well below the average now being paid in the District of Columbia. There are 55 commercial office buildings in downtown Chicago on which no taxes have been paid for five years.

"The removal of federal agencies to other large centers will enable bondholders and taxpayers in these localities to derive some benefit from present defense expenditures and will enable many commercial buildings now only partially occupied to pay taxes and realize a return on the investment to thousands of American citizens who are now holding worthless securities which have been issued against these properties. The time has come to diffuse some of the benefits of defense spending."

REPORT MURDER CHARGE VOTED IN ABORTION DEATH

A true bill charging Dr. Nathaniel H. Schaffner, 53 years old, with murder by attempted abortion in connection with the death July 7 of Mrs. Emma Laisure in the physician's office at 4009 Lincoln avenue, was reported voted yesterday by the grand jury.

Dr. Nathaniel H. Schaffner.

Earlier in the day Dr. Schaffner surrendered before Chief Justice James F. Fardy, who set bond of $5,000. Mrs. Laisure, 27 years old, lived at 6144 North Hoyne avenue. Her husband, Earl, told a coroner's jury he and his wife had visited the physician's office to have the abortion performed. This was denied by Dr. Schaffner. His attorney, Sol R. Friedman, said he would show that the woman died from natural causes.

TEMPERATURE 92, BUT SNOWBALLS AGITATE POLICE

The thermometer at the door of the Gary central police station stood at 92 yesterday afternoon and Desk Sergeant Frank Olsen was fanning himself drowsily when a telephone call aroused him.

"Please send some policemen down to 444 Connecticut street and make some boys quit snowballing automobiles," the caller said.

"O. K.," replied the sergeant. Then he realized that it was July 24 and he was in Gary. "Hey—"

It was too late to inquire further, so he sent out a squad. The story was factual. The boys were making their missiles of snow and ice dumped in an alley after an ice cream company had had a house cleaning.

MONEY EXCHANGE REGULATION BILL VETOED BY GREEN

Kills Firemen's Aid in Small Cities.

Green on Vacation

Gov. Dwight H. Green left Chicago yesterday by plane for Ogunquit, Me., where he will remain on vacation until the latter part of August. Mrs. Green and the governor's children, Nancy, 13 years old, and Gloria, 10, left for the Maine summer resort a week ago. He arrived at Boston, Mass., at 1 p. m. and will motor to Ogunquit.

Springfield, Ill., July 24 (AP).—Gov. Dwight Green today vetoed a bill which would have transferred the licensing and regulation of small loan business from the jurisdiction of the state insurance division to the state auditor's office, and appropriating $100,000 for administration purposes.

Five additional vetoes, which raised the governor's record for the recent legislative session to 81, included cancellation of a measure to regulate currency exchanges.

Firemen's Benefit Vetoed.

Also killed was the firemen's annuity and benefit fund measure for cities between 10,000 and 200,000 population, sponsored by Senator A. P. Benson [R., Batavia].

Other bills vetoed today were the Searcy-Ryan bill to establish maximum and minimum salaries for state jobs, and the proposal of Representative Arthur W. Sprague [R., La Grange] to exempt out-of-state insurance companies which had been doing business in Illinois for 10 years or more from provisions of the insurance code which might terminate their businesses.

The governor declared regulation of small loan businesses could be accomplished "at practically no cost to the state" thru the small loans division of the department of insurance.

The message said "it is difficult from reading of the law to determine what activities and businesses are covered by the act."

The governor said the bill regulating currency exchanges "as drawn would eliminate that business, with a resulting inconvenience to thousands of people employed in industry."

Pegged Levy Bill Unsigned.

With reference to his veto of the firemen's pension bill, the governor called attention to tax levies of 4-5 mill provided for 1941 and 1942 for all cities coming within the jurisdiction of the act, and an increase in firemen's contributions from 4 to 5 per cent to a new rate of 6 per cent.

The Cook county pegged tax levy bill, authorizing a levy of $9,300,000 for 1942 and $8,000,000 in each odd-numbered year thereafter, was slated to become law without signature, as was the Chicago sanitary district tax levy bill allowing a 6,400,000 annual levy for 1942 and 1943. Eighteen other bills were unsigned.

STEAL RINGS VALUED AT $300.

Ralph Snyder, a city electrician, notified police last night that burglars broke into his home at 7264 Constance avenue and stole two rings valued at $300.

KIDNAP FOUNDER OF THE ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION

SYDNEY, Australia, July 24.—Sydney university students tonight kidnaped Sir John Evelyn Wrench, founder of the English Speaking Union, from his hotel and left him at a crematorium, eight miles away.

While thousands listened to a recorded broadcast by Wrench on Australia in the postwar era, the students posing as officials of the Australian Broadcasting commission lured him to an automobile on the pretext that he was required to deliver his talk personally. They took him to the crematorium, and disappeared.

Yesterday Wrench visited the university for a lunch hour address and, finding an audience of only 15 persons, declined to speak. His projected lecture clashed with a phonograph rendition of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, which attracted more than 200 students.

Caucus Approves Removal of Chairman Tomorrow.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24 [Special].—Determined to oust Arch N. Bobbitt of English, Ind., as chairman of the Republican state committee when the committeemen meet here tomorrow, two previously opposing factions tonight perfected a coalition and pledged to go thru with the abdication demand. Bobbitt refused to resign and declined to approve the committee meeting call. However, a majority of committee members, after a secret caucus, voted to meet tomorrow and to give Bobbitt the ax.

Arch N. Bobbitt.

Late tonight John H. Bookwalter, treasurer of the committee, resigned. The reason was not revealed.

The chairmanship will be offered to Ewing R. Emison of Vincennes, 7th district member and oldest member in point of service. He is expected to decline in favor of Ralph F. Gates of Columbia City, 4th district chairman. Emison and Gates are the two faction leaders.

Bobbitt a Watson Man.

Differences have resulted in prolonged turmoil in Indiana Republican circles. The Gates group, in 1937, obtained enough committee votes to remove Don B. Irwin of Frankfort as state chairman. Thereupon Bobbitt was elected at instigation of James E. Watson, former senator and long the dominant Republican leader.

Watson came here today from Washington, but said he was here on personal business. He has not been in the saddle in Indiana since the party nominated Raymond E. Willis, Angola editor, for senator in 1938 to run against Frederick Van Nuys, and then repeated the nomination in 1940 when Willis defeated New Dealer Sherman Minton for the other senate seat. Watson was defeated by Van Nuys in 1932.

Only two weeks ago the state committee, at instigation of a Bobbitt friend, voted approval of his party leadership in the state legislature last winter. There, for the first time since 1932, Republicans controled both houses. They voted repeal of the 1933 state government reorganization act, which had been passed by the Democratic legislature as soon as Paul V. McNutt became governor.

Old System Sought.

That act tore up Indiana's previous governmental system and vested unprecedented power in the governor. The 1941 Republican legislation attempted to return to the pre-1933 arrangement, in many cases reviving three-man executive boards.

Since Gov. Henry F. Schricker was the only Democrat to be elected to Indiana state office last November he was outvoted invariably on these three-man boards by the other two state executives, who in every combination were Republicans. Schricker contested the 1941 repealer in the courts and the State Supreme court June 26 finally declared the 1941 legislation unconstitutional. In doing this, the four Democrats on the five-man State Supreme court put sole state patronage power in the hands of Schricker. These judges were elected under McNutt faction sponsorship.

Schricker has begun doling out patronage by ousting McNutt appointees and has made an alliance with Senator Van Nuys, who is frequently anti-Roosevelt and who was opposed by the McNutt group.

BOOKLET TELLS HOW TO PREPARE FOOD FOR CROWD

Answers Many Problems of Large Picnics.

Planning a picnic or an outing for your club? It is a big job, isn't it—figuring out just what to buy and how much for a mob of hungry people?

But you'll find the answer to many of your problems in Mary Meade's new booklet, "Food for a Crowd." It tells you just how much of various items to buy and how much to allow per serving. It gives you many of the most often requested large quantity recipes, all scaled to serve 50 persons. It gives you menus for suppers, lunches, and dinners to serve a crowd.

Where to Buy It.

"Food for a Crowd" can be purchased at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the Tribune Tower lobby for 5 cents; or send 7 cents in stamps to Miss Meade to get it by mail.

If the planning of a small family sized picnic is your worry, see the many clever menu and recipe suggestions in "Let's Have a Picnic," 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents.

Mr. J. M. Michaels
General Passenger Agent
Chicago North Shore & Milwaukee R.R.
Chicago
Dear Mr. Michaels:
I want to thank you and your admirable line for the easing of my travel burdens.
Every Thursday, for five successive weeks, I have had to run up to Milwaukee for my appearances at the Pabst Theatre and get back to Chicago the same night. This has been made delightfully easy thanks to the new service offered by your beautiful Electroliners.
From the name "Electroliner" is a promise of a new and interesting sort of travel.
The trip to Milwaukee has been transformed from an ordinary train journey into a luxurious hour and three quarters in the club-like atmosphere of your lounge car with its amusing decorations, its cozy divans and its alluring bar and grill.
For smoothness of operation, smartness of service and real comfort commend me to the Electroliners of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad. Would that there were trains like yours on all the other lines over which I make my annual tours in our United States.
With thanks and best wishes
Sincerely yours

You, too, will thrill to smooth, luxurious, air-cooled Electroliner riding!

Low cost food and refreshments in beautifully-appointed Tavern-Lounge cars. Low coach fares. No seat charges. No extra costs on the new Electroliners.

Wash Everything With Rayon-Safe Super Suds Alone!

Rayon Experts O. K. this Go-Gettin' Washday Soap! Does Everything from Dirty Shirts to Dainty Rayons!

1/3 MORE SUDS WITH SUPER SUDS SURE GETS FAMILY CLOTHES WHITE, BRIGHT AND SWEET-SMELLING...
...AND SINCE SUPER SUDS IS RAYON-SAFE, IT'S SHEER WASTE TO BUY AN EXTRA SOAP FOR PRETTY RAYONS!
Super Suds
CONCENTRATED
Super Suds
for WASHING CLOTHES AND DISHES

Women by Thousands Switching to Rayon-Safe Super Suds Because it Makes Washings Quicker, Easier, Cheaper!

NOW, LET ONE WASHDAY SOAP do the work of two! Try Rayon-Safe Super Suds! It's a go-gettin' washday soap for everything from grimy shirts to dainty rayons and smart cottons.

⅓ MORE SUDS THAN THE AVERAGE OF 8 POPULAR SOAPS TESTED. And Super Suds gives you big, rich, dirt-tackling suds that get the family wash shades whiter and brighter without scrubbing and boiling like mad. You'll cheer the way these bountiful suds wash dainty rayons, smart cottons with safety. And that safety is mighty important, because today there's rayon in nearly everything.

AMERICA'S LEADING RAYON EXPERTS, the Better Fabrics Testing Bureau and the United States Testing Co. have hundreds of tests on record proving Super Suds is Rayon-Safe! It's safe for washable colors, too—yes, any color that's washable is safe in Super Suds.

A WHIZ IN YOUR DISHPAN—wonderful, grease-cutting suds that leave dishes and glassware sparkling! And Rayon-Safe Super Suds is so kind to hands, helps avoid that red, rough "dishpan" look.

GET THE BIG BLUE BOX OF SUPER SUDS today and discover this washday miracle yourself! It's Rayon-Safe!

HERE'S HOW RAYON EXPERTS SAY TO WASH DAINTY RAYONS.

1. Test a small patch in plain water for color-fastness. If color runs, it's not washable.
2. Wash rayons separately by hand in lukewarm suds. Pour warm water over Super Suds. Add cold water to get lukewarm suds.
3. Do not soak rayons. Wash quickly and gently. Do not rub, wring or twist.
4. Rinse thoroughly, gently, in clean, lukewarm water. Roll in towel, but don't leave there.
5. Use a moderate iron.

Quick for Dishes... Easy on Hands... Less Sneezy Dust Than Any Leading Package Soap

1/2 PRICE SALE TODAY ON SUPER SUDS! Buy one large package of Super Suds at regular price and take home a second large package for only half price. At all stores.

MURDER.

Katheleen put the phone back in its cradle with shaking fingers. Now Toby, looking extremely owlish with ruffled hair, sleepy eyes behind his thick lenses and shaggy dressing gown stood beside Susan.

"What's wrong, Kathleen?"

"Some accident. Maybe a falling tree branch. A car. Maybe lightning. Jeanie and Hugo never got home. I'm going to get dressed and go looking for them—"

"Right, I'll go with you."

Susan sighed heavily. She couldn't rouse herself out of sleep like these two youngsters and start the day in the middle of the night. But she knew her duty.

"I'll get some coffee and hot cakes while you get ready. You can't go walking the woods on empty stomachs."

"Walking the woods?" said Toby. "All we have to do is retrace their route from here to the hotel."

"If that's where they went," she retorted. "But if so, why has nobody found them?"

The heavy rain had ceased, but the road up to the hotel and the paths up thru the pines were still running with thick yellow water. Taking Kathleen's electric torch from the car, she and Toby walked together along the lake path and from there they searched the paths to the cabins and the motor drive to the hotel. After that the cabins themselves, knocking at the occupied ones and entering the empty ones.

Maurice Reed came out of his drowsy with sleep. He was annoyed by the disturbance. "What's going on out here?"

Kathleen explained to him. She understood murder at that moment. She could have killed him for the cynical look of understanding on his face. He did not put his obvious thought into words.

"Well, I hope they're not hurt. You must excuse me. I have an important engagement later in the morning so I'm going back to bed."

They went on up behind the cabins into the woods, picking their way along the dangerously slippery paths with the beam of the torch.

"Jeanie had something on her mind she wanted to discuss with Hugo, so they may have gone up here."

"In that heavy rain, Kathleen?"

"Well, they must have gone somewhere. They couldn't vanish off the earth."

She felt hopeless and dismayed but she did not tell Toby. He followed where she led, catching her when she slipped and helping her over the rough places. It was full daylight when they came upon a couple of bored unwilling police who were evidently of the same mind as Maurice Reed and resented Mrs. Payson's insistence on getting everybody out of bed.

They had come up in a radio car as far as they could get up the muddy track and the driver was now returning.

"You go with him and rest at home," Toby said to Kathleen. "I'll stay up here and help."

"I don't want to," she said.

"Please, Kathleen—"

She went and was glad she did. They found Jeanie alone a few hours later, her face black and distorted, the little red belt from her slacks knotted viciously round her neck.

Toby went back to Lakes End at once to tell Kathleen. She was watching from her bedroom window when he appeared on the lake path running with the great strides of his long thin legs. She ran down the stairs to meet him as he approached the veranda steps to enter the house.

She halted with a jerk and pressed her two hands over her heart.

"They've been killed! I can see it in your face."

Toby collapsed on a deck chair panting. Sweat from his forehead was running down his face. Kathleen went and stood over him.

"Toby tell me. Anything's better than not knowing."

He took off his his glasses to wipe the sweat off them and she saw tears swim in his eyes. Toby crying! Her heart contracted as if a cruel hand squeezed it. She took him by the shoulder and shook him violently.

"Toby, they're killed. Tell me at once."

He shook his head, put his glasses back and turned away from her gaze.

"Kathleen dear, get ready. It's something worse than that."

Her mouth shook and her voice croaked in her throat.

"There isn't anything worse."

Toby reached for one of her hands and gripped it tightly in his own, but was still unable to meet her eyes.

"They've found Jeanie's body. Murdered. And they're looking for Hugo to arrest him for it. They say he did it because he's disappeared."

"O-O—n-o—"

"I'm sorry Kathleen—"

She dropped on her knees beside him clinging to his hand.

"But it must be some accident."

"It's real murder, Kathleen, whoever did it. Jeanie was strangled with her own belt knotted round her neck."

Kathleen burst into tears now.

"O, my God. Poor—poor little Jeanie—and her poor mother—"

Toby straightened himself up. "Listen, Kathleen, that woman's up there now carrying on to the police. She's blaming you for everything!"

The beginning of hysteria was arrested by this shock.

"Has the world gone mad, Toby? Blaming me?"

"Yes. She told them you said Jeanie came last night and begged Hugo to leave here. That she was distressed—crying. She says he must have been having a secret affair with Jeanie and he's killed her to get rid of her—"

"What delirious fantasy!"

"We know that, Kathleen. But it looks bad, doesn't it?"

"It looks terrible—terrible!" She pulled Toby's head round and looked in his eyes. "You don't think Hugo did it?"

"Kathleen! That swell fellow murder a little girl? I should say not. What do you think of me?"

She passed her hand over her head. "Thank you Toby—thank you. But what did happen? And where is Hugo?"

Toby's eyes closed behind their thick lenses and his young face aged with a look of suffering.

"They're still searching, Kathleen. I'm afraid—I mean—"

"Go on Toby. I can take it."

"Well, I'm afraid they're going to find him—the same way as Jeanie. Done by the same people."

Kathleen gave a little choked cry.

"Sorry Kathie, but what else is there?"

"I don't know. O, God, I don't know. They must have been attacked by hoodlums in the woods. Wasn't there mud up there? Wasn't it full of footmarks?"

"No. All pine needles. They were examining the ground when I left, but Inspector Banks said how strange it was there were no signs of struggle. As if—as if—"

"I know Toby. As if the murderer were not a stranger to her."

"Yes. Or as if her body were carried there. You know Kathleen, it's strange about Hugo. He wouldn't be up there with her. Why should he go way up the mountain side? What she had to say could be said anywhere—"

Susan came out on the veranda, her eyes protruding.

"Miss Kathleen, there are two policemen here. They say they have orders to search the house."

"Search my house? Whatever for?"

"For Hugo, Kathleen," said Toby. "Don't get on your dignity. They have to do their job. Get them on our side. Be nice to them."

"Thanks again, Toby." Kathleen got up from the floor, put up her hands and smoothed her hair. "I'll go to them, Susan."

She showed the two men thru the house with cool composure, watching them look into closets and push her dresses aside, get down on the floor to look under beds and sofas. It was unreal and ridiculous. Not something that was happening to her.

Lightning Fires 27,000 Barrel Tank of Crude Oil

Marshall, Ill., July 24 (AP).—A tank containing 27,000 barrels of crude oil was destroyed by fire after the tank was struck by lightning today at the Illinois Pipeline company's station near Martinsville. The oil still was burning seven hours later but it had not spread to other tanks. No one was injured.

RIPE, RED, JUICY AND CHEAP, TOO: WATERMELONS!

Also—Season for Sweet Corn Is Here.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Watermelon—red-meated and juicy—and tender kerneled ears of sweet corn are the bright spot in the somewhat beclouded food bargain sky.

It's melon season, folks, and if you don't get greedy-eyed at the sight of a big ice-cold slab of watermelon, you can mouth-water over cantaloupe, honeydew or honeyball melons. All are bargain starred and in the peak of perfection. Missouri watermelon, scoring high in quality and low in price, is now on the market.

Cantaloupe comes largely from Indiana and is another contender for your money in the low price field. Honeydew and honeyball melons, not quite such bargains as their more well-known cousins, are reasonable.

Sweet Corn Better Now.

Sweet corn prices which climbed a little last week are toppling again and homegrown offerings are beginning to pile in. Remember the corn-on-the-cob dripping with butter you used to love as a youngster? You thought no corn could taste better. But did you know that the sweet corn you buy today actually is better? In the last couple of years hybrid sweet corn with more uniform, larger and deeper kernels of better flavor has come to market.

Summer apples also are here. The first Illinois Wealthies turned up in Chicago this week. You can also get Dutchess and transparent varieties. Some stores have green apples [the kind associated with a small boy's stomach ache]. These are fine for sauce and for curing childhood nostalgia—green apple pie, yum-yum!

Berries Are Scarce.

Berries, apricots, sweet cherries and plums will soon be no more. All are fading out of the fruit picture, getting scarcer and higher. You can still get berries, but none is cheap. You can't find pie cherries any more.

Peaches are again coming to market in larger quantities and while they'll cost you about the same or even a little more than they did a week ago, they will get cheaper as supplies increase. Peaches are usually at their lowest price range in August.

A few red malagas trickled in this week, but the main grape crop is the tiny green seedless western grape, which is now a good fruit buy.

Some Vegetables Higher.

Some of the vegetables that tended to be higher priced last week are definitely more expensive this week. But all in all fresh vegetables are tops on the bargain listings. Higher are green beans, cabbages, cauliflower, iceberg lettuce, green peppers and spinach. Lettuce and cauliflower are the only two in the list which are enough higher-priced to cause great concern. Fortunately there are other salad greens to take the place of iceberg lettuce, with so many vegetables to choose from, few will miss cauliflower.

Compensating lower price tags will be worn by carrots, sweet corn, tomatoes, dry onions and green peas. Green peas are still somewhat higher but the others are good buys. Also very reasonable are bunch beets, turnips, most greens, radishes, green onions and celery.

Meat prices are holding firm with beef still the most tempting buy for the housewife. Beef rib roasts look like the top notch good bet to this reporter. Prices in chain stores run well under 30 cents a pound and considering the tender cut of meat you get, that's not bad.

Pot Roasts Are Lower.

Pot roasts are cheaper, but you pay between 20 and 25 cents a pound for this less tender cut. Tender steaks are definitely not for you if you're pinching pennies. Round steak sells at around 40 cents a pound and Swiss steak is about 10 cents cheaper.

Leg of lamb is featured in a few stores at a tempting price and boned lamb shoulder is moderately priced. Broilers and fryers stack up well against prices of tender meat cuts and might not be a bad selection for your Sunday splurge.

Watermelon Bowl Salad

Serve your fruit salad from a watermelon bowl. Pick one of the round melons and use half of it. Remove the center of the melon with a round ball cutter and combine the watermelon balls with cantaloupe balls, pineapple wedges, and blueberries. Toss the mixed fruit into the hollowed watermelon and serve with it little cubes of cream cheese and any favorite fruit salad dressing. This is a salad that the hostess will serve from her place at table. Melons are a good buy this week-end.

Try Marshmallow Mint Fluff on Your Ice Cream

It's fun to dress up a pint of ice cream from the neighborhood drug store with your own homemade topping. You'll like this marshmallow mint fluff on vanilla, orange, and chocolate ice creams.

MARSHMALLOW MINT TOPPING.
[For ice creams.]
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
5 green mint leaves [crushed]
16 marshmallows, cubed
3 drops oil of peppermint
2 egg whites, beaten
Green fruit coloring

Boil sugar, water, and mint leaves four minutes. Add marshmallows and oil of peppermint. Stir slightly until blended, then pour slowly over egg whites, and beat until creamy. Cool. Add green tint and serve over ice cream.

BERRIES, CHEESE COMBINE TO MAKE DELICIOUS STICKS

Serving a fruit salad plate? Then you'll find these berry cheese sticks just the bit of flavorsome breadstuff to go with it. They're good with vegetable salads and with other luncheon dishes, too.

BERRY CHEESE STICKS.
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup grated cheese
3 tablespoons fat
⅔ cup milk [about]
1 cup washed, drained blueberries [other berries may be used, if desired]
Sugar

Mix flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar and sift together. Cut in cheese and fat until mixture is mealy. Add milk, mixing lightly with a fork to form a soft dough. Knead half a minute and flatten on floured board until ¼ inch thick. Sprinkle with berries and about two tablespoons of sugar. Fold dough half over, pressing it down at sides with fork, to keep in berries. Cut into one by three inch strips. Lift the strips with a spatula onto a greased baking sheet and bake 10 minutes in a hot [400 degrees] oven for 10 minutes, or until well browned. Serve hot with butter.

REV. T. C. POWERS DIES; DE PAUL VICE PRESIDENT

Noted as Orator, Radio Speaker in Chicago.

The Rev. Thomas Carroll Powers, vice president of De Paul university, died shortly after noon yesterday of a heart attack in St. Thomas seminary, Denver, Colo., where he was vacationing. He had been ill for several months. The body will be returned to Chicago and will lie in state at St. Vincent's rectory, 1010 Webster avenue, tomorrow and Sunday. Services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in St. Vincent's church, 1000 Webster avenue.

Father Powers, who was 54 years old, had served as vice president of De Paul since 1924. He was born in Waterford, Ireland, and came to this country as a boy. He entered the Congregation of the Mission, Terryville, Mo., in 1908, and was ordained there in 1913. He served as president of Dallas [Tex.] university from 1921 to 1924. During a leave of absence from De Paul between 1931-'34, he was pastor of St. Vincent's parish in Los Angeles, Cal.

Surviving are two sisters, Sister Mary Verena, Negaunee, Mich., and Sister Mary Bernadette, Auckland, New Zealand, both members of the Order of the Sisters of Charity. Father Powers was a noted orator and radio speaker in Chicago, as well as a Shakespearean scholar. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery in Evanston.

WARNS AGAINST DEFENSE STAMP CHAIN LETTERS

Postmaster George N. Taylor of Evanston issued a warning yesterday against a scheme which, while it may patriotically encourage the purchase of defense savings stamps, is a lottery in the eyes of the postal authorities. He said that chain letters had reappeared in the mails asking the addressees for defense stamps instead of dimes, which was the old form of this nuisance. Chain letters in any form have been deemed a lottery, and persons who become part of the chain will have their mail discontinued if they persist, the postmaster said.

Wins Custody

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Mabel W. Barron with her stepson, Wilbert.

Judge John J. Lupe yesterday refused to remove Wilbert Barron Jr., 14 years old, from the possession of his stepmother, Mrs. Mabel Barron, 36, of 2342 North Karlov avenue, when the boy said that he wanted to stay with her and with his half-brothers, Robert and Richard, 11 year old twins.

Wilbert Barron, 37, of 5905 North Giddings street, had asked custody of the boy and a reduction in support of $17.50 a week. His attorney, Sidney Schiller, explained that young Wilbert was the child of a previous marriage, and that Mrs. Barron under the terms of the divorce decree was to have possession, not custody, of the child, subject to the father's discretion. Schiller said Barron Sr. is now remarried and wants the boy in his new home.

Harry X. Cole, counsel for Mrs. Barron, prevailed on the boy to express his own preference. Judge Lupe, after stating he would not disturb Mrs. Barron's possession, suggested that the father might have recourse to habeas corpus proceedings.

Brothers, 10 and 11, Admit Derailing Freight Train

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24 [Special].—Two deaf mute brothers, 10 and 11 years old, confessed to state police today that they pried open a Pennsylvania railroad switch which caused the derailment of a locomotive and 14 freight cars southwest of Indianapolis a few hours earlier. The boys, who live with their stepfather, said they were en route to a grocery when they saw the switch. They never had played around the railroad much, they said, and decided to tinker with the lock. Finally they obtained a bar and pried open the lock. Then, with the bar, they threw the switch.

I. B. GOLDSMITH, 39, DIES; GRAIN TRADE LAWYER

Funeral Services Will Be Held Today.

Irving B. Goldsmith, 5048 Woodlawn avenue, a member of the law firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt since 1929, died Wednesday night in Michael Reese hospital. Services will be held at 11 a. m. today in the chapel at 936 East 47th street.

Mr. Goldsmith, who was 39 years old, was recognized as an outstanding lawyer on cases connected with the grain trade and the grain futures act. During the reorganization of the Farmers' National Grain corporation he became counsel for that company and the Grain Stabilization corporation. Recently he conducted, on behalf of Cargill, Inc., the litigation between that company and the Chicago Board of Trade.

A native Chicagoan, Mr. Goldsmith was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1923. He received degrees in law and juridical science from Harvard law school in 1926 and 1927 and the following year was secretary to Louis D. Brandeis, former Supreme court justice. Mr. Goldsmith was a lecturer at Northwestern university law school and a contributor to the Illinois Law Review. His widow, Eleanor; a son, Peter; his mother, Mrs. Freda Goldsmith, and his sister, Mrs. Joe E. Michaels Jr., survive.

BID VACATIONISTS TO VISIT CHICAGO DURING 'FESTIVAL'

The Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday set aside the last two weeks in August—a traditional vacation period—as "Chicago Festival Week." Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the association, said an extensive publicity campaign is planned to acquaint non-Chicagoans with the attractions featured in the city during those two weeks.

"The list of events is larger in number, greater in variety, and more impressive in its appeal," he said, "than anything of a similar character that we have seen in many years."

Five thousand posters advertising the period are to be distributed over a 300 to 500 mile radius of Chicago by various transportation agencies. Loop department stores will have special sales and fashion shows. In entertainment, the features, Lyon noted, are topped by the Chicagoland Music Festival, the All-Star football game, many golf tournaments, the nightly Grant Park concerts, a regatta, sailing races of the Chicago Yacht club, and other sporting and musical events.

CHARGES FRAUD BY COMMUNISTS TO GRAB ESTATE

Ernest Knutl, Finnish consul in Chicago, filed suit in Circuit court yesterday in behalf of a resident of Finland, charging that an estate of more than $10,000 left by his countryman's brother had been seized by the communist party for propaganda purposes. The bill asked that the will of Oscar Mehto, a tailor, who died last Sept. 11 in Alexian Brothers hospital, be set aside on the ground that he was of unsound mind. Mehto was 68 years old.

The estate was left in trust to Emil Heino, 2900 Mildred avenue; Immo Wuori and Hjalmar Saarela, 837 Fullerton avenue, "for education and scientific purposes." The bill asserts that these words are camouflage for "communist propaganda."

The suit, filed in behalf of Mehto's brother, Aleksius, 75 years old, said that six days before Mehto's death the three principal defendants, knowing that Mehto was seriously ill, went to the hospital and induced him to draw the will. The three were described as members of the communist party.

TOMMY REMAINS UNIDENTIFIED AT DETENTION HOME

Tommy, the brown-eyed little boy abandoned at the Brookfield zoo 11 days ago, remained yesterday at the Juvenile Detention home, unidentified and unbothered by the hosts of persons who went there in an effort to identify him.

The child, who is about 3½ years old, has become cross and upset in the last few days and is being held in what is tantamount to solitary confinement to rest his nerves. All he can say of his identity is, "My poppy is coming back after me in a red truck."

Miss Minnie Jones, case worker, and Judge Frank Bicek of the Juvenile court, who interrupted his vacation to attend the case, are following innumerable clues toward his possible parents.

Drowns While Swimming Far Off Foster Ave. Beach

Lyle Howe, 39 years old, of 4923 Kenmore avenue, drowned last evening off the beach at Foster avenue. Two lifeguards, John Demikus and Charles Gedmint, recovered the body and made futile efforts to revive Howe. Witnesses told the police Howe was far out in the lake when he sank. He was a waiter at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Emma S. Hoffman.

Mrs. Emma S. Hoffman, widow of the Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman, noted hymn writer and honorary minister of the South Shore Presbyterian church at the time of his death in 1929, died yesterday in her home at 7626 Saginaw avenue. She leaves her daughter, Florence O'Hara; a sister, Mrs. Delia Orwig of Pittsburgh, Pa.; three grandsons, and a great-grandson. Three stepsons also survive. Services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in her home.

Col. John A. Smith.

Cincinnati, O., July 24 (AP).—Col. John A. Smith, 76 years old, electrical engineer, inventor of the electric drill and motorboat designer, who helped plan and install Mexico City's electric street railway system, died today.

George L. Helmstadter.

Services for George L. Helmstadter, general passenger agent of the Chicago and North Western railway, who died Tuesday at Lake Louise, Alta., will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church, 600 9th street, Wilmette. Mr. Helmstadter, who lived at 619 Central avenue, Wilmette, was 44 years old. He leaves his widow, Marie; a daughter, Doris, and a son, George.

Willis C. Hawley.

Salem, Ore., July 24 (AP).—Former Representative Willis C. Hawley, 77, a co-author of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act, died today. Hawley represented the 1st Oregon congressional district from 1906 to 1932, when he was defeated by Representative James W. Mott.

GOV. GREEN NAMES 3 TO STUDY PLANS FOR SAFETY ON HIGHWAYS

Springfield, Ill., July 24 (AP).—A campaign to increase efficiency of the state highway police force was broadened today with the appointment by Governor Green of a three-man police merit council and an announcement by T. P. Sullivan, state public safety director, that policemen would receive advanced first aid training to combat an "appalling" automobile fatality rate.

The merit council will make a survey of the police system and make recommendations to Superintendent Leo E. Carr. On the council are Ernest W. Puttkammer, professor of criminal law at the University of Chicago, Leonarde Keller of Chicago, expert in scientific crime detection, and Lawrence J. Benson of Libertyville, superintendent of the police, fire, and safety systems of the Milwaukee railroad.

Sullivan said state policemen henceforth would be required to take at least 30 hours of first aid instruction so as to be able to give emergency treatment to accident victims at the scene.

DENIES SUBWAY ENDANGERED BY EXTENSION PLAN

Two aldermen, William J. Cowhey [41st] and John J. Greallis [44th] told a council joint committee on superhighways yesterday that the possible extension of the subway west under Congress street should not be connected with any controversy over the proposed widening of Congress street.

Joshua D'Esposito, federal project engineer on the subway, told the committee Chicago's 23 million dollar subway grant from the federal government will not be endangered by the city's digging the Congress street subway extension without jointly building a 40 million dollar Congress street superhighway. He corrected an interpretation of his remarks made earlier in the week which indicated he believed the government might cancel the subway grant.

C. E. THOMPSON DIES; RAILROAD FINANCIAL AID

Charles Edwin Thompson, 961 Bluff road, Glencoe, financial officer of the elevated lines, the Chicago, North Shore, and Milwaukee and the Chicago, Aurora, and Elgin railroads, died in the Highland Park hospital yesterday of heart disease.

Mr. Thompson, who was 62 years old, was a native of Indiana. In 1905 he became chief clerk and auditor of the Chicago, Milwaukee Electric railroad and from 1908 to 1916 was general manager for the road's receivers. When it was reorganized into the present North Shore in 1925 he was made assistant to the president. Later he was elected a vice president of the three roads. He had served as financial officer since 1932.

His widow, two sons, and a daughter survive. Services will be held in the Wilmette Baptist church at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

BRIDE ACCUSED OF FISTICUFFS IN TRAFFIC ARREST

Two newlyweds and a friend were released on bond yesterday by Morton Grove county highway police on traffic and assault charges, including the alleged punching of a policeman by the bride. The three are Vernon and Mrs. Katherine Danielson, each 33 years old, of 2756 Pine Grove avenue, who were married a week ago, and Frank Fenneman, 37, of Indianapolis, Ind.

They were arrested by Policeman James O'Donnell and Miles McDonough, who said Fenneman, the driver, ignored a stop sign in Rand road. At the station Mrs. Danielson is alleged to have struck McDonough twice.

Rockford Woman Killed at Tavern; Suitor Held

Rockford, Ill., July 24 [Special].—Mrs. Frieda Wallin, 41 years old, mother of two soldiers, was dead tonight, and Ray McDonald, 32, was held in jail facing a manslaughter charge in connection with her death. The woman died at Rockford hospital an hour after she toppled down three steps at a tavern entrance. Police officers said McDonald struck Mrs. Wallin with his fist as she was leaving the tavern following a quarrel. McDonald denied he struck her.

FATALLY HURT IN LEAP FROM FRIEND'S AUTO

Laddie Horacek, 25 years old, 1900 South Loomis street, a clerk, was fatally injured yesterday when he jumped from the running board of an automobile in front of 1334 19th street and fell against a passing truck. The automobile driven by Alex Madura, 25, of 1539 Cortez street, was carrying Horacek and several other men from the factory where they all worked.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 528 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 372 were killed in Chicago where 13,653 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

Betrothals Are Chief Items in Summer News

BY JUDITH CASS.

NEWS of a romantic nature fills the columns these days and seldom is there a day when there is not one or two engagement announcements to make interesting reading. Today announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Helen Elizabeth Butcher to Richard Ghormley Eberhart, and of Miss Winnifred Turner to Christopher Bouton McDougal. Miss Butcher was the pretty bridesmaid who caught the bouquet at the marriage of Barbara Reed Barry and Roger S. Barrett in Evanston last fall, so she is following tradition by becoming a bride herself this summer.

Miss Butcher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howlette Butcher of Cambridge, Mass., are making the announcement. Mr. Eberhart, who is a member of the faculty of the Cambridge school in Kendal Green, Mass., is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alpha L. Eberhart of Chicago. Mr. Eberhart was a master at St. Mark's for seven years and before that was tutor in Washington, D. C., to the adopted son of the late King Prajadhipok of Siam. Mr. Eberhart was graduated from Dartmouth in 1926 and from Cambridge in England in 1929. He later studied at Harvard.

Miss Butcher Worker for Frontier Nursing Service.

Miss Butcher, always called Betty, has many friends here and has visited here often. She was graduated from Smith college in 1937, and from the Simmons School of Social Work the next year. She also has given her services to the Frontier Nursing service in Kentucky.

Miss Butcher and Mr. Eberhart will be married on Aug. 29 in Christ church, Cambridge. His brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dryden Eberhart of Wilmette, plan to go east for the ceremony.

Mrs. E. Mervyn Frye of Melrose, Mass., and Melvin Village, N. H., has sent word of the engagement of her sister, Miss Winnifred Turner, to Christopher Bouton McDougal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDougal of Woodlawn avenue, and Gull Lake, Mich. Miss Turner also is a graduate of Simmons college and has been teaching at the Girls' Latin school for the last few years, so she has many friends here.

Mr. McDougal was graduated from Princeton and from the University of Chicago law school. The wedding will take place, probably in New Hampshire, late in August with only the families and a few intimate friends present.

Miss Julie Goodman to Have Debut Party Here.

It is good news to Miss Julie Goodman's old friends in Winnetka that she will be back in September to share the round of debut parties with her former North Shore Country Day classmates, and that she is to have a debut here at Christmas time. Miss Goodman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tomlin Goodman, who moved to New York from Winnetka last fall, and who just now are settling a house in Bronxville.

After being graduated from the Country Day school Miss Goodman spent last year at Pine Manor. When she comes west she will stay with her aunt, Mrs. Jasper King, in Winnetka.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Landon Hoyt Jr. have decided upon Sept. 4 as the date of a tea they will give in the Winnetka residence that has been the home of the Hoyt family for three generations. The party will be the formal debut of Miss Blanche and Miss Peggy Hoyt. The sisters are just a year apart. Miss Blanche attends Pine Manor, and Miss Peggy will be entering college this fall, probably Smith.

Yale Club Is Having Annual Outing Today.

A fleet of station wagons, appropriately marked, will meet Lake Forest trains today to carry members of the Chicago Yale club to their annual outing at the Onwentsia club. A feature of the golf program that has been arranged will be a team match between the Chicago club, headed by Dexter Cummings, and the Wisconsin Yale club, whose president, Herbert V. Kohler, has promised to have a strong golfing delegation present. Henry A. Gardner Jr. will be defending the President's cup, which he won last year.

Two of the Yale club's officers have been taken away by the navy, Ensign Robert L. Childs, who was secretary-treasurer, and his assistant, G. Hilton Scribner Jr. Their places have been filled by Joseph E. Rich and George A. Ranney Jr. Tennis, baseball, swimming, a buffet luncheon, and dinner are on the program for the day.

A musical treat is in store for members of the Ravinia executive committee and friends of Mrs. Russell Lord and her daughter, Miss Kathleen Lord. Mrs. Lord has engaged Rudolf Firkusny, well known Czech pianist, to play at a buffet supper she is giving at the Onwentsia tomorrow night following the concert in Ravinia park.

Mr. Firkusny Ravinia Soloist at Early Season Concert.

Mr. Firkusny scored a success at Ravinia earlier this season when he appeared as soloist while Sir Thomas Beecham was guest conductor. Miss Lord, who is foregoing a formal debut, will be assisting at the supper, so she will be taking part in the same sort of a musical party at which her elder sister, Mrs. William Mac Lingo Jr. of Dallas, Tex., was introduced to society in the fall of 1937. The former Betty Lord's debut was a tea at the Casino at which Albert Spalding played.

The especial guests tomorrow night will be Carlos Chavez, guest conductor this week, and Mr. and Mrs. Yehudi Menuhin. Mr. Menuhin will be the soloist tomorrow night.

A tea was given yesterday after-

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes Newton are shown with little Barbara Schulz, the flower girl, after their marriage yesterday afternoon in the chapel of St. James' church. A small reception followed in the home of the former Barbara Lawrence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Lawrence. The bride wore a gown of white marquisette trimmed with alencon lace and carried stephanotis and an heirloom handkerchief, lent by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. John D. James. Her niece and only attendant, little Barbara, wore a green Kate Greenaway frock and a wreath of rosebuds and forget-me-nots in her hair. Mr. Newton and his bride will make their home on the near north side.

Front Views and Profiles By June Provines

Add Army Equipment.

A Chicago girl is helping the army meet the demands of modern warfare. She sold the 124th Illinois Field Artillery at Camp Forrest one Peerless Special Daisy Targeteer for $1. The targeteer shoots BB shot by air pressure. Miss Sherman—her name is Louise Sherman—bought it several years ago from a mail order house for $1.95. The army needs it, a captain at Camp Forrest told her, to chase razorback hogs and cows from in front of tanks on the Tennessee mountain roads.

Cafe Habitue.

An attractive girl got up from a table in the Buttery and began to walk about the room. After her second turn of the room a waiter asked if he could get anything for her.

"O, no," she said. "I'm just working up an appetite for dinner."

Add Epitaphs.

Robert Cantwell Sr. forwards the inscription he copied in an English cemetery on the grave of a man named Knott:

Here lies a man who was Knott born
He did Knott live
He did Knott die
And is Knott buried here.

Cuff Notes.

Margery Williams, whose play, Mary's Gate, will have its tryout at the Michiana Shores theater in August, writes plays in pencil, in an old-fashioned rocker, pad on her knee. Miss Williams, whose husband is Frank Dare of Actors' Equity, wrote Out of the Night, which had a year's run at the old Cort theater, and she starred in Chicago in Congo with Walter Huston. . . . Thornton Wilder, who is on the University of Chicago faculty this summer, plays double piano with Robert Pollak as one means of recreation. . . . The general store in Onekama, Mich., has a sewing machine in the center of the dry goods department. Toweling purchasers are invited to "hem them while you're here." . . . One of the brilliant students in dress design at the Chicago Art institute is a Greek girl, Kasia Spilos. One night this week Miss Spilos took a dress dummy with her on the street car to the University of Chicago settlement on the west side, and gave a lecture and demonstration in dress design to a vocationel guidance group of young girls. She not only provided the lecture and sketched fashion figures, but she ran up a muslin model as well. Volunteer effort, with no pay.

Physician's Note.

The St. Luke's News tells the story of a hostess who had invited a newly settled physician to dinner and in reply had received a note so scrawled she could not make out whether it was an acceptance or not. Her husband suggested she take it to the druggist.

"Druggists can always read doctors' writing," he said.

She did do. The pharmacist looked at the note, disappeared behind a partition, and in five minutes returned with a filled bottle.

"Fifty cents, madame," he said.

Grant Park Audience Likes Bruce Foote's Pleasing Baritone

Last night's concert in Grant park brought forth for the first time this season Bruce Foote, Chicago radio and concert baritone. The familiar excellences of his singing were all present—the beautifully rich quality of the voice, the ease and exceptional smoothness with which it is used, the pleasant unpretentiousness of his musical style, his first rate diction.

As so many other conductors are doing this year George Dasch programmed works by Antonin Dvorak to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the great Czech composer's birth. In this case the numbers were the "Carneval" overture in the popular Fifth Symphony, "From the New World." Both were acceptably performed by Mr. Dasch and his symphony orchestra. Paderewski's Melody, Op. 16, No. 2, was played in memory of the late Polish pianist, composer, and statesman. R. E.

Yehudi Menuhin Thrills Record Ravinia Crowd

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The American violinist, Yehudi Menuhin, made his first appearance at Ravinia park last night. He played the Beethoven concerto with the Chicago Symphony orchestra under Carlos Chavez's direction.

He came upon the stage wreathed in smiles, as if he were delighted, as well he might be, with the turnout in his honor. More than 6,000 persons, one of the largest crowds in the history of the Ravinia festival, packed the seats inside and outside the pavilion and spread in great rings out over the surrounding lawns.

At the very beginning of the concerto, violinist and conductor sketched out the character of the performance they proposed to give.

Their tempo was nobly deliberate, their phrase lines long and placid and scrupulously defined. Underneath all this surface serenity there was a strong impression of great stresses in perfect balance.

And despite the frightful handicap of a night so humid that it was virtually impossible to keep a violin in tune, this was the kind of performance they managed to give. The Beethoven concerto stood forth again as one of that trio of serene masterworks which includes also the Fourth symphony and the Fourth piano concerto.

One of the high points of the performance came in the second movement, when Menuhin's tone took on a broadness and pungency extraordinary even for him. Still another was the announcement of the theme of the rondo. It was delivered lightly and gracefully and with an almost humorous, bucolic quality, yet it miraculously retained that dignity and distinction which marked the performance as a whole.

A thunderous ovation which included the stamping of feet on the pavilion's wooden floor compelled the violinist to add the first movement of Bach's Sixth sonata as encore.

The program began with the overture to Gluck's "Orpheus and Eurydice." After the concerto came a first Chicago performance of the Chavez transcription of Buxtehude Chaconne in E minor. The transcription is a bold one, utilizing the immense expressive power of the modern orchestra without sacrificing the lofty, austere quality which was doubtless a part of the original.

Cubs' Victory Makes Sally's Party Perfect

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

The weather looked doubtful yesterday morning, and many of the group of 100 boys and girls who had been invited to see the Chicago Cubs play Boston at our baseball party were a bit worried.

However, we all met at Wrigley field, and the youngsters were all set to brave anything the weather man might offer, in order to see their Cub favorites.

The beginning of the game was a bit doubtful, too, and many of the freckled faces fell when Boston scored three runs in the first inning. Ice cream all around seemed to cheer the children a bit—then the sun came out—and the game got better and better.

My guests screamed happily when the Cubs tied the score in the fourth. Another run made it five to four in favor of the Chicago team and we all relaxed enough to gobble up hot buttered popcorn.

There were many tense moments before the game ended, tho, and we were all tired but happy when it was over and the Cubs had chalked up a victory, which was just what the boys and girls had ordered!

Charities Seek Gifts to Buy Ice for Sick, Needy

Summer means sun tans to most boys and girls, but it means sour milk to many needy youngsters in the settlement areas. This week the United Charities have received innumerable calls for ice. Even when the weather is reasonably cool for July, breezes seldom reach the tiny, inclosed rooms and apartments in the tenements, Where families must use coal stoves for cooking, they cannot keep food and milk without ice.

An emergency call from a woman with two children, 4 and 6 years old, came to the south side office early this week. Her husband had hitchhiked to La Porte, Ind., to get a defense job, but in the meantime the family had nothing to eat. The mother was given money for food and the next day became ill. The county physician prescribed ice packs, which the charities are supplying thru the ice fund.

A widow needs ice to keep the fresh fruits, vegetables, milk, and eggs required for her tubercular daughter, 11 years old. Her son died three years ago of the same disease. Another family with three children, a baby three weeks old and the others 1 and 2 years old, are living in a small, hot flat while the father learns a trade in order to earn a better salary. They must have ice to keep milk fresh for the children.

Neighbors reported the case of a proud widower who is supporting five children, all under 9 years old, on $55 a month. When the father left for work in the morning he put his 2 year old baby in a high chair where the child remained all day. A sister, 6, fed the baby, but could not lift him from the chair. Because of this neglect, the baby's legs are hardly bigger around than a man's thumb.

The child is now in a hospital, where physicians believe his condition can be cured, and a housekeeper has been placed in the home to care for the other children. However, ice is needed to keep food fresh and the father's wages are not large enough to meet this additional expense.

TRIBUNE readers have contributed $633.86 to the ice fund this summer, but additional gifts are needed to meet the unceasing calls for assistance from needy families. Yesterday's donations follow:

Cat Club Luncheon.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 24.—Bette Davis is beating the Hays office ban on sweaters. Playing the secretary in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," Bette wears a turtle-neck number and —taking a tip from eastern college girls—over it she wears a light flannel shirt. The Hays office says a shirt makes everything okay. . . . Charles Laughton is dickering for a return to the Broadway stage. . . . B. Davis threw a cocktail party for Monty Woolley in her dressing room this afternoon. . . . Hollywood, too, is doing the three dots and a dash "V for Victory" stuff, and the musical theme is the generally accepted Beethoven's "Fifth" opening. There is, I think, an even better three dots and dash theme—the motif of doom in Richard Strauss' "A Hero's Life."

Local woods are full of sports heroes making movies, and there are a few others who may catch on. Being offered is John Kimbrough, huge and handsome All-American from Texas A. & M. John, son of a doctor, wanted to be a physician, so he planned to go to Tulane, only school offering a pre-med. course on the athletic scholarship. But Tulane turned him down as not being football material, so he took up agronomy and animal husbandry at Texas. Now he wouldn't mind being in a movie. He was offered to 20th-Fox the other day as a typical Texan for a Zane Grey story. Joe Moskowitz talked with him, then opined, "He's a great type but he's awfully hard to understand."

Lots of accent trouble on Mr. Zanuck's lot these days. Jean Renoir, the French director, is making his Hollywood bow with "Swamp Water," the yarn about web-footed Jeeter Lesters in the Okefenokee swamp. Renoir has been on location in the deep south, and his study of English has been limited to mastery of the script. Result is that he talks southern lingo with a French accent—and, to his puzzlement, his company howls every time he speaks.

Parents Often Make a Child Dislike Them

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

It seems I've never heard quite as many tales of mothers and fathers who are unkind to their children, either thru physical or psychological punishment, as I have recently. Those days of durance for unfortunate sons and daughters are apparently not yet past (and I suppose they never will be), tho when we don't hear of, or see, such happenings for a while we begin to imagine they don't exist.

This letter provides an example of what I mean:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans:

"The problem about which I am asking your advice is my sister's little boy.

"The boy is 10 years old and, I think, a very well mannered child. Last night I went over to see my sister. The little boy wanted to go to the movies, but his mother would not let him go, as he didn't finish his homework. This was her way of punishing him.

"Well, that was all right, but instead of letting the matter drop she kept after my nephew until he was a nervous wreck. Finally we sat down to eat our dinner. The child mentioned he was tired and the mother grew very angry over this. He had been helping his mother with her cleaning. Well, when he said he was tired his mother made him get up from the table and gave him a whipping in front of all of her guests, and then told her son if he didn't like the way he was treated he could get out. When she said this I interfered and told her I thought she was wrong, but not in front of the child.

"Now, Mrs. Bevans, what do you think? Don't you think this mother is wrong in saying such a thing to a 10 year old? She has this boy so that he is actually getting to dislike her. My nephew is really a very smart boy. He is in grade 5-A in school, and when he gets his report card it always is perfect. My nephew isn't allowed out with other children except once a week, and then for only a couple of hours. The rest of his spare time he spends studying. Don't you think this is too much for a boy of 10 years of age? Will you please write about this? I really think my sister will listen to your advice."

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

It's a midsummer custom in our house to give the place of honor in the bathroom cabinets to a lemony scented "friction lotion." For some years this lotion, for use during and after the bath, has just about transplanted all others in the feminine affections when the heat waves descend with a vengeance.

This, too, is one of those real finds you don't hear a great deal about. It's not expensive, or fancily packaged, but it has charms that make it a favorite once you've used it. It has a brisk scent, with the combination of sweetness and tartness that lemon has, and we think it one of the most invigorating and refreshing of all body lotions.

It even has allure; we know a few women who use this and nothing else as a scenting agent, and they're beautifully perfumed women. In this case it's used with the utmost lavishness and regularity.

A hay fever sufferer of our acquaintance uses it always on brow and wrists and says it restores her sense of freshness better than anything else.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' BOLERO FROCK.

A stunning costume prophetic of autumn is this bolero outfit which will be chic for all midsummer occasions. Make it of washable silk, sheer woolen, or some smart cotton and you've an ensemble for social occasions all season long. The pattern makes a skirt, a waist-high bolero, and a pretty blouse with sash waistline. This is a costume which operates beautifully on the contrast principle.

Style No. 2869 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inch bust measurements.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

August—If this happens to be a five year for you, then the month of August may put a few details into your life which will dampen your enthusiasm and make you realize that life is real and life is earnest. Put your house and self in order this month. If you have been having some of the changes promised in this five year, you may find things a little unsettled and slightly out of place. Put a little order into that chaos because you may have more upsets before the year is over. Seek the stability that this four month requires. QUIZ for WIVES

Question: Do You Still Pre-Soak Clothes for Your Washer?

Answer: Save That Tiresome Separate Soaking—With Today's Oxydol

A preliminary soaking may once have been necessary to get clothes clean. But it certainly isn't with today's OXYDOL in your washer.

This soap is marvelous. It has a rich extra ingredient most soaps don't have. What a difference!

So don't bother with preliminary soaking. Just tumble the clothes right into the washer. Oxydol draws out dirt while the washer runs. Yes, it dissolves dirt! Your wash comes clean—sparkling clean!

Change to Easier Washdays
The No Pre-Soak, No Rub, No Bleach Way

What about collars and cuffs? Take a minute to wet extra-dirty places and work in a little extra Oxydol. Then toss right in the washer. That way Oxydol gets even grimy dirt. There isn't any heavy rubbing left! You just put through the washer, and rinse.

So change to easier washdays with Oxydol—No Pre-Soaking, except for wetting an occasional special piece. No needless hard rubbing. And a wash that's gleaming white without bleaching.

While you may want to use bleach for stains or unusual pieces, you'll be amazed by the sparkling whiteness of your wash without bleaching.

So change to easier washdays: Just machine the clothes, and rinse. You can the OXYDOL way.

If You Don't Use a Washer—Oxydol Soaks Dirt Loose in 10 Minutes —No Washboard Scrubbing!

noon for Mr. Chavez at the Art institute by the Pan-American council and the Ravinia Festival association. Pretty girls in Mexican costume served delicious punch from a table decorated with a pair of dragons in hammered Mexican tin and a huge sombrero to which were fastened tiger lilies and cactus leaves. Polvorones [Mexican cookies] were passed on huge hammered silver trays.

Nicolai Malko, who conducted last week at Ravinia; the George Voevodskys, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Prof. Isaac J. Cox, president of the council, and Mrs. Cox; Mrs. Joseph Sharp, the vice president; Edward L. Ryerson, Daniel C. Rich, and the Frederick A. Prestons were some of the guests.

The Exmoor Country club is having an invitation amateur mixed doubles tennis tournament Sunday afternoon that will attract members from the Onwentsia, Skokie, and Indian Hill clubs. The young Watson Armours, the John Peale Bents, the Daggett Harveys, and Miss Sarah Hinde and young Alec Revell will represent the Lake Forest club. Miss Marion Woolheiser and Harold Ingersoll and Miss Nancy Moulton and Gair Tourtellot will uphold the honor of the Skokie club.

Miss Jean Armstrong and Francis Stanton are the Indian Hill players who have accepted the invitation. Those who will be playing on their home courts are Miss Charlotte O'Brien, who will be teamed with Hamil Reidy; Miss Barbara Tennant and James M. Carry; Miss Margaret Walker and John F. Hennessey, and Miss Francigene Sheridan and T. Weiler Kimball. Mr. Kimball is the Exmoor club's tennis chairman.

Crocheted Kitchen Items

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted kitchen ensembles make most attractive shower presents and are definitely individualized gifts. The good looking black and white checkerboard rug, matching pot holder, and curtain tiebacks are easy to create, may be worked up in record time. Carpet warp is the best medium for these items, since the color range is wide and any desired combination may be obtained.

For instructions in crocheting the checkerboard rug, pot holder, and curtain tiebacks, No. 842, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Dad's Sprees Embarrassing to Daughter

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

"One night, while 'he' was there, my dad came in drunk and caught him trying to get fresh with me, altho I was fighting off his advances. My dad saw red and went for him. He gave him a black eye and a bruise across the temple. And now the fellow says he never wants to see me again.

"My dad doesn't often get drunk. That night he was out to a class reunion affair and drank too much. But it happened once before, when he came in reeling, that I was entertaining a beau in the living room whom papa took an instant dislike to, and told him so right off. It was the most embarrassing moment of my life. That boy never called me up again, either.—PEGGY."

Dad, sober, might make a pretty fair chaperone, Peggy. His effect is lost with the liquor in him. However, the instinct to protect his beloved girl was apparent just the same, and we can't chastise him very severely.

The experience with the earlier beau wasn't so well timed. Dad might have waited until he learned something about the youth, not just acted on impulse. But that's what drink does. The good reasoning powers are weakened.

Wonder if you couldn't take dad aside some evening and tell him you'd like to have a heart-to-heart talk with him. Then you could suggest to him that perhaps he was all right about slapping down the too amorous youth, but in the other instance his actions did you an ill turn, that this second boy probably would tell other boys what they might expect from an irate papa, and warn them to keep away from your doorstep.

Dads are fairly easy to get around when it is a daughter doing the finger winding. You might infer that as a dad he can't be beaten, when he is sober, but you hardly know that man who, in his cups, breaks out in unreasonable tirades. This, so dad won't go on another bat and embarrass you before another suitor.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Finding the right discards seems to be one of the most vexatious problems confronting the average player. At times he deserves sympathy, because the greatest experts occasionally experience equal difficulty. Usually, however, there is an unmistakable guide to the proper choice, and then it is simply a case of locating that guide. In today's hand, as in so many, it was to be found in the bidding.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	4 clubs	Pass
4 diamonds	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
6 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

Six clubs, in my opinion, would have been a better final bid for South to make, but due to the particular distribution of the combined hands, it would not have been any safer.

West shrewdly decided against laying down his ace which, it may be seen, would have made 12 tricks a laydown. Instead, he chose the heart jack. Dummy's queen won and the four diamond tricks were cashed. On the latter two, East discarded two hearts; West, on the last round, a low spade. The ace, king, and queen of clubs then were cashed. West was in no trouble up to this point. He let go another spade, but when declarer then led his low club toward dummy's jack, West started to squirm. It was obvious that he could not decide whether to let go another spade or a heart. As he afterward tried to explain to his disgusted partner, he was afraid that South had started out with the ace-king and two low hearts. He pointed out that he could not know East still had the heart five. At any rate, he decided to guard the heart suit and hence had to blank the spade ace. When a low spade was led from dummy and East played the nine, it did not require much guessing on declarer's part to duck instead of putting up the king. West, by his three spade discards and, more important, by his squirming, had virtually advertised that he had blanked the spade ace in order to hold a heart stopper. The slam, of course, then became a laydown.

One simple little point should have made it easy for West to select the proper discards. Declarer had jumped to three no trump directly over his partner's noncommittal response of one diamond. It was inconceivable that he would have made that bid with three four-card suits and a singleton spade, even tho it were the king! This reasoning alone should have been the only guide West needed.

Hewitt Told to Seek PWA Grant for Service Club

The city council yesterday authorized Commissioner of Public Works Oscar Hewitt to apply for a $148,530 grant from the Public Works Administration to be used for the rehabilitation and maintenance of the former Elks club building at 174 West Washington street. The building has been loaned to the city by the club for use as headquarters for the National Defense commission and a service club for army and navy men.

CUBS BEAT BRAVES, 5-4, ON DAHLGREN'S HOMER

INDIANA PILES UP ALL-STAR VOTES FOR RANKIN, RUCINSKI

ELKS OF WARSAW CAMPAIGN FOR PURDUE WING

Steel District Backs Hoosier End.

Gov. Hell's Choices

FOUR Marquette and University of Wisconsin football stars were named yesterday in a ballot submitted by Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin. The governor's selections:

ENDS—Rankin, Purdue, and Vosberg, Marquette.

TACKLES—Uremovich, Indiana, and Enich, Iowa.

GUARDS—Lekase, Northwestern, and Emblck, Wisconsin.

CENTER—Apolskis, Marquette.

QUARTER BACK—Evashevski, Michigan.

HALF BACKS—Harmon, Michigan, and Franck, Minnesota.

FULL BACK—Paskvan, Wisconsin.

Indiana's two favorite football sons—Dave Rankin of Kosciusko county and Eddie Rucinski of Lake county—may be the starting ends when the college All-Americans line up against the Chicago Bears, world professional champions, in Chicago's eighth annual All-Star game in Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 28.

The husky Hoosiers, who starred last season at Western conference schools, Rankin at Purdue and Rucinski at Indiana university, are pulling away from their rivals in the nation-wide poll being conducted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and 264 associated newspapers and radio stations.

Dave Rankin of Purdue, who tops ends in All-Star poll, gets in shape to meet Bears by sawing wood at North Rim, Grand Canyon.

Rankin this morning heads the list at ends with a total of 462,783 votes, and is followed by Rucinski, who has piled up 411,296.

Frutig in Third Place.

Approximately 90,000 votes behind Rucinski is Ed Frutig of Michigan.

The town of Warsaw, Ind., is the center of the drive to place Rankin on the starting All-Star team. Thousands of ballots are distributed daily by the Warsaw Elks Lodge No. 802, of which Rankin is a member. Huge signs stretch across Warsaw's main street and tourists are solicited as soon as they approach the town limits.

A Star for Roosevelt High.

Rucinski's campaign is being conducted by neighbors, friends, and former members of the College All-American team in East Chicago, where he attended Roosevelt High school, starring in football, basketball, and track. Six feet, 3 inches tall, Rucinski has been an outstanding receiver on a pass conscious team for three years.

Rucinski's supporters on Wednesday night delivered 141,000 votes. These arrived too late to be included in today's standings. The contest department of THE TRIBUNE is approximately 48 hours behind in tabulations because of the tremendous vote.

FRANK PARKER, M'NEILL BEATEN AT SEA BRIGHT

Sea Bright, N. J., July 24 (AP).—Don McNeill, whose lease on the national singles title is fast running out, and Frankie Parker, until now the man of the hour in amateur tennis, were blasted out of the 54th annual Sea Bright invitation tennis tournament today in a pair of upsets that left the men's field with only one of its seeded stars.

McNeill was relegated to the side lines by 20 year old Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Cal., 6-3, 7-5, and Wayne Sabin of Reno, Nev., touched off the day's second bombshell by crushing Parker, 6-2, 6-4.

The other quarter-final round matches ran true to form as Bobby Riggs of Clinton, S. C., the defending champion, conquered Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, 8-6, 6-2, and Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., trounced Ladislav Hecht of New York, 6-2, 6-0.

The men's doubles also produced an upset as Schroeder and Kramer, the national title holders, were put out in the second round by Frank Kovacs and William Crosby, 6-3, 7-5.

MOON MULLINS—FUNNY MONEY

IF THAT IS ANYONE ASKING FOR ME, EMMA-ER-JUST TELL THEM THAT I'M OUT.
LISTEN, LADY PLUSHBOTTOM, I AIN'T ONE TO CAST ASPERSIONS AT A RELATIVE OF YOURS, BUT I CAN'T CASH THIS FOUR-BIT PIECE I WON OFF OF MR. WELLINGTON ANYWHERE-EVERYBODY SAYS IT'S PHONY, LET ME SEE IT, WILLIE.
WHY, MY DEAR BOY, LOOK AT THIS COIN CAREFULLY! THE DATE ON IT IS 1927.
IF IT WAS NO GOOD, SOMEBODY SURELY WOULD HAVE NOTICED IT BEFORE NOW, WOULDN'T THEY?
YEH.
YEH!

CLASSIC RECORD FOR WHIRLAWAY? STAR CAN DO IT

Colt's Time for Derby Equals Mark.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Fair weather and a steady improvement in track conditions yesterday had turf fans speculating on whether Whirlaway will be able to set a new speed record in the Classic stakes tomorrow at Arlington Park. In addition to aiming at a sweep in the major events for 3 year olds to date, the Calumet star will be shooting at the Classic mark of 2:01 2/5 established by Omaha in 1935 and also at the track record of 2:01 1/5 for the mile and a quarter which Discovery set in the same year.

Those who foresee the possibility of Whirlaway's downfall tomorrow by comparing his position with that of Bimelech, the odds-on favorite last year, overlook one fact. That fact is that Bimelech couldn't run very fast. When any horse came along that was in the mood to cover a mile and a quarter in good time, Bimelech was licked. It happened in the Derby and it happened in the Classic. Whirlaway on the other hand, already has demonstrated that he can run a mile and a quarter at a better speed than that recorded by many of the great horses of the past. In winning the Kentucky Derby he set a mark of 2:01 2/5 for that event—and some mighty good thorobreds have tried to do better in the last 67 years.

Faster Surface at Arlington.

Any horse which can do a mile and a quarter over Churchill Downs in 2:01 2/5 certainly has it well within his capabilities to do the same or better at Arlington Park, which has a considerably faster surface and more evenly graduated turns. Whether he'll do it tomorrow or not is the question. With a small field, the elements of racing luck will be reduced to a minimum, but there's always that elemept of uncertainty which Whirlaway carries with him into every stake—the question of whether he'll follow the inner or the outer rail on his swing around the circuit.

Of course, there is one school of thought which is inclined to minimize the importance of total time, maintaining that the real thing that counts is class, and a great horse is always ready with a mighty burst of speed to conquer any plebian upstart. Records show that this generally is just about as inaccurate as the many other theories which have been applied in the effort to determine in advance the winner of a horse race. Taking it for what it is worth, however, Whirlaway is a standout in this department also. He can run an amazing furlong and a blazing quarter anywhere along the line that his rider decides to turn it on.

Coasts Home in Derby.

Many of the nation's important speed records have been set when the winner was under severe pressure right to the finish. Yet in establishing the Derby record Whirlaway came coasting home eight lengths ahead of the field, proving he can run without being forced.

There is enough speed in the Classic field, however, to make it highly probable that the ultimate winner will have to deliver in good time. With Our Boots and Attention as Whirlaway's leading rivals, with Bushwhacker as a dangerous outsider and with To A Tee and Daily Trouble as possible long shots, there's likely to be action thruout.

Espie, Timbrook Gain Indiana Amateur Final

French Lick, Ind., July 24 (AP).—Clark Espie of Indianapolis and Henry Timbrook of Columbus today won the right to battle it out for the Indiana amateur golf championship. Espie eliminated John David of Indianapolis, 2 and 1, and Timbrook, the 1940 state junior champion, whipped Charles Harter by the same count. This morning Espie beat Tim David—John's brother—4 and 2, and Timbrook went 21 holes to defeat Dale Morey of Martinsville, the tournament medalist.

EVERT DEFEATS BALL, 6-1, 6-4, IN STATE TENNIS

Larned Beats Howard in Third Round Match.

Jimmy Evert, the sturdy Senn High school graduate who last week won the eastern junior tennis tournament, demonstrated yesterday that he can take care of himself in men's competition. Evert whipped George Ball of El Paso, Tex., 6-1, 6-4, in a third round Illinois state tournament match on the Beverly Hills Tennis club courts.

Ball upset Gardner Larned two weeks ago in the Western meet in Indianapolis. Larned is seeded ahead of Evert in both the junior and men's divisions of the state tournament. Thus Evert's victory yesterday indicated he may upset Larned if the two Chicago youngsters clash in the men's semi-finals.

Larned Also Advances.

Larned also advanced to the fourth round in impressive style. He eliminated John Howard of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-0.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles, the 1939 national boy's champion who was looked upon as a dark horse in the men's play and the chief threat to Larned and Evert in the juniors, was upset for the second time in two days. Jack Tuero of New Orleans, who ranked No. 3 in the national boys standings last year, removed Patty in a third round junior match, 6-3, 10-8.

Slack Defeats Parks.

Ellis Slack, the Long Beach, Cal., youngster who knocked Patty out of the men's singles Wednesday, gained the fourth round by beating Olen Parks, Notre Dame's Indiana state champion, 3-6, 6-2, 11-9.

Other scores:

MEN'S SINGLES.

Second round.

Robert Smidl, Chicago, beat Irving Parker, Santa Barbara, Cal., 8-6, 6-2.

Jack Tunnell, Los Angeles, beat Roland Folk, River Forest, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

Second Round.

Art Leighton, River Forest and Ben Migdow, Chicago, beat Robert Kring, Los Angeles, and James McConnell, New Orleans, La., 6-2, 7-5.

Irving Parker and Jack Ballock, beat Frank Backler and Mel Timmons, 6-0, 6-1.

JUNIOR SINGLES.

Third round.

Irving Parker beat Jerry Evert, Chicago, 6-2, 6-3.

Ellis Slack, Long Beach, Cal., beat Ben Migdow, Chicago, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

John Howard, Los Angeles, beat Walter Driver, El Paso, Tex., 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

James Evert, Chicago, beat Lawrence Daly, Evanston, 6-0, 2-6, 6-0.

Robert Kimbrell, Chicago, beat Arnold Saul, Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-3.

JUNIOR DOUBLES.

First round.

Carl Meyer Jr., St. Joseph, Mo., and Harry Witczha, Hamtramck, Mich., beat Rufus Harris, New Orleans, and Ray Speth, Chicago 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Graham Schofield and Robert Hunt, Chicago, beat Edward Spencer and Silas Warner, Winnetka, 6-3, 6-4.

Second Round.

John Howard, Los Angeles, and David Freeman, Pasadena, Cal., beat Francis Stanton and Al Winston, Evanston, 6-0, 6-3.

Ellis Slack, Long Beach, Cal., and John Dye, Beverly Hills, Cal., beat Fred Steers and William Del, Chicago, 6-1, 6-1.

Irving Parker and Jack Ballock, beat Carl Fales and Les Swift, Chicago, 6-1, 6-0.

WOMEN'S SINGLES.

Quarter-Finals.

Margaret Stiel, River Forest, beat Dr. Esther Bartosh, Chicago, 7-5, 6-1.

The Red Sox pounded Bill Dietrich to whip the White Sox in Boston yesterday, 11-1. (Story on page 19.)

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Altho faced with a four run handicap, the sixth place Cubs managed their affairs so well yesterday that they were able to win the rubber argument of the three game series with the Braves from Boston. The four run deficit which melted down Claude Passeau in a hurry was first rendered into a tie, and Ellsworth [Babe] Dahlgren then settled everything by exploding his 14th homer for a 5 to 4 decision.

Passeau's presence, supposedly for the purpose of collecting his 10th victory, was so limited that he didn't even have time to see an enemy retired. Four batters faced him. Four batters drilled his pitches for safe shots, three scoring, and Tot Pressnell was summoned hastily for a four inning job, in which he yielded the Braves' fourth run. Then Jake Mooty was placed in charge, and he did a three hit turn while getting credit for his fifth success.

Javery Leaves Early.

The Cubs showed no familiarity with the batting art until the third when Pressnell, Charley Gilbert, Dominic Dallessandro with his 28th double, and Bill Nicholson landed squarely on Al Javery, sending him away under a two run load. His successor, Tom Earley, got into difficulties on a pair of hits in the fourth, but, with an easy chance to escape, committed a fielding blunder, leading to the two tying runs. Art [Lefty] Johnson was brought in to clean up the situation and he went from there to the finish on only two hits but one of them happened to be Dahlgren's homer, a clout into the left field seats in the sixth.

The Boys Bunch Their Hits.

Pressnell opened the home third with a hit, and, with one out, Gilbert also singled. Dallessandro scored Pressnell with a double, but Gilbert was cut down at the plate Dallessandro then counted on Nicholson's double. The Cubs' two runs in the fourth developed from Clyde Mc Cullough's double, an infield hit by Stringer, a throwing error by Earley, and a double play, in which Charley George and Bob Sturgeon figured.

ELEANOR DUDLEY AND MISS INGRAM TO CLASH TODAY

Nilles, Wilder Also Gain CWDGA Semi-Finals.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Eleanor Dudley of Ridge vs. Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge and Virginia Nilles of North Shore vs. Mary Wilder of Skokie. That's this morning's set up for one of the best semi-final brackets in the 12 year history of the Chicago Women's District Golf association tourney over the No. 1 course of Olympia Fields.

This finishing foursome includes Miss Dudley, recent winner of the national intercollegiate women's championship; Miss Ingram, twice a winner of the CWDGA crown; Miss Wilder, former western junior champion, and Miss Nilles, one of the most consistent of the younger swingers in CWDGA competition.

Dudley Seeks First Title.

Miss Dudley, who also has captured the western junior and Illinois state, will be making another effort to gain the CWDGA final and win her first honors in this league. Yesterday, the husky University of Alabama graduate who took the qualifying medal on Monday, moved up with a 5 and 4 decision against Miss Gladys Sines, Olympia Fields' own home club champion. Miss Dudley was 3 up at the turn on the strength of a 41, four over par.

Miss Ingram, for whom a third championship triumph would bring permanent possession of the trophy, gained the semi-finals again by defeating Mrs. L. A. Mincer of Longwood, 6 and 4. The Sunset Ridge star was around the nine hole turn in 43 for a 3 up advantage.

Former Champion Loses.

The 19 year old Miss Wilder eliminated another former champion, Mrs. Lawrence Selz of Northmoor in the quarter-finals, 3 and 1. Miss Nilles qualified to battle the Skokie miss today with a 2 and 1 conquest of Mrs. O. C. Bell of Edgewood Valley.

Winners of this morning's semi-finals will battle 36 holes for the title tomorrow. Winners in all other flights will be decided today.

Other results:

FIRST FLIGHT.

Semi-Finals.

Mrs. E. Hand, Illinois, beat Mrs. W. W. Harmening, Mohawk, 5 and 4.

Mrs. R. C. D'Autremont, River Forest, beat Mrs. L. S. Motley, Ridge, 2 up.

SECOND FLIGHT.

Semi-Finals.

Mrs. Margaret Muench, North Shore, beat Mrs. Philip L. Edwards, Illinois, 1 up, 19 holes.

Mrs. Berry Conner, Edgewood Valley, beat Mrs. C. H. Lee, Ridge, 2 up.

COLLINS CUP.

First Round.

Mrs. Lois McPhee, River Forest, beat Mrs. A. G. Hurst, Longwood, 1 up, 19 holes.

Mrs. E. P. Mayo, Barrington Hills, won by default from Mrs. G. F. Henneberry, Barrington Hills.

Mrs. W. I. Goodman, Ravisloe, beat Mrs. Joseph Kushnle, Lincolnshire, 1 up.

Mrs. Harold E. Foreman, Lake Shore, won by default from Mrs. Melvin Jones, Olympia Fields.

Today's Pairings.

McPhee vs. Mayo.
Goodman vs. Foreman.

CHAMPIONSHIP CONSOLATION.

Quarter-finals.

Jane Brown, La Grange, won by default from Mrs. Betty Johnson, Illinois.

Mrs. Harry Sherman, Northmoor, beat Mrs. F. P. Hammond, Olympia Fields, 6 and 5.

Mrs. W. S. Sines, Olympia Fields, beat Mrs. Paul Schollenberger, Edgewater, 6 and 5.

Mrs. J .E. Wheeler, Knollwood, beat Mrs. C. W. Bellfuss, Midlothian, 7 and 6.

KASPERS ENTER SEMI-FINALS OF CITY GOLF MEET

Harry Beats Chick Evans, Chet Defeats Budd.

Harry and Chester Kasper smashed their way into the semi-finals of the 37th annual Chicago Amateur golf tournament yesterday in Jackson park as the result of identical 1 up victories over their third round and quarter-final opponents. Eddie Kletcke of Ridge, and Sanford [Sandy] Rissman of Bryn Mawr are the other semi-finalists.

The Kasper brothers, both steel workers, played havoc with the star-studded field which started the morning round, and saw the elimination of three former titleholders. Chester, who came directly to Jackson park after finishing his 8 hour day in the steel mills, brushed off Gene Budd, of Longwood, the 1939 city winner, while Harry put the finishing touches to Charles [Chick] Evans of Edgewater. Evans was seeking his fourth tourney title.

Chester Marches On.

In the afternoon round, Chester met Marshall Springer of Old Orchard, who had vanquished Mike Pollacci, of Jackson, 2 and 1, earlier. Beating off a 3 down deficit, Chet squared the match at the 16th and triumphed over Springer with a birdie three on the final hole.

Harry Kasper came back in the afternoon to defeat John Nix, of Green Valley after a 4 and 3 victory over John Blanton of Jackson park. Harry took a two hole lead at the turn and held it, altho it diminished to 1 up at the 17th. Results:

THIRD ROUND.

Harry Kasper, Longwood, beat Chick Evans Edgewater, 1 up.

Jack Nix, Jackson park, beat Jim Blanton, Jackson park, 4 and 3.

Tom Nash, Ridge, beat Hymie Juddleson, Harlem, 1 up.

Sanford Rissman, Bryn Mawr, beat Matt Ciswoski, Silver Lake, 1 up, 20 holes.

Eddie Kletcke, Beverly, beat Bob Kund, St. Andrews, 1 up, 19 holes.

Alex Zgorka, Lake Hills, beat Robert Dougherty, Navajo Fields, 4 and 2.

Chester Kasper, Longwood, beat Gene Budd, Longwood, 1 up.

Marshall Springer, Old Orchard, beat Mike Pollacci, Jackson Park, 2 and 1.

QUARTER-FINALS.

Harry Kasper, Longwood, defeated Jack Nix, Green Valley, 1 up.

Sandy Rissman, Bryn Mawr, defeated Tom Nash, Ridge, 3 and 2.

Eddie Kletcke, Beverly, defeated Alex Zgorka, Lake Hills, 1 up.

Chester Kasper, Longwood, defeated Marshall Springer, Old Orchard, 1 up.

Pairings for today's 36 hole semi-final round:

8:20 a. m.—Harry Kasper vs. Rissman.
8:30 a. m.—Kletcke vs. Chester Kasper.

YANKEES DEFEAT INDIANS, 4 TO 1, TO SWEEP SERIES

Increase League Lead to 10 Full Games.

New York, July 24 (AP).—The New York Yankees made it three straight over the Cleveland Indians and stretched their American league lead to 10 games with a 4 to 1 victory in the final game of the series today. Charley Keller hit his 24th homer for the Yanks in the fifth and Ken Keltner got one for the Indians in the eighth.

Bill Dickey, Yankee catcher, was hit in the head by one of Jim Bagby's fast pitches in the fifth inning. The injury apparently was not serious. Dickey got up after a few minutes and wanted to remain in the game, but he was replaced by Buddy Rosar. Score:

Cards Defeat Giants; Take League Lead

St. Louis, Mo., July 24 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals won another extra inning victory today from the New York Giants, 3 to 2, on Enos Slaughter's single and Jim Brown's double in the tenth inning. Ernie White, who worked two-thirds of an inning in relief, received credit for his third victory in three days, all against the Giants.

The victory moved the Cardinals into first place in the National league by a half game over the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was the Cardinals' fifth straight victory and their 20th triumph by one run this season. The Giants have lost 19 by the same margin and today's defeat dropped them into a fourth place tie with Pittsburgh.

Red Sox Pound Bill Dietrich to Crush Sox

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 24.—Bill Dietrich today went back to work after one of his recurring spans of physical suffering, but the Red Sox celebrated infinitely more than did the White Sox. The Boston boys had eight runs when Bill gave up with the bases loaded and one out in the fifth, and the score was 11 to 1 when the affair was terminated late in the humid afternoon.

The White Sox ducked a shutout in the ninth on Mike Kreevich's pinch triple and Skeeter Webb's fly.

Tabor is Really Mean.

The attack on Dietrich included only seven hits, but one of them was Jim Tabor's second homer of the year with the bases full. Also it was Tabor's second homer of the series and his 11th of the year.

The Chicago Sox, after their 17 hit outbreak yesterday, receded to their more familiar slugging processes by turning in a total of six hits off Lefty Mickey Harris, who accomplished his fourth victory against nine defeats and ended a string of seven straight setbacks.

The rather trying afternoon sent the White Sox on their way to New York a game under the .500 mark but still in fourth place and only two and one-half games out of third.

Tom Helps the Foe.

A lot of things happened to Dietrich in the third inning. Frankie Pytlak opened with a double to left. Harris sacrificed and tho Bob Kennedy had come in on the grass when Harris bunted, Tom Turner picked up the ball and threw into left field. Pytlak scoring and Harris reaching second. Dom DiMaggio bounced to Kennedy, who threw low to first, Harris pulling up at third and DiMaggio at first. Lou Finney doubled to right center, scoring Harris and DiMaggio.

Turner was of great assistance to the Red Sox again in the fourth. Tabor walked and stole second standing up. Bobby Doerr flied to Hoag, then Tabor advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on Pytlak's single to center.

Cronin opened the home fifth with a single and Williams singled to left center. Cronin went on to third on Hoag's fumble and Williams advanced to second on a throw to third. Foxx walked, loading the bases, then Tabor socked the first pitch for a homer. Kennedy threw out Doerr but Pytlak got his third hit and second double and went to third on a wild pitch. When Dietrich walked Harris for the second time, he was excused and Joe Haynes took his place. DiMaggio walked, loading the bases, and Pytlak scored while Finney was forcing Harris at third. The Red Sox took no liberties with Haynes until Cronin's and Williams' singles and Tabor's double gave them a pair of runs in the eighth.

PHILS FINE MELTON.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 24 (AP).—Frank Melton, Phillies' hurler who was suspended last week for leaving the club, returned today and was fined his salary for the week he was away. He will rejoin the club in Cincinnati.

Smith to Face Yanks Today for White Sox

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 24.—Edgar Smith will go after a .500 rating against the Yankees tomorrow.

Manager Jimmy Dykes today received notice that the White Sox's protest of a game lost in Philadelphia on June 22 had been tossed out.

Dykes today was trying to run down a report that one of the umpires in the series, the same set which worked the Red Sox-White Sox series in Chicago last week, had told Red Sox players he was "sorry the Red Sox didn't win the July 18 game because he'd liked to have shown up Dykes again." Dykes had protested a ruling in that contest, but withdrew it when the White Sox beat Grove.

OLSEN WILL TRY TO BEAT GIANTS AGAIN TODAY

Vern [Lefty] Olsen beat the Giants on their home lot last Sunday and the Giants will be at Wrigley field today, so Olsen will pitch again. He may draw Bill Lohrman as an opponent.

Burleigh Grimes was among yesterday's spectators, causing an immediate revival of the rumor that he may be picked to fill the coaching job made vacant when Dizzy Dean went away.

AKRON GIRL WINS.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 24 (AP). — Shirley Fry of Akron, O., captured the junior singles championship of the Western Junior Girls' tennis tournament today with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Frances Grossnickle of Columbus, Miss.

SPECIALTIES UP, BUT MOST STOCK LEADERS DRIFT

Japanese Situation Holds Buyers in Check.

New York, July 24 (AP).—Stock market specialties turned in fair-sized gains today but many of the usual leaders backed away in the final hour after an early half-hearted rallying attempt.

The principal handicap, brokers said, was the latest far eastern developments which caused some customers to stand aside pending more light on just how far the United States would become involved in Japan's move to Indo-China.

Continued flow of favorable earnings statements and dividends brought support for individual issues.

A. P. Average Dips Again.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost another .1 of a point at 43.9. Dealings, active for a while in the morning, subsided as the session drew to an irregular close. Transfers totaled 623,840 shares compared with 625,480 yesterday.

Issues posting new highs for 1941 included American Sugar Refining, McKesson & Robbins, Savage Arms, Pathe Film, Standard Oil of New Jersey, United States Industrial Alcohol and Lehigh Valley Coal preferred.

United Air Lines, American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines pushed up on revived hopes the government would permit the transport companies more planes to take care of congested traffic.

NEW HIGHS IN CHICAGO.

Six issues reached new 1941 highs on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday as prices rose moderately on transfers of 20,000 shares. Of 96 stocks traded, 41 advanced, 28 declined, and 27 closed unchanged.

The new peaks were set by Butler Brothers and Chicago corporation preferred, Dixie-Vortex class A, McCord Radiator, Standard Oil of Indiana, and Swift International.

Of the dually listed issues traded from 2 to 2:30 o'clock, Marshall Field alone showed a change, closing ¼ lower than at New York at 16⅝.

NORTH WESTERN APPEAL FIGHT IS DROPPED BY RFC

Obstacles to an appeal against the reorganization plan for the North Western railway were removed yesterday when the Reconstruction Finance corporation filed a statement with the United States District court that it would not continue its fight against the action.

Charles M. Thomson, trustee for the road, handed a $12,750 check to the clerk of the United States Court of Appeals to pay costs of an appeal. The case has been docketed for the October term.

Common and preferred stock holders and other security holders have sought to appeal the plan because they claim their entire equities.

DAIRYMEN FIGHT M'NUTT'S EDICT FAVORING OLEO

Threaten Court Suit to Halt New Rule.

A decision to launch court action if necessary to upset a new oleomargarine standard promulgated by Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt was reached yesterday by a national committee, representing dairymen of 25 states.

Paul V. McNutt.

The committee, meeting in the Stevens hotel, was chosen June 10 and has held one previous meeting with the purpose of gearing the dairy industry to the national preparedness program. The government has asked the industry for a 6 per cent production increase in the next 12 months, especially in cheddar cheese and evaporated milk.

Ask for Priorities.

In addition to its action yesterday on oleomargarine, the group went on record as insisting that the army adopt a more equitable purchasing system and that the industry be granted priorities, as are other groups whose aid has been asked for preparedness purposes. It also discussed orderly diversion methods for the vast amounts of milk to be withdrawn from butter plants to step up cheese and evaporated milk production.

A grave threat to the butter industry was seen in the McNutt edict which is to become effective Sept. 6. Under it the margarine makers could color the product, add vitamins, artificial butter flavoring, and a preservative. Federal food and drug regulations now forbid the sale of colored margarine and outlaw addition of ingredients that would make it a substitute for butter.

May Seek Injunction.

These regulations are the ones that were in effect when the food and drug department was a part of the United States department of agriculture. The revision followed soon after the department was transferred to the Federal Security administration under McNutt. Two national dairy organizations have charged that the margarine ruling is the forerunner of a scheme to feed this nation on substitute dairy products so the originals may be sent to England.

In a resolution yesterday, the national committee voted to attempt to persuade McNutt to modify his edict or to reopen the hearing out of which the order grew. Failing in this, the committee will seek an injunction against the new rules.

In another discussion speakers assailed the army's decision to buy only 90 score butter. This eliminates from competition half the dairy states—those producing 92 score butter, it was said. It was urged that the army buy the 90 score and pay a premium for each additional point of quality.

Open Market to All.

This would open the market to all. It was charged during the discussion that army veterinarians, instead of butter experts, grade the butter that is bought.

The decision to ask that the industry be granted the right to ask priorities under the defense program was reached after speakers had said it was becoming impossible to get delivery on equipment needed to carry out the government's expansion request.

The government has requested that in the next 12 months the industry turn out 250 million pounds of cheese, 200 million pounds of dry skim milk, and 15 million cases of evaporated milk. The expansion will be accomplished in part by better feeding for capacity production, keeping cows longer periods, and cutting down the amount of milk fed to other animals and poultry.

Auto Industry Urged to Fight Further Slash

The automobile industry was urged to intensify its opposition to Washington plans to cut auto production 50 per cent at a meeting yesterday of the Automotive Trade Association Managers in the Drake hotel. L. C. Cargile, president of the National Automobile Dealers association, said that the automobile industry is doing its full share of work in the armament program and has the right to speak.

"Washington should see how much of the national economy it can preserve, not how much it can destroy," he said. "If it continues to pick on the automobile industry it will find itself harming the national defense program. Automobiles are vital in our transportation system."

Let Committees Decide.

Cargile urged that Washington take no arbitrary action with respect to automobile prices and output. Instead it should let committees representing all industries decide the best course to take.

Walter Blanchard, general manager of the association, told the group that there should be no discrimination against the automobile industry. There is talk in Washington, he said, of an eventual cut of 75 per cent in auto production at a time when the farm equipment manufacturers are being given 20 per cent more material.

Blanchard said that the manufacturers, whose operations are largely centralized, will be able to curtail their activities in such a way as to conserve their assets. Dealers, on the other hand, really are small businessmen whose existence would be threatened by too drastic curtailment of production.

OPM Says 20% Cut Stands.

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—The office of Production Management was reported today to have assured automobile manufacturers with materials on hand for August and September production schedules that they will not be required to cut their output further during those months.

A general 20 per cent cut in production was asked by the OPM several months ago, and its industry advisory committee is attempting now to work out a program for further curtailment.

COUNCIL HOUSING GROUP TO WRITE SLUM ORDINANCE

The city council yesterday directed its housing committee to draw up an ordinance which would provide for appointment by Mayor Kelly of a city re-development commission. Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], housing committee chairman, said the ordinance would be in accordance with the slum clearance act recently signed by Gov. Green.

The legislation gives power of condemnation to a neighborhood redevelopment corporation, which would be privately owned. The right of eminent domain, however, could not be employed until the corporation had acquired 60 per cent of its redevelopment site by other means. The operations of the private corporation are to be surveyed by the commission.

BIG BROKERAGE MERGER TO TAKE EFFECT ON AUG. 18

Homer P. Hargrave, Chicago resident partner of Merrill Lynch, E. A. Pierce & Cassatt, announced yesterday that an agreement had been reached to consolidate the firm with Fenner & Beane, effective Aug. 18. The new company, to be known as Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, will bring together the two largest brokerage firms in the country.

Combined capital will be more than $6,000,000, Hargrave said. Senior partners of the new firm will be Charles E. Merrill, E. A. Pierce, Charles E. Fenner, and Philip W. Russell.

The consolidated company will have offices in 93 cities and will hold memberships in 28 security and commodity exchanges.

2 PROPELLER PLANTS TO BE BUILT IN OHIO BY GENERAL MOTORS

Detroit, Mich., July 24 (AP).—A General Motors corporation spokesman announced today that two new plants would be built at Moraine City and Vandalia, suburbs of Dayton, O., for the production of airplane propellers.

The government has allotted $11,606,000 for the machinery and equipment for each of the plants, the spokesman said, while the structures will be built by General Motors. Operation of the plants will require 2,200 to 2,400 new workers.

Plan More Arms Plants.

Washington, D. C., July 24 (AP).—The war department announced today the signing by the Defense Plant corporation of more agreements with companies for the expansion of arms production facilities. The agreements included:

Emerson Electric Manufacturing company, St. Louis, $10,529,173, for the purchase of land, construction of buildings and installation of machinery and equipment for the manufacture of gun turrets.

Champion Machine and Forging company, Cleveland, $2,699,680, for land, buildings and machinery for the manufacture of steel forgings for aircraft engines and struts.

Crucible Steel Company of America, New York, $1,000,000, an increase to a previous agreement for construction of artillery shell manufacturing facilities at Harrison, N. J. The increase covers the additional machinery and equipment.

Metal Cutting Tools, Inc., Rockford, Ill., $250,000, for the purchase of machinery and equipment for the manufacture of metal cutting tools.

A $428,000 contract for portable ground heaters was awarded to Stewart-Warner corporation, Chicago.

WORK SCHEDULE SURPASSED AT BIG BUICK PLANT

Building Speeded by Crew of 1,500.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

With day and night work speeded by more than 1,500 men, construction of the Buick aviation engine plant at North avenue and La Grange road, Melrose Park, is proceeding ahead of schedule. The vast main manufacturing building will be completed by Sept. 1. Practically all the steel framework is up, a large part of the roof is finished, and machinery is being assembled in a completed section.

Harlow H. Curtice.

This report of progress on the plant—to be one of the largest in the world—was received yesterday by Harlow H. Curtice, president and general manager of the Buick division of General Motors corporation, on his first inspection of the plant.

Attention, Hitler.

"We are more than pleased with the work," Curtice said. "Hitler should take a look at this plant and the many others the United States is building. It would give him something to think about."

Even before the plant is completed, Buick engineers are working on plans to make short cuts in the production of the 1,200 horse power Pratt and Whitney type engines to be built.

Charles A. Chayne, chief engineer, cited one short cut which is expected to reduce the time required for getting an engine ready for testing in the concrete cells being built at the north end of the plant. It now takes three to six hours to set up an engine for testing because of the main electrical and oil and pressure connections that must be made in the testing cell. The engineers have devised a means of making quick "plug ins" which it is estimated will enable an expert crew to make connections in 45 minutes or less.

Forty-six Engines at Once.

It will be possible to test 46 engines at one time. Each engine under test will produce 135 decibels of noise—a volume beyond the capacity of human endurance. But by locating the engines behind thick concrete and insulated walls, observers will get only 57 decibels hurled against their ear drums.

Another innovation not now being used, it was said, will be the hook up of the engines while under test to electric generators. It is estimated that each engine thereby will be able to turn back 450 horse power into the plant's power lines, thus reducing plant power requirements. In most plants the practice is to hook the engines up to propellers.

Machine Requirements.

Buick will require 1,400 to 1,500 machines at the Melrose Park plant and 700 to 800 at the Buick factories at Flint. Many of the machines will be delivered here in August.

With the government committed to a gigantic bomber program, Buick already has been ordered to increase its capacity from 500 to 1,000 engines a month, and already there is discussion of another possible 500 engines a month. The contracts for the plant machinery and construction total $41,000,000 and engine contracts total $129,000,000.

Bank Clearings Climb 10 to 73 Per Cent Above '40

New York, July 24 (AP).—Bank clearings in major cities this week showed gains ranging from 10 to 73 per cent over a year ago. The total for 23 cities, as reported to Dun & Bradstreet, was $6,513,815,000 in the week ended July 23, or 21.4 per cent over last year's total of $5,367,508,000. Chicago clearings rose 31.4 per cent to $400,100,000. New York volume rose 10.6 per cent to $3,402,689,000.

Steep Income Gains Shown by Many Firms

Increased profits for the June quarter and for the first six months of 1941 were announced yesterday by all but half a dozen of more than 40 corporations issuing reports to stockholders.

Among the larger gains was that of the General Steel Castings corporation, whose indicated net profit for the June quarter was $1,243,824, equal to $2.39 a share, compared with a net loss of $4,032 a year ago.

Another sharp rise in the metal field was that of American Steel Foundries, which reported June quarter net profit of $1,088,193, equal to 92 cents a share, against $405,565, or 34 cents a share, in the 1940 period.

Air Reduction Gains.

Air Reduction company and wholly owned subsidiaries announced net profit for the three months ended June 30 of $2,137,298, equivalent to 79 cents a common share, contrasted to $1,663,106, or 61 cents a share, a year earlier.

National Cash Register company reported June quarter net profit of $828,618, a return of 51 cents a share, compared with $618,960, or 38 cents a share, in the 1940 interval.

For the six months ended June 30 the International Business Machines corporation's net profit was $4,728,336, equal to $5.01 a share, compared with $4,293,482, or $4.78 a share, in the first half of 1940.

A Chicago company, Victor Chemical Works, announced June quarter net profit of $373,015, equal to 54 cents a share, compared with $258,854, or 37 cents a share, a year ago.

PRINTERS RATIFY 2 YEAR CONTRACT WITH VACATIONS

Printers employed on the large Chicago newspapers have ratified a new two year contract, Thomas Canty, president of the Chicago Typographical union, local 16, said yesterday. The contract establishes vacations and increases weekly pay.

Under the new contract the printers will receive a vacation of seven working days in 1941 and 10 days in 1942. A $1 per week increase will be given on Nov. 15, and another $1 on July 1, 1942. The present scale is $58 per week for day work and $62 per week for night work.

The contract also provides that in the event of war the salary provisions of the contract terms can be reopened for discussion on 60 days' notice.

EQUITABLE LIFE PUTS WAR RISK CLAUSE IN NEW POLICIES JULY 31

New York, July 24 (AP).—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States announced today it had adopted a "war risk clause" for new policies effective July 31.

Asserting that the clause had been adopted "as a precautionary measure to prevent existing policy holders from having to assume the burden of possible excess mortality losses," Thomas I. Parkinson, president, said:

"The retrictions apply to all persons in active service or contemplating any of the branches and to those within the selective service ages unless given a deferred classification under class III.

"Policies issued with the war clause will provide full protection against normal hazards. The main exceptions relate to death as a result of an act of war while in the armed service."

New Factories of 2 Chicago Firms Blocked

BY AL CHASE.

Inability to obtain steel has blocked plans of two Chicago manufacturing concerns to build new plants, and is seriously restricting the output of one of them. They are the Tuthill Spring Company, Inc., and the Ace Fastener corporation.

H. T. Moore, president of the spring manufacturing company, said yesterday that a building expansion program has been temporarily shelved, because of the lack of steel. Orders are being turned down daily because of lack of metal, he said.

Much of Capacity Idle.

Fifty per cent of the company's current output is government armament work consisting of truck and trailer springs for army vehicles, Moore said. The remaining half of the company's manufacturing capacity is bogged down because of lack of steel and is running on a two-third's schedule.

The company bought 50 feet of frontage at 764-66 Cabrini street, adjoining one of its plants at 762 Cabrini, from Joseph Rocco and others. A one story plant addition was contemplated but the plans have been shelved, Moore said, until he is sure he can get the construction steel. Its main plant is at 760 West Polk street.

Ace Fastener Buys Site.

The Ace Fastener corporation, now at 3415 North Ashland avenue, has purchased a site for a new plant but will not be able to go ahead this year with construction because of lack of steel. It bought property on the north side of Irving Park road, 400 feet east of California avenue, 210 by 350, from the Lake View Brick company for $22,000, according to revenue stamps on the deed.

About 80 per cent of the company's output is indirect government armament orders, W. G. Pankonin, treasurer, said. The concern makes stapling machines. The proposed new plant will be double the size of the present factory.

STORES REPORT SALES TOP YEAR AGO 23 PER CENT

Department store sales in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district during the week ended July 19 were 23 per cent larger than during the same week a year before, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago announced yesterday. Sales in Chicago were up 15 per cent. District sales compared with the preceding week declined 3 per cent and sales in Chicago were 8 per cent lower.

Department store sales in all 12 reserve districts also averaged 23 per cent above the corresponding week last year, the federal reserve board reported. For the four week period ending July 19 national sales increased 23 per cent above a year ago; 7th district sales 24 per cent and Chicago sales 15 per cent.

WEEK'S RAIL FREIGHT TOTAL NEARS 900,000 CAR MARK, UP 2.6 PCT.

The Association of American Railroads reported yesterday that revenue freight loadings by railroads during the week ended July 19 totaled 899,370 cars, an increase of 23,205 cars, or 2.6 per cent, over the preceding week, and the second largest total for any week this year. Loadings were 168,910 cars, or 23.1 per cent, larger than in the corresponding week last year, and 247,705 cars, or 38 per cent, above two years ago.

Ore loadings reached the highest total in the history of railroading.

AFL AGREEMENT BARS STRIKES IN ARMS PROJECTS

Sets Uniform Scale for Overtime.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Government officials at Washington, D. C., yesterday approved a no-strike agreement with American Federation of Labor building trades unions designed to keep construction moving on arms program jobs employing about 800,000 men.

An additional 1,500,000 men not hired directly by the government will be affected indirectly, officials said in announcing that the plan called for uniform overtime pay equal to time and a half and that it barred work stoppages in jurisdictional disputes "or for any other reason."

Approved by the war and navy departments and the defense housing coördination office prior to approval by the Office of Production Management, the agreement was reported to be highly gratifying to President Roosevelt.

CIO officials were understood to be miffed, however, because the Construction Workers' Organizing committee, headed by A. D. Lewis, brother of John L. Lewis, had not been consulted. Sidney Hillman, OPM associate director, was asked for an explanation, it was said.

Master Aircraft Plan.

Meanwhile, a plan for a master wage contract with the AFL machinists' union covering 55,000 workers in the Lockheed, Vega, and Consolidated aircraft factories on the west coast was presented by the employers.

It was believed the plan followed the scale set up in the North American Aviation agreement, which provided for an increase from 50 to 60 cents in the starting minimum hourly wage, with automatic increases to 75 cents within three months, and a blanket 10 cents an hour raise for all employés not otherwise affected.

The CIO announced that it would begin negotiations for a similar agreement in plants in which it was represented.

A wage dispute which threatened to halt a $2,000,000 army and navy project at Key West, Fla., continued after striking AFL laborers' union members discarded their president, Luis Avila, who opposed the strike, and installed Charles Albury, chairman of the grievance committee.

Charges Unfair Practices.

A National Labor Relations board regional director at New York, Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick, charged Air Associates, Inc., with unfair labor practices in connection with a work stoppage at its aviation accessories plant in Bendix, N. J. More than 200 of the 700 employés have been idle since July 11. The union alleged that 24 members had been discriminatorily discharged.

A few hours earlier the defense mediation board at Washington had announced that the union had accepted board recommendations for settling the dispute.

Walter Chalaire, company counsel, denied the union's charges and asserted that the NLRB "has broken all records for speedy action on behalf of the CIO union."

A defense mediation board panel issued recommendations for settlement of a dispute between an AFL union and the Western Cartridge company of East Alton, Ill. The recommendation included a provision that wage rates in the company's smokeless powder division be increased 5 per cent and that the question of further increases be submitted to arbitration.

Garment Workers Strike.

Scores of Los Angeles, Cal., women's garment factories were picketed as workers went on strike in support of demands of the AFL International Ladies' Garment Workers' union for 15 to 25 per cent wage increases and unionization of unorganized shops.

About 3,000 union members employed at the height of the fall manufacturing season were reported to have walked out.

The majority are sewing machine operators, seeking an increase from $24.75 to $26.50 for a 35 hour week, with overtime pay starting at 35 instead of 40 hours.

This is the local union's first general strike since 1933.

Priorities Experts to Learn How in Training Courses

Washington, D. C., July 24 [Special].—E. R. Stettinius Jr., priorities director, announced today that a series of training courses will be held for business and industrial specialists.

New Harmony Marks Initial Rail Session

With an air of friendliness rarely experienced in labor controversies, railroad executives and officials of the five operating railroad brotherhoods opened negotiations in the Morrison hotel yesterday on union demands for wage increases and railroad demands for changes in rules governing their 1,150,000 employés. Today the railroad officials will meet with representatives of the 14 nonoperating unions.

With 800 brotherhood general chairmen as spectators, committees representing the opposing camps conferred. Later spokesmen for the two groups met with newspaper men to tell what had happened at the first session, closed to the press and the public.

Wages a Major Point.

The controversies center mainly on wage increases which the railroads estimate will add $900,000,000 annually to their operating costs and on railroad management demands for modernization of working rules, many of which have been in effect for 40 years or longer.

Fred G. Gurley, chairman of the railroad management executive committee and vice president of the Santa Fe railway, said the initial meeting was devoted to proposed revision of rules, with wages to be discussed later.

Alvaney Johnston, spokesman for the five operating unions and head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive

Fred G. Gurley (left) and A. F. Whitney, participating in rail-union negotiations.

Engineers, said that the brotherhoods will take the rules requests under advisement for discussion on Monday.

Whitney Explains Stand.

Then A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and known as one of the most truculent of the brotherhood executives, gave an indication of the friendly atmosphere prevailing. Replying to questions as to how long the negotiations would continue, he said it wasn't likely that they would end in failure, and added:

"Neither the roads nor the unions propose to use a threatened breakup in the negotiations as a club. We are meeting to discuss our differences under the democratic system which has given us in this instance collective bargaining working at its best. Congress—and that means the public—spent a lot of money to give us this system [federal machinery for the adjustment of railway disputes] and we intend to use it."

Differs on Amount of Raise.

Whitney differed with the railroads as to the amount of the wage increase, stating that in his opinion, based on a $2,000,000,000 annual wage bill, the requested boost would be closer to $600,000,000.

Gurley explained the railroads' method of arriving at the $900,000,000 estimate by saying it included not only the 30 per cent wage boosts asked by the operating unions and the 30 cents an hour increase sought by the nonoperating group but the cost of vacations with pay, increased personnel for Diesel electric locomotives and demands for reclassification of jobs.

There will be no meeting tomorrow. Starting Monday the management representatives will meet on alternate days with the two labor groups.

PENNSY RAILROAD OPERATING NET LARGER FOR JUNE

ICKES BLASTS ILLINOIS' BILL TO CONTROL OIL

Also Takes Cracks at OPM and FPC.

Illinois Oil Law

Springfield, Ill., July 24 [Special].—The Illinois oil conversion measure enacted recently by the legislature was left unsigned by Gov. Green when he left Springfield today for a vacation, but it is expected to become law automatically July 28, since the governor already has permitted to become law without his signature a companion bill appropriating $150,000 for its administration for two years.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Secretary of the Interior and Oil Dictator Harold L. Ickes, who had hoped to add to these titles that of federal power coördinator, today blasted the federal power commission and the Illinois conservation act.

Speaking as oil dictator, at a press conference, Ickes declared that the recently enacted Illinois statute should have been entitled "A bill to encourage a waste of the resources and mineral wealth of Illinois."

"The whole thing is a joke as a conservation bill," he continued. "It doesn't have a single conservation feature except misuse of the word in the title."

Assails OPM and FPC.

Ickes has been attacking Illinois for some time because the state has failed to coöperate in an oil conservation compact engineered by the federal government.

As secretary of the interior, however, Ickes spokes his harshest words against the Office of Production Management and the Federal Power commission, which opposed Ickes' power domination ambitions with the moral support of the Tennessee Valley authority and Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.], grandpappy of the New Deal's power experiments.

Early this week the OPM and the FPC announced the creation of a special power division within the OPM which will handle all armament power problems. The closest cooperation between the two agencies was announced, and an official from the TVA was brought in as power coördinator. He is J. A. Krug, who was TVA power manager.

Norris Backs TVA Tieup.

The TVA is Senator Norris' pet project and consequently he plugged for the OPM-FPC-TVA setup as against Ickes, who as secretary of the interior has jurisdiction over the New Deal's western power experiments such as Bonneville and Grand Coulee. He has aspired to become power coördinator, giving him authority similar to that over oil and has had legislation introduced to expand his authority.

However, the other New Deal agencies got the nod from the White House and the new setup was announced shortly after a power conference at the White House last week. On the same day as the President's parley, the FPC announced a 1 billion dollar power expansion program, covering public and private steam plants as well as hydroelectric projects.

Ickes described the FPC program as "ill-advised and carelessly prepared" and declared that he will ignore its recommendations.

Attacks Position of Olds.

Annoyed because Leland Olds, FPC chairman, made recommendations on some power projects under Ickes' supervision, Ickes blurted, "before Olds makes recommendations affecting areas in which the interior department operates we would like to be advised."

"We think some of the recommendations are ill-advised and directly counter to our policies," he declared.

"We propose to run our power projects from the point of view of what we consider the public interest. It is never helpful when an outsider impinges upon another's affairs."

Ickes warned again that unless the public conserves petroleum voluntarily, mandatory rationing must be imposed. He complained that the public is still "unaware of the seriousness" of the oil shortage.

OIL MEN DRAW PLANS FOR CO-ORDINATION TO HELP ARMS PROGRAM

Preliminary steps for coördinating the petroleum industry in the rearmament program in 15 states were taken yesterday at a conference in the Stevens hotel of oil men from the central part of the nation. The meeting was held to draft plans for district 2, which includes Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, and Missouri.

Frank Phillips, chairman of the Phillips Petroleum company, recently named chairman of the general committee for the district by Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes as petroleum coördinator, presided. Other committee members, chairmen of the four functioning committees, are: E. G. Seubert, Chicago, transportation; B. L. Majewski, Chicago, marketing; Paul G. Blazer, Ashland, Ky., refining, and Otto Donnell, Findlay, O., production. District headquarters will be in Chicago.

Bowling Ball Manufacturer Seeks Substitute for Rubber

The Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, which has general offices in Chicago and a manufacturing plant at Muskegon, Mich., is seeking substitutes for the rubber used in producing bowling balls and billiard tables. The search is made necessary by the government's recent order curtailing crude rubber consumption.

J. J. Hoffman, vice president and secretary of the company, said yesterday that other materials can be substituted in part for the crude rubber in bowling balls.

Some scrap rubber can be used, since only crude rubber was affected by the federal order.

During July, processors are required to cut consumption to 99 per cent of their monthly average for the year ended March 31. A gradual curtailment will bring December crude rubber use down to 80 per cent of the 12 month average.

"Altho the situation is not serious with us now, we do not know what will happen after Dec. 1," Hoffman said.

"Our engineers are making experiments which may enable us to curtail the use of rubber further. They are working with plastics and other substitutes as are other companies. The best information we can get from Washington is that present regulations are not likely to be made more severe."

Hoffman said the company had built up a "reasonable but not excessive" supply of rubber before the government order went into effect.

PRIOR RIGHTS.

I do not understand why American Car and Foundry had to pay that extra dividend of $2.04 to the preferred stockholders before it resumed dividends on the common stock. I thought the preferred stock is noncumulative.—B. W.

Answer: The American Car and Foundry company can pay dividends on its common stock only from surplus net profits remaining after the full dividend on the preferred stock, to the extent it was earned, has been paid from the earnings of each preceding fiscal year.

The preferred stock has prior rights to noncumulative dividends not exceeding 7 per cent for each fiscal year ended April 30 in which the dividends are earned. By "noncumulative dividends" is meant that if a dividend is not paid in any year it does not accumulate and become payable at some future date.

However, the effect of the prior rights of the preferred stock is to make preferred dividends cumulative, to the extent earned, and payable before common dividends can be declared. Thus, the preferred stockholders are assured payment of all past earned dividends before common stockholders can share in the profits.

In declaring the $2.04 dividend on the preferred stock payable Aug. 29 to holders of record Aug. 22, the company indicated it was paving the way for the resumption of common dividends [which were resumed at the same time after a four year lapse] by paying up all the undistributed earnings applicable to the preferred stock.

The $2.04 payment will consist of [1] a $1.75 quarterly dividend from the net profits of the fiscal year ended April 30, 1941, making a total of $7, the full annual rate, declared from the year's earnings, and [2] 29 cents from earnings in the fiscal years ended April 30, 1937, and April 30, 1938.

In the 1937 fiscal year, the company earned $4.19 a preferred share but declared only $4 a share in dividends from that year's earnings. In the 1938 fiscal year, the company earned $2.60 a preferred share but paid only $2.50. The 29 cents included in the $2.04 payment provides for the difference between the amounts earned and the amounts declared.

Answer: The Hughes Tool company, Houston, Tex., is privately owned and is reported controled by Howard Hughes, aviator and movie producer.

ARMOUR VOTES $1.50 PREFERRED STOCK DIVIDEND

First Payment on $6 Issue Since Jan. 1, 1938.

Directors of Armour & Co. of Illinois yesterday declared a dividend of $1.50 on the $6 prior preferred stock, the first payment on the issue since Jan. 1, 1938.

George A. Eastwood, president, in commenting on the dividend declaration, said it was necessary in 1938 to omit payments on the prior preferred stock of the Illinois company. In the opinion of the directors, he continued, stockholders' interests require conservation of resources, building up of working capital, and reduction of the funded debt.

"The board of directors will continue to follow this conservative policy," Eastwood asserted. "However, earnings of the company for the current fiscal year to date in the opinion of the board warrant a declaration of a dividend at this time."

Will Depend on Earnings.

Eastwood said future dividends will depend "entirely on a continuation of satisfactory earnings."

A payment on the prior preferred stock has been expected since last January when Eastwood at the annual meeting reported satisfactory operations and encouraging future prospects for the company. On July 1 of this year, arrears on the issue amounted to $21 a share. Nothing has been paid on the 7 per cent preferred stock since January, 1938, and nothing on the common since December, 1937.

Directors of American Steel Foundries voted a dividend of 75 cents against 25 cents paid in March and June.

Gorham, Inc., jewelry company, declared the first dividend on preferred stock since 1931, with a $2 payment toward arrears.

South Bend Lathe works authorized a regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents and an extra payment of $1.

HOGS TUMBLE 25C AS FARMERS SHIP MORE TO MARKET

The sharpest break in three weeks occurred in the market for hogs yesterday. Prices fell 15 to mostly 25 cents with some final sales off more, comparing extremes of the two days. The average tumbled 25 cents to $10.75 a hundredweight, lowest since July 11. An overrun of supplies from farms and unsatisfactory returns to packers from the wholesale pork markets caused the slump.

Steers and yearlings declined 15 to 25 cents, the sharpest downturn in two weeks. Top loads brought $12.75. Heifers ruled weak to 25 cents lower.

Mostly steady prices were paid for slaughter lambs.

VACATION LOANS

Really enjoy your vacation this year. Take along plenty of cash for those "side" trips and other extra expenses that always go with a truly complete vacation trip. You can get the cash from us and repay it the very day you return if you wish. $50 for instance costs only $1.25 for 30 days and you pay interest only for the time you actually keep the money.

Certainly that is cheap insurance against running short of money in some out-of-the-way place. Just stop in or phone and let us explain how simple it is to get a vacation loan at Commonwealth.

Fire and Blast Cause $300,000 Damage at Grain Elevator—First Picture of Bomb Damage in Moscow

Spectacular picture of fire which caused estimated damage of $300,000 to elevator at 4902 South Homan avenue owned by the Grand Trunk railway and operated by Gerstenberg and company. This picture was taken shortly after blaze started. The fire damaged 325,000 bushels of corn. (Story on page 3.)

British bombers (upper picture) skim over Holland on way to objective, Rotterdam, for daylight raid. British bombs burst along river in Rotterdam (lower picture), according to British source. [Associated Press Wirephotos.]

First 28 ton medium armored tank built by the Pressed Steel Car company of Chicago for Britain as it was tested yesterday on Dolton road near Torrence avenue. (Story on page 2.)
